CAMP DAY CLOSES

Annual Banquet Held and Prize Awards Made on Monday At Y. M. C. A. Camp At East Brookfield

Wednesday of this week marked the closing of the 1927 season of Camp Frank A. Day, the Newton Young Men's Christian Association camp at East Brookfield, Mass. The party of campers arrived in Newton, Wednesday afternoon, having broken camp that morning. The biggest event on the camp calendar each season is the annual banquet which, this year, was held last Monday night. After the banquet the presentation of the various camp awards was made.

Camp Director Clyde G. Hess, Boys' Work Secretary of the Newton association, presided at the banquet. General Secretary Harry W. Bascom and Frank J. Perry were the guests. Over six score campers and leaders had been awaiting for weeks the sumptuous turkey dinner with all the fixins' which Chef Jimmy Timmins and his assistant, Leroy Jackson, was then ready to set before them. After partaking of all the turkey that they could hold and topping it off with a plentiful supply of ice cream and cake, the boys were about as happy as they could be. Before Timmy and his assistant could prepare themselves for what was about to happen, the boys called them out and presented them with a remembrance in appreciation of their gratitude for the part the cooks had played in keeping their appetites appeased. Chef Timmins was presented with a double eagle gold piece and his assistant with a $5 gold piece. Each of them, taken by complete surprise, thanked the campers for the token.

The reading of the results of the camp elections by Harold Lodge, one of the staff of leaders, caused much merriment and much applause among the campers.

Watch fobs bearing the camp emblem were presented to the winning teams in junior and senior division. The fobs bore a triangle and a pine tree with the words Camp Day beneath. The members of the junior team were Dougherty, Florin, Robb, Higgins, E. Smith, James Adams, Leach Mount, Mitchell, Libby and Bergen. Those on the senior team were W. A. Wales, Lucas, Hausworth, Cushman, S. Lowell, Smith, Howell, Malley, Upham, Severance, Lewis, Bancroft and John Robbins. Charles J. Smith, Jr., Harvard '27 was the leader of the junior team and E. One of the most exciting events of the camp season was the treasure hunt for both the junior and senior divisions. Tuttle and Connors were the winners in the younger division and Johnson and Beannin the older group. Prizes were eversharp pencils.

The presentation of emblems, won in various activities of camp life, were the next on the program. Donald Wright was judged the most expert canoeist in camp; William Follette, the most expert swimmer. Donald Litchfield, Herbert Smith and Malcolm Floyd.

PROHIBITION

A. W. Blakemore Gives History of Volstead Act at Rotary Club

The weekly meeting of the Rotary Club of Newton was held as usual at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday at noon. President Cecil Clark presided and Dr. Edward Mellus introduced the guest and speaker, Mr. Arthur W. Blakemore. Mr. Blakemore made a very interesting and instructive speech on a timely subject, "Prohibition."

He said in part:

"No enactment has ever been subjected to more bitter attack than the Eighteenth Amendment and Volstead law, but the validity of both has been sustained in every particular by our courts. The Eighteenth Amendment provides that it may be enforced by Congress and by the States and it is not self-enforcing. The whole system of national prohibition might be wiped out by one roll call in Congress.

"The Volstead Act is one of the fairest laws ever drafted, in various places making careful provisions for the protection of innocent parties involved. The Act was well drawn, being made up from the various provisions of State law which had stood the test of time and proved most useful, and has been sustained in every particular.

"One of the most criticized features of the law is the definition that any liquor is intoxicating containing more than one-half of one percent of alcohol. This definition was taken from the near-beer tax regulations and was made on the theory that it is, as a practical matter, difficult to prove the exact alcoholic content of liquor seized, and that Congress had a right to prohibit the use even of a non-alcoholic liquor if necessary to the campaign against intoxicating liquors."

There are many cases which the speaker discussed briefly concerning the meaning of the terms manufacture, sale, transportation and possession in the Volstead Act.

The padding provisions of the law, he explained, are based on a very ancient jurisdiction in the equity courts by injunction against a continuance of crime or nuisance, and the speaker pointed out that the rights of the landlord or other innocent party are fully protected in these sections.

The speaker brought out that under a recent decision a place may be declared a nuisance where no liquor is sold but where guests bring their own liquor.

The speaker explained the search and seizure provisions of the United States Constitution traced back to the protection of the New England rum manufacturers before the Revolution which are today the best protection of the bootlegger.

He spoke of the provisions for forfeiture of vehicles carrying liquor which contain full protection for the innocent owner and pointed out that the revenue officials are trying to avoid the use of this statute and to seize vehicles under the old revenue laws which do not protect the innocent owner.

Section 29 authorizing the making of non-intoxicating liquor in the home was described as nonsense by the speaker and inserted to obtain the votes of farmers and others necessary to pass the law. It has finally been construed to mean that home brew is not subject to the one-half of one percent provision but that the government must prove that the liquor made was in fact intoxicating.

The speaker spoke of the fact that the Eighteenth Amendment has been declared to be territorial in extent only, giving rise to the rum fleet hovering off our coast and the British Treaty of 1924.

The speaker pointed out that in Plato's ideal republic laws were passed by the intellectual leaders and that the opposite was true of Prohibition, our public leaders like President Taft, President Wilson and Senator Lodge being opposed to the legislation.

"The future of the Eighteenth Amendment can be guessed at from the history of the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment which has been enforced in those parts of the country which want it enforced and enforced not at all in those parts of the country which do not want it carried out.

"No sumptuary law can be made effective so long as we have the jury system, against the public sentiment of the community and therefore it seems plain that the control of the liquor evil is now largely a problem of education."

The speaker is the author of a book upon the subject of prohibition which is now in its third edition.

The next meeting of the local club will be held on Wednesday of next week, as the holiday on Monday prevents the regular meeting from being held. This will be a joint meeting with the Waltham club.

HIGHLANDS LEADS

Southsiders Defeat Upper Falls and Corpus Christi Clubs

The Newton Highlands team of the Newton Twilight League went into undisputed possession of first place this week by winning over both of its nearest rivals, the Corpus Christi and Upper Falls teams. It now has a game lead over Corpus Christi and two games over the first half champions. The West Newton A. C. dropped out of the running for the second half title last week Friday when the Upper Falls team shut it out, 3 to 0. Since then it has done a toboggan and dropped two other games.

Monday night at the Newton Highlands playground MacLaughlin allowed the first half champs but one hit and shut them out in one of the best games of the season, 1 to 0. This just house put Upper Falls out of the running.

Tuesday night after receiving their medals and the Graphic Cup, the Falls team lost out to the Pals in a 4 to 1 game—reducing their chances still further and sending them into third place.

Corpus Christi kept right on the heels of the Southsiders by knocking over the colored boys on Tuesday night, 5 to 0, and holding onto second place by a narrow margin. The Highlands nine had previously taken the measure of the Auburndale outfit, 2 to 0, last Friday night.

Because of several postponed games which the three leaders have to play and which might change the standing somewhat, a meeting of the league officials will be held tonight in the Newton Centre playground house and a schedule for next week will be drawn up. The rain last night added three more games to the postponed list as all of the leaders were scheduled to play.

Two of the teams which were contenders for the second half championship two weeks ago have been just about eliminated from the standing. Highlands and Corpus Christi are the two outfits remaining and it looks now as though the former would engage the Upper Falls team for the city title and the second leg on the Graphic Cup.

Champions Get Medals and Cup

Before a large crowd of fans at the Newton Upper Falls playground Tuesday evening Mayor Edwin O. Childs presented the Graphic Cup to the Upper Falls team, champions of the first half of the Newton Twilight League season, and medals to the individual members. The team will retain possession of the cup until the end of the present season, when it will be awarded the city champions. It was first offered last year by the Graphic and won by the Newton Catholic Club. It will become the permanent property of the team first winning it three times. Present at the ceremony were Playground Superintendent Herrman, William T. Halliday, president of the league, who introduced Mayor Childs; Warren Brimblecom, sports editor of the Graphic, and Rufus Bond, secretary of the league. President Halliday made a few remarks and introduced Mayor Childs, who paid a tribute to the players for their interest and aid in making the league a success. He then awarded the trophy and the medals, which bore the city seal and the name of each individual on the reverse side. Those receiving the medals were: John Simpson, Neil Mahoney, Arthur Walker, Leo Crowley, Newton Hanscom, John Proctor, William Proctor, George Kenney, Edward Stanton, Fred Whetton, Frank McGuinness, Michael DeGeorge, Steve Bennett, Joseph Russell, Edward Goodwin and John Moore.

Thomas Simpson, manager of the Upper Falls team, accepted the cup in behalf of the club and made a brief speech of thanks.

The Mayor also presented ten of the children of the Upper Falls playground with harmonicas. Five boys and five girls.

BREAK GROUND

Next Week Marks the Start of New Hospital Buildings

Ground will be broken and work commenced on the new units of the Newton Hospital early next week, it was announced after a meeting of the board of trustees of the hospital held in Boston last Friday. The plans for the new hospital, prepared after exhaustive study of the best hospitals and a careful survey of the needs of the community, were submitted by the building committee and accepted by the 24 members of the board present. The expenditure of $1,000,000 for the immediate construction work was authorized.

Contracts for the general construction, as well as for the plumbing, heating, ventilating, wiring and electrical equipment, will be formally awarded late this week. Leonard B. Rogers, chairman of the building committee, announced. In order that the widest opportunity be offered to builders and contractors, thirteen firms out of nearly fifty who had requested opportunity to bid, were allowed to enter the competition. Of the bidders seven were Newton men and six from outside the city.

The building committee, which consists of Herbert M. Cole, Dr. Irving J. Fisher, Charles E. Kelsey, Frank A. Shimer, John H. Sellman, Wickliffe J. Spaulding, and Mr. Rogers, has been at work for more than a year with the architects, Densmore, LeClear and Robbins of Boston. Every effort has been made to plan a building that would represent the most modern type of hospital construction.

The main hospital building, which will have a total of 124 beds and will house the executive and administrative offices, operating rooms, X-ray rooms, laboratories, maternity departments, and the service departments, will rise five stories above a basement and a sub-basement.

This building of an early English Renaissance design will be constructed of limestone, brick and granite, and will be entirely fireproof. It will stand to the south of the present building so that the construction will not interfere with the operation of the hospital. The present buildings, which are the exception of the power plant which is inadequate, will continue in use after the completion of the new units, thus augmenting considerably the bed capacity of the new building. A new power plant is to be constructed to serve the new and old buildings.

A meeting of the committee which directed the campaign of last year in which more than $1,000,000 was raised to finance the hospital building program has been called for Friday evening, September 16. At this time ways and means of completing the building fund will be considered.

CAPTAIN RESIGNS

Frank Spain, Newton High School Football Captain-Elect Will Not Lead Eleven This Fall

Newton high school's football prospects took a decided drop this week when it became known that Frank Spain of Waban, captain-elect of the 1927 eleven had submitted his resignation to Coach John Sullivan. An injured ankle which Spain received during the last football season has not responded to treatment during the summer as was expected and the star quarterback does not wish to take the chance of injuring himself permanently or so as to take him out of the hockey or baseball season next winter and spring. He is a three-sport man at Newton high having won letters in all three sports and is one of the best athletes in school. His loss to the football team will be great.

The orange and black captain-elect has been one of the mainstays in the Newton backfield for the past two years and gave promise of taking his place this season along with Newton's other noted quarterbacks. As a signal barker and judge of football situations he was among the best and it is unfortunate that his loss will be not only to withstand the strain of a hard football season.

Coach John L. Sullivan returns from the seashore today ready to go to work on his first season with the Newton high football team. He was appointed football and baseball coach last spring for one year to succeed the late Alvin W. Dickinson. Sullivan has a big job on his hands and, while having kept in constant touch with sports since he gave up active participation in them, in order to better acquaint himself with modern football methods and plays he took a summer course under the noted coach Zupke at the University of Illinois this summer. He has issued a call for all candidates to report at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the gymnasium of the school where suits will be given out. The first practice session will be held at the same time on Wednesday morning.

The Newton high school lost several veterans by graduation last June and while a number of last year's first string players will return it is a moot question what kind of a team can be developed. Twelve members of last year's squad of twenty nine are expected to return. The loss of Spain and the graduation of Clark and Annable, quarterbacks will leave the bulk of the signal calling to Frank Perry and Joe Gilligan. Phil Andres, brother of Harold Andres the 1926 captain, who was the intermediate varsity quarterback will probably make a strong bid for the position. The remainder of the backfield is not too badly off despite the graduation of such stellar men as Proctor, Macey and Symonds as Coach Sullivan will have Brown and McIntyre, veteran backs, in addition to Perry and Gilligan as a nucleus to work with. Duane, a backfield man on the intermediate squad last year should not find it hard to get his chance on the first string team this year. If Robert Bennett, sub-back last year, returns to school the Newton mentor will have considerable taken off his mind.

The line has lost several of its bulwarks in Frank Stubbs, Granger Hapgood, Captain Andres, Joe Forristall, and Wilkerson. There still remains a last year's varsity or substitute player for every line position. The end berth should be well taken care of by Everett Sheinfeld, Romaine Cole, Payne and Reimer. Cole, who was one of the fastest sprinters on the track team last winter, may be shifted to the backfield. Hamilton and Swan are available for tackles. Hamilton made the team last year as a sophomore and should be one of the mainstays of the orange and black line for the next two seasons. At the guard positions Harrington and Shea are the probable selections. Harrington made the team last year as a sophomore and would be one of the mainstays of the orange and black line for the next two seasons. Brandon Marsh, who was injured in the first game on the schedule last year, may be back in school and if so he will give Shea a hard run for the guard position opposite Harrington. Captain Harold Andres was Newton's center last year and had he not broken a small bone in his foot in the Somerville game last October would have had a good chance for the All-scholastic pivot berth. Creighton Gatchell was placed in center following Andres' injury and he made good during the remainder of that game. It will be some time before the spectators at that game forget the way he ripped the Somerville line right open consistently for a steady march down the field. If he plays the entire season in the manner he showed he is capable of he will come pretty close to winning the All-scholastic center position.

In addition to those mentioned, Wednesday morning will see a group of other candidates who will make their attempt to displace those who seem to have the call at present. Over one hundred candidates are expected to be on deck. The high school authorities will continue the system of having a varsity, intermediate varsity and junior varsity in addition to the freshman outfit, each with its own schedule. The varsity schedule is as follows:

Sept. 24—St. Mary's at Newton.
Oct. 1—Medford at Newton.
Oct. 8—Cambridge at Newton.
Oct. 12—Everett at Newton.
Oct. 22—Beverly at Newton.
Oct. 29—Somerville at Somerville.
Nov. 5—Lawrence at Newton.
Nov. 12—Rindge Tech at Cambridge.
Nov. 24—Brookline at Brookline.

The schedule calls for one less game this season than has been played in recent years by Newton teams. A total of nine games will be played. Quincy High, which usually opens the orange and black schedule, has been dropped and the opening game put over a week. Providence Tech has had this date for the past number of years and after last year's contest a verbal assent was given by the Providence authorities for the same date. When the contracts were sent out, however, Providence Tech returned theirs saying that they had signed with another team. Faculty manager Martin finally succeeded in getting St. Mary's High of Waltham to open Newton's season on Clafin Field. Newton played St. Mary's last year, winning by a 6 to 0 score. Frank Smith, former Waltham High and Dartmouth star athlete, is coaching St. Mary's High this year and local fans may witness a revival of the intense rivalry between the two cities. Newton always took keen pleasure in beating any Waltham aggregation and the Watch City outfits always delighted in "downing the Garden City outfits. Medford High, which dropped out of the Suburban League two years ago, is the second team Newton will face. Medford always has a good eleven and Newton will have to step some to gain a victory. Cambridge and Newton will open the Suburban League schedule at Clafin Field this year on the Saturday following the Medford game. The league opening has been set ahead a week because of the fact that Columbus Day, usually the opening day, falls on Wednesday. In order to prevent two hard games coming with but two days' rest in between, the game with the Cantabs will open the league series in place of the Everett game. The

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

Hamilton Lincoln Wins Swim
Hamilton Lincoln, swimming under the colors of the Brookline Swimming Club, broke the New England A. A. U. junior record in the Men's 100-yard free style swim at the events held in the Montello swimming pool last Saturday to win the New England junior championship. He won over Walter O'Leary of the Worcester Boys' Club who placed second and Martin Ford, also of the Brookline Swimming Club, third, in the fast time of 1 minute, 1 1/5 seconds. Lincoln was a star on the Country Day school swimming team last season.

Hunnefeld Comes Through
Bill Hunnefeld, former Y. M. C. A. and Saxony Mills star came through with a two-base hit last Sunday for the Chicago White Sox. It was the lucky seventh and neither the Sox or Washington had crossed the plate when Ward started a rally with a single. When the local player came to bat with two down, Ward having been cut down at the plate after being sacrificed to third, and with runners on second and third it was a sure enough pinch. His two bagger counted two runs and he scored a third later on the succeeding batter's single.

Wilson To Walk At Scotch Games
Ed. Wilson of the B. A. A. track team is an entrant in the mile walk at the Scottish Clans' picnic and games on Monday at Caledonian Grove. Wilson is the N. E. A. A. U. outdoor champion and should have little difficulty in winning another race to add to his long list.

Wins Stanley Tennis Cup
The doubles tennis championship of Squirrel Island, Maine, was won last Saturday by Knyasson and Vonberst of New York when they defeated Appling of Harvard and Rev. Amos Wilder of North Conway, N. H., in a four-set match, 7-5, 1-6, 6-3. The victory gave them a leg on the Stanley cups, offered by Mrs. Francis E. Stanley in memory of her husband, former president of the Squirrel Island Athletic Association, and whose direction the tournament was conducted. They must be won three times for permanent possession.

Local Pair in Finals
Miss Mary Lee Hutchins and Miss Betty Ripley, both of Newton Centre, were finalists in the women's doubles tennis tourney of the Squirrel Island Athletic Association last Saturday. They were defeated by Miss Johnson and Mrs. Nelson Hope of Longwood, 6-3, 6-2.

In the men's doubles the winners defeated L. Lane of Boston and E. Noyes of Newton in their second round match, 6-1, 6-1. E. Bonnell of West Newton, playing with Jack Coey of Glen Ridge, was eliminated in the first round by H. Livingston and son of Foo Chow, 6-2, 6-3.

Caddy Day at Charles River C. C.
Monday was Caddy Day at the Charles River Country Club. Members of the club became the caddies for the caddies, who in turn became members for the day. The first event of the day was a qualifying medal round of golf over 18 holes. A two-flight match-play program will be fought out later for the caddy championship of the club. In the qualifying round Paul Yurick had the lowest gross score of 82. Steve Wasilewski, member of Newton High's golf team last spring and who finished only one stroke behind the winners of the State caddy tourney, was scratch man. He scored an 83. Arnie Adcock, with a generous handicap of 40 strokes, turned in the low net with a card of 67. Following the morning round a hearty mid-day banquet was served in the locker building. In the afternoon potato races, driving contests and putting contests kept the caddies busy.

Everett High Has 10 Vets
Coach Dennis Gilead of Everett High expects to have a team this year that will knock the State championship belt out of more than one scholastic aspirant this fall. Ten veterans of last year's outfit have returned and the squad which reported to him on Monday of this week was somewhat larger than ordinary. Captain Angelo DiMott is slated to hold down the fullback berth with Jack Fisher calling signals and Biddle Graffam at one of the half-back positions. The other halfback berth is open. The line will be practically the same as last year with a veteran for every position. The halfback berth that is open was held down the past two years by Dick Ahlin, who proved Newton's nemesis in both years. In 1925 it was his run the length of the field after recovering a Newton fumble that brought victory to the Everett eleven and last year it was his foot that forced Newton back, finally placing him in a score to boot one over the cross-bar for the only score of the game. He is gone this year—perhaps he has taken the jinx that Everett held over Newton with him. Time will tell.

B. U. to Practice at Riverside
Athletic officials at Boston University issued the announcement last week that the varsity football squad will hold its practice sessions at the new field, recently purchased by the university, at Riverside. Coaches

Robinson and Brown will shortly issue a call for candidates.

Newton Man a Winner at The Weirs
The Jean L., driven by Frank R. Lane, won both heats of the speedboat handicap race held at The Weirs, New Hampshire, last Sunday afternoon. Much interest in the race was manifested by several hundred excursionists from Boston.

Waitt's Boat Takes Second
Harry Waitt's motorboat, "Miss Bourne," placed second in two races in Onset Bay last Sunday. In the 16-foot class the local man won second place by a narrow margin over a Brockton owned boat. In a handicap race the B. J. J. boat won first place, Waitt second, and the Lynx of Campello, winner of the first race, dropped to third although making the fastest time.

Hovey Races at Marblehead
Chandler Hovey's sailboat, "The Gypsy," was among those entered in the Class R, 20-rating, 5 1/2 miles race at Marblehead last Sunday. The first two boats had a margin of two minutes over the rest of the field at the finish line with the four following craft separated by a blanket of but ten seconds. The local man's boat was fifth.

Lawrence Road Race Postponed
A 10-mile handicap road race was to have been held Sunday afternoon at Lawrence under the auspices of the J. W. McCarthy Post, A. L., in which Herbert T. Winrow of Newton Centre was an entrant. Rain was falling heavily at 9 o'clock, when it was decided to put the race over to Sept. 11th. When the time for the scheduled race arrived, 135 of the 248 starters were on hand and it had stopped raining. About 100 of these were from other cities and towns than Lawrence.

Three Game Series
The Earnshaw Mills baseball team will play the fast Knights of Columbus team of Watertown in a three-game series the first game of which will be played tomorrow afternoon on Victory Field, Newton. The second game will be played on the same diamond on Sept. 10th and the third game on Sept. 11th. When the time for the scheduled race arrived, 135 of the 248 starters were on hand and it had stopped raining. About 100 of these were from other cities and towns than Lawrence.

Bowdoin Practice Starts
Bowdoin football begins the second of September and two Newton boys are expected to make the team again while one other should have an excellent chance of obtaining a back field position. Dawson Alexander will probably be back at the old guard berth while Bob Adams expects to carry out the assignment at the end of the line. Stuart Stone of West Newton who was the outstanding back on the freshmen group is in fine shape and should prove his worth to the extent that he will be a starter in the Yale game at half back. He has improved a great deal over his former Newton performances, and if his weight were only more there would be no keeping him off the team.

Naylor Wins Megansett Tennis
Gordon R. Naylor, son of Dr. L. H. Naylor of Hingham, New York, won the finals in the boys' singles tennis tournament at Megansett this summer.

Johnson in National Doubles
Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of Waban and J. Brooks Fenno of Boston were among the many teams entered in the national doubles tournament at Longwood this week. The Waban youth and his partner picked a tartar in the first round when they drew Nat. L. Niles and Watson Washburn as their first round opponents. The veteran team eliminated Johnson and Fenno after losing the first set to them. The scores were 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

CROUCH REGAINS NAT. CHAMPIONSHIP

Paul W. Crouch took the National Championship honors for the Newton Archers on the completion of the regular shooting on Friday morning, Aug. 26th, at Soldiers Field, Cambridge. He was 48 points ahead of the runner-up, A. L. Brush of Cos Cob, Conn., and 64 points ahead of last year's National champion, Spencer of California, who took fourth place. Crouch brought home seven sportsmen, among them the famous Douglas Fairbanks' Robin Hood trophy.

Mrs. H. S. C. Cummings of Brookline and Newton put up a good fight to retain the woman's title, losing to Mrs. Johnson of California by only 34 points. Mrs. Cummings won five special prizes.

The Newton Archers' team won the team prize, establishing a new record for this event.

The Newton Archers as hosts at the tournament were a great success. Through their efforts delicious lunch was to be bought right on the field, shelters were provided for sun or rain, and many other facilities were at hand. At the headquarters tent, the Newton Archers were expert in scoring cards, giving information to reporters, visitors, etc. Special mention should be made of Mrs. Paul W. Crouch who devoted her whole time to the tournament. New York people who are to have the 1928 tournament will be compelled to work to equal the Boston affair. Westchester Biltmore Club of Rye, N. Y., is to be the place of it, and Louis C. Smith of Newton Centre, the Secretary-Treasurer.

In addition to Mrs. Cummings and Dr. Crouch the local persons entered in the various tourneys were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith of Newton Centre, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. True and Miss Eleanor True of Waban, Mrs. N. Bartholomae of Waban, Mrs. Burton P. Gray of Newton Centre, Miss Ruth Brewer of Newton Centre, Mr. H. S. C. Cummings of Brookline, and Mr. P. L. Ripley of Newton.

CAMP NEWS

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

This past week has been one of exodus for all the camp organizations, and all the campers have taken their way back to the homeland with various emotions filling their minds and hearts. Some are already planning on next year when they can accomplish more than they were able to do this year, while others are probably grumbling at what they consider an injustice. But one and all when the summer time comes around again will be eager for the starting time, and hastily packing their trunks while they conjure visions of what is before them in the way of a good time. There is, however, one big question that all camps must face at this time, and that is, What do the parents see that the camp has done for the boy or girl concerned? After the expenditure of a reasonably large sum of money, they naturally expect some dividends of a very evident sort. The majority of the parents will find little to complain of, for a camp of the right type can not help being a broadening and refining agency. Hence the season should be considered a success if both the boy and the parent is satisfied, as is usually the case.

The final week of the camp season at Passaconaway was a rushed one. The camp minstrel show, which is the gala event of the year for the camp and its many patrons, went off with a great applause on the part of the audience. Donald Houghton did his usual fine piece of work in making a strong chorus and having the funniest of funny end men. The leader of these last but not least was John Locke of Newtonville, who clowning through the whole performance with such good effect that he gained the title of the best end man that Passaconaway had had for some years. Reggie Bankart was an able help, and rendered some fine vocal selections throughout the evening. The final night, after the camp had eaten all that they could of the banquet, the campers went to the lodge, where the awards for the summer were given out. In the Junior branch a number of the prizes were gained by Newton boys. Burton Woodward was the winner of the Canoe Shield, for he vanquished the best that the camp had in the singles, besides finishing well up in the doubles. Billie Dickinson won the Tennis Cup and Shield by reason of his victory in the singles, and he also took home the Track Shield because he was the victor in every event that the camp had. In addition to these honors he also acquired the greatest cup of all, the Honor Cup. This prize is won by the Junior who has made the most points in the activities throughout the camp season. These activities are all graded by the cancellors, and then entered and the member that has the highest number of points wins this award.

In the Intermediate Division the awards were not given to Newton boys to the same extent as the Juniors. Billy Leighton of Auburndale won the Track Shield after a close fight with Fred Varney, and the same boy won the Tennis Shield and Cup by defeating Joseph Wesson in both the singles and the doubles. John Booth received honorable mention in the Honor Cup race, since he was but a few points behind the victor, Bennett Beede. In the Intermediate Division the awards were not given to Newton boys to the same extent as the Juniors. Billy Leighton of Auburndale won the Track Shield after a close fight with Fred Varney, and the same boy won the Tennis Shield and Cup by defeating Joseph Wesson in both the singles and the doubles. John Booth received honorable mention in the Honor Cup race, since he was but a few points behind the victor, Bennett Beede. In the Intermediate Division the awards were not given to Newton boys to the same extent as the Juniors.

Robert Chapin won the Senior Swimming Shield by taking all the events save the fancy dive, which was captured by John Locke of Newtonville. The Senior Tennis Cup and Shield went to Albert Hutchinson of Newton Highlands, who gained his victory over Daniel Goodridge of Newton in the singles and over Goodridge and Morse in the doubles. One of the reasons for his success was the coaching and advice given him by David Scott, who stayed out of the tournament in order to help the camp by instructing in tennis. All in all, Passaconaway closed one of its most successful seasons and the boys one and all seemed to be eager for another summer on Bear Island.

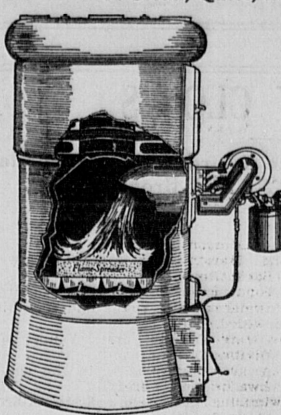

Leonard Clark has come back from Mishe Mowkw on Lake Winnepesaukee. The whole camp season at Little Red Head was tinged with the same trouble that all the camps had, that of rainy weather, but the fine days more than made up for the wet. He himself is in fine condition and leaves for Dartmouth near the middle of the month. Since he and Ned Kent will room together the possibilities of having room mates on the Dartmouth freshmen do not seem too remote.

At Lake Alfred Camp for Girls Helen Clark has finished her year's work as a counselor. She graduated this year from Mount Holyoke and immediately left for this camp, where she tutored and taught the natural sciences as well. This fall she takes a position at Dana Hall as a biology instructor, and if past performances are any criterion she should be a fine teacher, for her marks and understanding of the subject are unusual.

Camp Wampanoag broke up on Monday and the campers returned home again after a very happy summer under Mrs. Taylor's care. The results of the Field Day, and the awards at the banquet are perhaps the most interesting news that the camp has had to offer for some time. In the awards Richard Gibbs of Newton Highlands was the high scorer, and best competitor in the camp. He won the McIntosh Trophy, which is a large shield for military competition. The winner has to go through the maneuvers prescribed by the man in command of the drill, and never make a mistake, for

The wedding of Miss Sarah Helen Jennings and Harold Holbrook Temperley, both of Newton Centre, took place last Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Newton Upper Falls. The Rev. William Shaw, pastor of the church performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. D. C. Jennings of Megansett, Mass.

The bride was gowned in white silk with a long veil and a headpiece of orange blossoms. Her attendant wore orchid organdie with a yellow hat of horsehair.

A reception followed the ceremony in the parish hall of the church. Ferns and seasonal flowers composed the decorations. The wedding march was played by D. Ralph McClean.

Mr. Strabo V. Claggett Gives Interesting Talk At Recent Meeting of Rotary Club

The following address was given by Mr. Strabo V. Claggett of Auburndale, former candidate for state auditor, at a recent meeting of the Newton Rotary Club:

Every time I attend a Rotary Club Luncheon and I see Tom, Dick and Harry gathered at the festive table and mingling together with a feeling of good fellowship, representing the many arts, crafts and professions of the community, I think how wonderful that you be mixed up in this way—so wonderful is the mixture that we can easily understand the state of mind of the little girl who asked her father, "Pa, where were you born?" "In Boston, my dear." "And where was Mama born?" "In San Francisco, my dear." "And where was I born?" "In Philadelphia, my dear." "Well," said the little girl, "Isn't it funny how we three people got together?"

I know that it is the spirit in Rotary to help one another. You are all friends in need, which reminds me of John and Mary, who had just been married and moved to the suburbs. One Saturday night John did not return at the usual time and Mary grew worried at his absence. Looking up in his address book the names and addresses of twelve of his old cronies, she sent each a telegram asking if they knew where John was.

Sometimes later, John showed up and about the same time a telegram boy arrived with replies to Mary's telegrams. She said, "Oh, John, I was so worried about you that I sent out twelve telegrams to friends of yours to find out if they knew what had happened. Let's go into the parlor and read what they have to say."

They opened the telegrams and each read, as follows: "Don't worry, John is staying with me tonight."

As men who are the business and professional leaders in Newton, I am very pleased to have the privilege of addressing you today on a subject which has given me grave concern.

Most of us are too busy with our daily tasks to notice the changing economic conditions in our community and our state. At times a news article of a closing factory or change in prosperity in some one of our cities temporarily arrests our attention, but then our own problems and the events of each day submerge these thoughts and cause us to dismiss this subject from our minds.

If new industries were springing up, if property value were increasing, if our population was increasing rapidly and if most of our men and women were fully employed, then we could be satisfied with conditions in New England and more particularly Massachusetts. But, obviously, this is not the case and so it is pertinent that men organized in associations, clubs, Chambers of Commerce, and similar groups, should think of this serious problem, the changing economic conditions in Massachusetts, for if it does not affect us now, it will affect the lives of our children and those who come after us.

First: Let us think of the causes of industrial depression in Massachusetts. Our National government, unlike other nations, has not co-operated with those who would build a Merchant Marine to assist us in building of foreign markets. Our Boston Harbor and shipping has not been assisted in places of authority in this state and nation. If you wish to travel from Los Angeles to the East, you cannot buy a round trip ticket to Boston. Rather, it is either to New York, Philadelphia or Baltimore, and then the tourist must pay for a side trip to Boston. Influence with the Interstate Commerce Commission would remedy this.

Americans are hated in South America, so that it is difficult for us to develop trade relations and compete with Germany, England and France in those markets. Rather than Marines, we should have happy, smiling, tactful and convincing salesmen. Our merchants should study the likes and dislikes of the consumer as they do for the domestic market and supply goods that will please. An attitude of paternalism but fraternalism should exist between us; a desire to trade rather than a desire to dictate should be our guiding policy with our neighbors in the South.

Our neighbor at the North, Canada, would welcome a reciprocal trade agreement, but those in authority who desire to protect certain influential groups are not willing to make such a treaty.

Freight rates to the interior are in many cases prohibitory; consequently, our factories either cannot compete with western manufacturers or else it is necessary to build branch factories in western states. Freight rates recognizing a lower basis for the long haul would remedy this condition. Please do not understand my remarks as partisan—rather, I am discussing this as a Massachusetts citizen, a banker and manufacturer, who has this serious economic problem confronting him daily.

New England is, therefore, isolated on account of lack of real markets. Our industries, however, which have special patents, secret processes, specially designed machinery or products, or manufactured specialties, are prosperous. I am thinking of companies such as the American Tel. & Tel., United Shoe Machinery, Gillette Safety Razor, United Drug Company and General Electric. But the other industries, such as woolen, cotton, textiles, shoes and paper, are not prosperous and these industries are greater and more important in number than those previously mentioned.

Up until now, I have been discussing external influences, but there are internal influences far more serious. Let us consider some of them.

We have a certain group that represent most of our Massachusetts capital that is destructively conservative. Their fathers and grandfathers assumed the risks, fought the economic battles, and accumulated fortunes, which now are invested at 3 1/2% to 5% in Municipal and ultra conservative bonds and held by trustees and banking institutions. This large group does not buy stocks of New England industrial enterprises or build new industries which must replace the old and disappearing enterprises. Rather, their funds are invested in western cities, middle western electric light companies, or foreign bonds. But that is not the worst feature of these destructive conservatives. These same men sit upon the board of directors and control our large banking institutions—or—perhaps they are associated with Investment Banking firms that dare not breathe a speculative breath. Where is this pioneer spirit? Where is the courage? Where is this aggressiveness which builds communities and creates new wealth? Let a young man raise his head—attempts to create—try to organize—try to build, and he will either have his head knocked off or dented in by the lack of understanding, by the lack of co-operation, by the lack of appreciation of his efforts. He will be misunderstood, condemned, and unless he has sand, backbone, health, and force of character sufficient to stick to his guns, he will be cast aside and his enterprise dumped in the heap. Probably picked up and brought to the West and there built into a large and prosperous industry. This happened to our Iron and Steel industry. Automobiles should have been built in Massachusetts, instead of Detroit or Cleveland. Many other enterprises have sought and found capital, sympathetic understanding and co-operation out side of Massachusetts and New England.

Speaking of backbone, what is a backbone anyway? A backbone is a string of small bones with a head on one end and a place you sit on the other. Some people use one end most and some use the other—you can always tell the size of a man's payroll if you know which end he uses most. Heads, I wish—tails, you lose. Of course, a man with a backbone must have sand,—which reminds me of a man I heard about who was spending his vacation at Atlantic City. During his vacation, he met a beautiful woman. He was bashful and backward and did not make much progress. One day, after a swim, they sat in a secluded spot near the ocean. The beauty thought she would encourage him, so she took his arm and placed it affectionately around her waist and then she gazed with love light's burning into his eyes and fervently said, "Oh, why don't you kiss me?" He said, "I would, but I have sand in my mouth." She said, "Swallow it, darn you, you need it."

And, so it is, many of our younger generation need sand and courage. But we need something more. A changed public attitude, a realization of the seriousness of the situation. How can this best be obtained? We have today worthy organizations which are trying to remedy this situation. For example: Several conservative banks are sending out letters that sound as if they might be progressive, but I know from experience that it is not sincere. They do not mean what they say.

Chambers of Commerce are trying every week for one hour to consider the problem, but one hour each week is not enough time. It is a 24-hour proposition. Most chambers are nothing more than social clubs for bridge and pool sharks to amuse themselves. Several that I have discussed the possibility of locating and assisting new industries do not understand how to secure them.

Perhaps the best organization is the New England Council. They have found some of the troubles and have made recommendations, but a state problem and only the Commonwealth with large resources can co-operate with the groups anxious to aid and remedy the situation.

I believe that we should have the Legislature pass a statute, creating an industrial bureau with a sizeable appropriation and this bureau should be managed by a board of twelve of the best minds in the Commonwealth. Let us have two successful manufacturers, two bankers, two lawyers, two sales executives, two advertising men, and two labor leaders. In this bureau, we could have several divisions, such as accounting, sales, advertising, manufacturing and financing. A board membership would be an honorary position, but the various divisions should be headed by the best paid executives obtainable.

We should let the United States and the world know that Massachusetts is seeking new industries. I do not advocate that the Bureau or state should finance companies, but rather, if the bureau would supply information about the practicability of the product, possible market, amount of capital required and estimated profits, then submit the facts to the Chamber of Commerce in the various cities and each Chamber could interest a group of bankers and business men in their community to back the proposed new industry. The figure as compiled by the state would give confidence to the proposition. When the bureau finds a city with the proper men who will manage and finance the Company, then it could release the Company to that community. By persistent effort, a new industry could be secured for every city in the state. It was only by State co-operation that Bismarck built up Industrial Germany. There they go much further, subsidize inventors. Municipalities help finance industry. All encourage, assist, applaud and supply capital. Massachusetts must adopt similar measures, if we wish to survive. With the state co-operating you would find a changing bank and financial attitude. Instead of destructive conservatism, you would find progressive aggressiveness.

Massachusetts has wonderful possibilities along the agriculture lines. There are today thousands of abandoned farms that could be used for cattle grazing or dairy farms. Today, we buy our meat from the middle west and Canada ships our milk. Legislation should be passed similar to the Homestead Acts of the Western states. Whenever taxes have not been

We are sorry to note that many district court judges are not giving jail sentences to persons convicted of driving an automobile under the influence of liquor. Such persons are nothing but potential murderers and should be treated accordingly. The death list published each week by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles is a serious reflection on the ability of the community to protect itself.

It is a great pity that the law does not reach such a condition of smoke nuisance as exists at the Newton railroad station, where repairs are being made on the Centre street bridge. The boiler used in the work pours out a huge volume of heavy black smoke which has been particularly obnoxious during the recent high humidity.

Special attention is invited to the article of Mr. Strabo V. Claggett, in another column, on business conditions in New England.

With Rotary clubs in forty countries of the world, the Rotary dream of international peace may become a reality.

DOWLING—HARGEDON

The wedding of Miss Catherine E. Hargedon of Derby street, West Newton, and Mr. William H. Dowling of River street, West Newton, a member of the Newton police force, took place Wednesday morning at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. M. J. Danahy at 11 o'clock.

The bride wore beige georgette with black lace hat and she carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Isabel Gaw, was in blue georgette with a black hat and carried roses and orchids.

Mr. James Goddard was the best man.

After a reception at a Boston hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Dowling left on a wedding trip through New England and Canada.

latter contest will be played on Clafin Field on the holiday morning and Newton is glad to know that Dick Ahlin, who won the last two games between the two schools by his own individual work, is no longer a student there.

There will be no game for the orange and black on the Saturday after the holiday. A week later, Beverly, a newcomer on Newton's list, will be the visitors to the Newtonville gridiron. The final Saturday in October is the annual Somerville contest, which this year will take place at Dilboy Field, Somerville. The first Saturday in November, Lawrence High will come to Newton for its return game. Last year a two-year agreement was signed between the Garden and Mill City School authorities. Newton took a licking at Lawrence last season and was saved from a shut-out by Proctor's run-back off the kick-off for a touch.

Coach Sullivan's outfit is already considering a revenge upon the Lawrence eleven. That game will mark the close of the season on Clafin Field as both of the remaining games on the schedule are away from home. Russell Field, Cambridge, will be the scene of the conflict with Rindge this year on Nov. 12 and the new Brookline Field will be the scene of the Brookline game on Thanksgiving Day morning.

Faculty manager Doctor Oscar Martin, who was seriously ill early in the summer, has recovered and will be at the school on Tuesday morning to supervise the handing out of football paraphernalia. A meeting of the squad will be held sometime prior to the first game in order to select a captain to succeed Frank Spain.

awarded by vote of the council. The receiver of this cup must be the camper who has progressed the most while at camp. Benjamin Marlon of the junior division and Robert Johnson of the senior division were the deserving ones to win these cups. Following the presentation of the many awards, several of the councillors were called upon for a few remarks. Milton Edgar, who completed his seventh year of connection with the camp, and assistant cheer leader, Robert Sallinger, Frank Perry and Charles J. Smith, Jr., councillors, were the speakers.

The closing of Camp Day for the 1927 season marks the end of the twelfth season of the camp. In spite of the plentiful supply of rain and the corresponding confinement under cover to a certain degree, the season has been one of the most, if not the most, successful one in the history of the camp. All of the boys and all of the leaders are returning home or to college better youths and better young men.

Their season under the pines on the shore of Lake Quacumasset has prepared them for the coming school terms to which they return with dreams of happy experiences and visions of future participation with the coming of another season.

KIWANIS CLUB

The regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Newton was held on Tuesday at the Norumbega Park restaurant. No speaker was present it being the date of the usual monthly business meeting. District trustee, James P. Gallagher, past-president, Frank L. Wilcox, and Dr. F. H. Paul were elected delegates to the District convention at Bridgeport, Conn., on Sept. 19th to 21st.

W. L. White, manager of Norumbega Park, assured his fellow members of an excellent program for their benefit show on Friday evening, Sept. 9th. This show, which will be held in the Norumbega Park theatre consists of ten high-grade vaudeville acts. The proceeds of the performance will be given to the Mississippi Relief Fund of the American Red Cross.

COURSES IN LIFE SAVING NOW ENDED

The local Life Saving campaign which started the last of June and which has been conducted by the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross at Crystal Lake came to a close on September first, after a most successful summer.

The work was started at Crystal Lake and at Auburndale, but by far the largest portion was accomplished at Crystal Lake, where the facilities were fairly satisfactory for life-saving. Through the co-operation of Mr. Ernst Hermann of the Playground Department, a pier was constructed which was maintained solely for life saving classes and demonstrations.

During the summer months daily classes for boys and girls were held. These classes were hour periods during which time the children received instruction in the different phases of life saving—the breaks, carries, strokes, and resuscitation. During the past month senior classes for men and women have also been conducted at Crystal Lake.

One of the most popular features of the campaign was the Beginners class which met three times a week and at which time younger boys and girls were given swimming instruction. The crawl stroke, diving, and the back stroke, comprised the course and a total of 372 children attended.

A group of four different tests, the passing of which was the aim of the pupils found a total of 223 qualifying for either the Swimmers test, Junior or Senior Life Saving, or the Examiners rating.

Although the campaign was solely for life-saving the teaching of swimming to beginners and advanced instruction for intermediates found an important place in the work.

The course was conducted by Britton F. Boughner, a Springfield College graduate and Red Cross Examiner.

MOONLIGHT SAILS

General Manager Frederic L. Lane of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company announced yesterday that the big steamer "Mayflower," New England's only ballroom steamer, will continue its moonlight sails throughout the fall season.

The "Mayflower" sails every week-end evening, excepting Mondays, promptly at 8:30 p. m. from Rowe's Wharf, returning to its pier at 11:15 p. m., thus allowing suburbanites ample time to reach home at an early hour, and out-of-towners an opportunity to make train connections.

Music is furnished for dancing on the "Mayflower" by a specially selected jazz orchestra, the "Seven Jolly Sailors."

GOODWIN REVOKES JACKSON'S LICENSE

The Registrar of Motor Vehicles has revoked the license, and revoked the registration and took the plates from two cars belonging to Gardner Jackson of Sacco-Vanzetti fame, who resides on Rice street, Newton Centre.

This action was taken because of the fact that Mr. Jackson was convicted for operating while under the influence of liquor in the Newton Court, for which he was fined $100.

In commenting on the case, the Registrar said that he understood that Mr. Jackson got into an accident at three in the morning, while driving through Newton Centre. "A red lantern was on top of a wooden horse in the highway, and apparently Mr. Jackson, for whom Red has a great attraction, could not go by without knocking it down. I understand he pleaded guilty on the ground that because of ill health he was going to get out of Massachusetts for a year, anyway. Apparently Massachusetts is not a healthy place for those who are partial to Red."

MR. WILDE DEAD

Frank D. Wilde, a resident of Newton for 26 years, passed away at his home, 15 Hovey street, Wednesday night in his 71st year. Mr. Wilde had been in failing health for many months. As a young man he went to work with the concern of which his father was a member, and continued with it until his retirement from active work in the furniture business some time ago. Mr. Wilde was a charter member of the Boston Bicycle Club.

He is survived by his widow, Josephine S. Wilde, and a daughter, Mrs. Alfred Ferdinand of Kitchener, Ontario, who, with her family, was here with him the past week.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock at the Church of the New Jerusalem, 136 Bowdoin street, Boston.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Mr. George H. Dupee, an old resident of Newton, passed away on Wednesday of this week after a five-months' illness. He was born in Allston and was 90 years old. Although of advanced age, he was interested in everything going on, was a constant reader, and kept in touch with the events of the day. His wife died in 1900 and he is survived by two daughters, Miss Georgia E. Dupee and Miss Elva Dupee.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Graham Funeral Home, Riverside street, Watertown.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Early last Saturday evening at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, a Hupmobile sedan, owned and operated by L. S. Oliver of Brimfield, Mass., was in collision with a Ford coupe, owned and operated by Miss Elsa Leonard of 526 Centre street, Newton. Miss Leonard received a cut scalp which necessitated the taking of six stitches. Oliver took her to the office of Dr. Clark on Walnut street, Newtonville, who took her to her home. A chauffeur gave Officer Dwyer the woman's handbag and when it was given back to her a small amount of money was said to be missing.

Earlier that afternoon, while operating a Ford sedan on Washington street near Walker street, Newtonville, Officer Patrick J. King of the Newton police struck Charles Maner of 1011 Washington street when the latter ran from the sidewalk directly in front of the car. He received a slight cut on the right hand.

MISS BATCHELDER DEAD

She had lived in Boston for the greater part of her life. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Roscoe P. Owen (Julia Batchelder) of Boston, and by two nephews, Clifford Nichols of Buffalo, N. Y., and Philip Nichols of Newton.

HAS SERVED CITY 36 YEARS

Miss Ella F. Olmsted, the Chief Clerk of the Street Department office, completed thirty-six years of efficient service with the City of Newton on Wednesday. She is the oldest employee in the City Hall doing clerical work, and came to work during the administration of Ex-Mayor Herman E. Hibbard. She has done her part to make the city what it is, and Street Commissioner Stuart and all the officials in the City Hall consider her one of the best informed and most faithful employees. Her fellow employees helped to make the anniversary enjoyable and one to be remembered by presenting her with several bouquets as a testimonial of their friendship.

GRADING WORK TIED UP

The grading work on the Newton high school grounds the site of the proposed memorial stadium has been tied up because of the discovery of more ledge rock in the area being graded than was figured by the engineers. In consequence the cost of removing this additional ledge has increased the amount of the contract. The original estimate of the contractor, a sum of $19,636, was based on the engineer's estimate of 300 yards of ledge. Last week it was discovered that this ledge covered nearer 700 square yards and has it would cost $2,317. Mayor Childs recommended that this amount be appropriated by the Board of Aldermen at the meeting of the public works committee Monday of this week. The committee approved the appropriation. A sum of $25,000 is available for the work as the Mayor recommended that this amount, which is part of the refund of the income taxes from the state, be used for the grading purposes.

HARVEST SALE AT WEST NEWTON SEPT. 17

Desiring to repeat the success of their two big Dollar Days earlier in the year while at the same time striving to get away temporarily from the Dollar Day idea without sacrificing its effectiveness—or its attractiveness to the buying public—the merchants of the West Newton Business Men's Association announce that on Saturday, September 17, they will conduct a big "Harvest Sale" that is expected to offer so many really out of the ordinary inducements to the shopping public that it will exceed, in both volume of business and its opportunities for economical buying, any dollar day or other merchandising event previously held in the village.

MORTGAGE MONEY

There is a distinct advantage in having home mortgages held by home institutions. More favorable treatment is natural when the applicant deals directly with the Bank and establishes intimate friendly relations than can be expected if he deals with those who are practically strangers.

Our service is friendly, courteous and efficient, and our terms on mortgage loans are reasonable.

LOCAL YOUTH BATTLES FOR LIFE IN THREE-MILE POND

Last Friday morning John H. Gordon, Jr., sixteen-year old son of Alderman John H. Gordon of 331 Auburndale avenue had a narrow escape from drowning in Three Mile Pond near Quonochontaug, Rhode Island, and his companion, Edward Parsons, Jr., aged 14, of Ilion, New York, was drowned after their boat had capsized in a sudden squall. The former's mother witnessed the battle for life in the choppy waters of the pond, unable to do more than summon the coast guard a mile away. In the end Parsons sank and Gordon reached a small island near the eastern end of the lake, exhausted.

Mrs. Gordon and her son have been spending the summer, operating a filling-station on the Boston Post road near Quonochontaug.

Parsons, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parsons had spent the last eight summers with his parents on East Beach. His father, an official of the Remington Typewriter company, who was not with his family at the time of the fatality, was summoned when news of the tragedy came to his mother who had supposed her son had gone berrying. The morning of the tragedy Parsons came to the Gordon's stand and asked if he could rent her son's catboat for a while. This she refused to do unless John went with him to sail the boat. The two then set out on a choppy sea with the wind blowing in gusts. Shortly afterwards a stranger rushed into the stand saying that a boat had capsized on the pond and giving Mrs. Gordon her first intimation of trouble. From a rear window she could see the boat on its side and two heads bobbing in the water. She seized the phone and put in an emergency call for the Quonochontaug coast guard station, a mile away and on the outer side of the mainland. Then she called Charles Brightman, a neighbor, who went for his boat a quarter of a mile away. It was an hour later that she learned that the figure that finally reached the island was that of her son. Brightman and the coast guard crew raced to the rescue but were too late to save Parsons who had disappeared when they reached the overturned craft.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

A treat is in store for the boys and girls who come to the Children's Museum for the three o'clock Saturday talks in the month of September. Beginning Saturday, September 3rd, series of four lectures will be given on various phases of the life among the North American Indians. Stories, lantern slides, and the great variety of Indian articles which the Museum has in the storeroom, as well as in the cases on exhibition, will be used to illustrate these talks. The subjects are as follows:

Saturday, Sept. 3rd—Indian Handicraft.
Saturday, Sept. 10th—Nature Lore of the Indians.
Saturday, Sept. 17th—Strange Customs and Ceremonies.
Saturday, Sept. 24th—Old Wigwam Legends.

After each of these talks, those who wish may play a Museum League Indian Game, based on the exhibits in the Museum. Come and earn points toward a Museum League Diploma and Pin. The winners of these contests will receive as prizes articles made by the Indians.

Did you know that the September number of "Our Hobbies" is now out? This magazine is written and published monthly by the members of the Exchange Bureau of the Children's Museum. Did you know, too, that this youthful magazine has already made its appearance in the following states: Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Maine, Massachusetts, and California, and in the distant lands of Japan and England? There are some fine stories and articles in this number and you will enjoy them thoroughly. Why not join "Our Hobbies Club"? Be one of us! The meetings are held semi-weekly, on Tuesday and Saturday mornings at 9:30 o'clock in the Reading Room.

DEATH OF MR. COOK

Mr. Arthur D. Cook died suddenly last Friday at his home on Barnstable road, West Newton, following a short illness.

Mr. Cook had but recently returned from a five weeks' trip in Europe and had attended the theatre on the previous afternoon.

Mr. Cook was for thirty-three years a director of the widely known Winchester street jewelry house of A. Stowell & Co., Inc., and for the last eight years had been treasurer of the corporation. He was born in Allston and was the son of Charles S. Cook, one of the founders of the Stowell house. He went into the business with which his father was identified immediately on leaving school. He was a member of the Brae-Burn Club and the Neighborhood Club, and is survived by a widow, Josephine E. Cook, and a daughter, Bernadine Cook, and a son, Arthur D. Cook, Jr.; also by a brother, Charles S. Cook, Jr., who is president of the Stowell house.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at his late home, Rev. Dr. J. Edgar Park, president of Wheaton college, officiating and the burial was in Knollwood Cemetery, Sharon.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

paid, let the state claim it and give good title to a family who will live on it and develop it.

The North and South Shores have beautiful spots which cannot be surpassed anywhere in the world. Many of the wealthiest business men, lawyers and bankers, now have their summer homes in our state. If the bureau could spend money for publicity, it could interest thousands of others in buying on the Massachusetts Sea Shore and thereby create new values and employ more of our citizens.

The trouble with all of us has been described by Elbert Hubbard—"We would rather go out and lie down and die than do constructive thinking"—I do not feel that I can solve the problems, but if I succeed in causing you men to think along these lines, to demand something more from the state and from our National officials, then our short discussion of this question will not have been in vain. Rand McNally says the great American desert is out somewhere west of the Rocky Mountains, but he is wrong; the great American desert is under the hat of the average man. That is where we have the undiscovered country. It isn't out yonder, it is up here.

Some men are half dead and half alive, and sometimes they are more the former than the latter. You know death is a very mysterious something. Most men die twice. Once in the spirit and once in the body—the two departures from life are not always concurrent. The date on the tombstone isn't the date the man dies. That is the date society took formal note of his departure, that is all. When he has quit contributing to the thought and progress of his time, that is when a man dies. It makes no difference whether he is buried, he belongs to the unburied dead.

And, so it is, with industrial companies. A large majority in Massachusetts are dead. Instead of the undertaker, they are waiting for the sheriff. The stimulating influence of new minds, new methods, and a new spirit in the community will save many of these old firms for us. Our government reflects the attitude of public opinion. Let's create a demand for real action and if something along these lines could be accomplished we could be proud of old Massachusetts. Let's applaud industrial aggressiveness and condemn destructive conservatism and we will have a better state, more prosperity and more happiness in this Commonwealth of ours.

MR. GEO. W. BROWN OBSERVES HIS 86th BIRTHDAY TUESDAY

The 86th birthday of Mr. George W. Brown was observed last Tuesday by a tea and reception held at the home of his son, Mr. Edwin P. Brown at Swampscott.

He was born in Northfield, Vt., in 1841. Twenty years ago he gave the town the Newton public library. He attended schools at Northfield and at Northfield Academy and for a time attended a seminary in Newbury, Vt. Mr. Brown began work as a time-keeper on the Central Vermont railway, at the age of 18 years. At 24 he entered the grocery business at St. Albans, where he married Addie E. Perkins two years before. Mrs. Brown died 25 years ago. Their son, Edwin P. Brown, was former president of the United Shoe Machinery Corporation and now chairman of the board.

Mr. Brown returned to New England after two years in California and for more than 20 years was engaged in the manufacture of sewing machines. Then his health failed and he spent a year in Mexico. When he returned again to New England he became treasurer and general manager of the Consolidated Hand Method Lasting Machine Company, predecessor of the present United Shoe Machinery Corporation.

Besides his connection with his own company he is director of the First National Bank of Boston, the British and French United Shoe Machinery Companies, the George Tucker Bicycle Company, Ltd., and other manufacturing industries. His home is at present in Swampscott. In 1925 he received the degree of LL.D. from Norwich University. He is vice-president and a director of the Boston Music School Settlement.

WELCOME TO FRANCE, LEGIONNAIRES!

Remember the A. L. A.?

It was one of the seven welfare organizations which went with you in the old days, to try to make things a bit better for you. The A. L. A. undertook to provide books for all the men in the service both at home and abroad. You are the best judges of how well the task was accomplished.

The A. L. A. is glad to be able to serve you again on this more peaceful occasion. Through the American Library in Paris organized by the A. L. A. War Service and now operated by an independent society, it is maintaining a number of reading and rest rooms and information bureaus. A list of these places, with their addresses, appear in your official guidebooks. You are most cordially invited to make every possible use of this service.

Perhaps you will not care to spend much of your precious time in reading, but a home newspaper may look pretty good when you have a few moments to spare. The following papers are on file:

Atlanta Constitution, Detroit Post, Boston Evening Transcript, Detroit Free Press, Chicago Tribune, Kansas City Star, Christian Science Monitor, Los Angeles Times, Cleveland Plain Dealer, Minneapolis Journal, Denver Post, New Orleans Times-Picayune, New York Evening Post, New York Times, Philadelphia Public Ledger, Portland Oregonian, St. Louis Globe-Democrat, San Francisco Chronicle, Springfield (Mass.) Republican, Washington Star.

You will find numerous copies of American popular magazines, too, so come in and rest a while and look them over. If you need information about where to go or what to see, ask for advice at an A. L. A. reading room. We'll do our best to help you. While you are here, the A. L. A. hopes you will visit the American Library in Paris, 10 rue de l'Elysee, which is a memorial to the American soldiers for whom it was first established. It now occupies a position of importance as a center from which the scholars, teachers and publicists of Europe may obtain authoritative information about the United States. It conducts an international reference service of great interest and usefulness. It serves as an example to all Europe of the modern American public library.

Visit the Paris Library School, too! It has quarters in the American Library in Paris. It is an international school of librarianship, drawing students from many countries. It is taking an effective part in spreading American library methods in Europe and the Near East. Miss Mary Prescott Parsons, Resident Director, will be glad to welcome you, conduct you through the school, and give you an idea about the interesting work being done there.

As food for thought, just a last word: The American Library Association is an organization of more than 10,000 librarians and friends of libraries. It is devoted to the promotion of library service to all people everywhere, but particularly to Americans. It has an enormous peace-time job at home—to assist in the extension of library service to some 50,000,000 of our countrymen still without access to libraries! These surprising figures offer a challenge not only to the A. L. A. but to all those more fortunate Americans who know and appreciate the friendship of books.

Harry Hoten whose house was one of the six raided by the police on the night of August 13th was tried on Wednesday morning. He was found guilty of keeping and exposing intoxicating liquors and fined $50. He was also found guilty of selling liquor on which count he was fined $200 and given a three months' sentence in the House of Correction. The later sentence was suspended when he paid the fines imposed by the court.

William Newland of Cambridge who was tried on a charge of larceny on August 11th and found guilty withdrew the appeal he entered that day and paid a $50 fine. Office Conlon arrested Newland on August tenth.

How to Play BRIDGE

A new series of lessons by
Wynne Ferguson

ARTICLE No. 21

One of the most difficult problems that comes up at the bridge table is the proper lead when partner has not made a bid. Many a game and rubber is won or lost by the opening lead, so whenever possible try to add to your store of knowledge of sound opening leads. Here is a good example hand that was played in a recent duplicate match:

A : Z :

Hearts — 10, 8
Clubs — 8, 6, 4, 2
Diamonds — Q, 6, 2
Spades — A, Q, 7, 3

Z dealt and passed. A bid one diamond. Y passed. B bid one heart and all passed. What is Z's proper opening lead? Z should lead the deuce of clubs. The diamond opening is bad because of A's bid. Never lead an opponent's declared suit unless you have a sure trick in trumps. The spade opening is bad because Z holds the ace, queen and should wait for a spade lead to him. The trump lead is bad because A-B may have a set up diamond suit and thus be able to discard their losing cards before Y-Z gain the lead. Never lead trumps against a declared suit unless you hold a sure stopper in the other three suits. Otherwise it is a very risky proposition. As a matter of fact, the sound lead, the deuce of clubs, is the only lead that will save the game.

Answer to Problem No. 25

Hearts — K, 10, 7, 2
Clubs — K, Q
Diamonds — Q, J, 4
Spades — A, J, 8, 3

Y :
A :
Z :

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt, bid one trump and A, bid two diamonds, what would you bid with Y's hand? Y has the choice of several bids. He may double two diamonds and feel fairly

David S. Weber of Wrentham was in district court on Wednesday morning on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. He was also charged with drunkenness and driving after his license and registration had been revoked. He pleaded guilty to the latter charge but contended that he had not taken a drink for nearly a year. His brother, Henry E. Weber, pleaded guilty of drunkenness and his case was placed on file.

David's license and registration were revoked nearly a year ago when he was convicted of driving "wutol." He told the police that since that time he had abstained from drinking in order that he might get them back at the end of a year. He testified that he was taking his brother home when arrested. Patrolman Davis, the arresting officer, told the court that Weber was staggering and that there was an odor of liquor on his breath at the time. Patrolman Duncan who drove the wagon the night of Aug. 17 at the time of the arrest of the two brothers testified that he would not say that David was not drunk and would not say that he was. Patrolman Charlton, who rode in the wagon beside Weber, told the court flatly that he did not appear to be drunk and there was no odor of liquor on Weber's breath. Sergeant Meehan, who booked the prisoners, said that he smelt liquor but he was not sure whether it came from the elder brother's breath or not. The defence presented several witnesses who testified that they were friends of Weber's and had not known him to take a drink since his arrest last September.

Before the case went to trial Chief Burke asked the court for a continuance of the case as some doubt had developed as to the defendant's guilt and it was desired to summon a disinterested witness. The case went to trial but Judge Bacon at the conclusion expressed a desire to hear the disinterested witness and continued the case to next week.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Are you ready to answer for the time spent on your vacation, or are your 1927 holidays still to come? Personally, I have passed through the busiest Summer since my first connection with newspaper work and can prove it by my scrap-book. Not only was it my duty but my privilege to see history in the making and if you know that much of my writing is done at the State House you can understand the significant development I witnessed.

I seek no opportunity to emphasize my own experiences, however, I would like, though, to have those of my friends who learned of conditions only through newspaper reports acquainted with certain facts. Therefore, I bear testimony to the greatness of the Governor of this Commonwealth and all the men associated with him in the consideration of the most vital problems that ever confronted a governor.

I saw the Governor when the matter was first put up to him. That he grasped its full meaning and importance was plain. A man of vision, he saw before him the path of duty. It was not an inviting prospect. There was not only unpleasantness, but clouds of public opinion that in some quarters were bound to burst in a storm of bitterness and scorn. It meant hours of drudgery, sleepless nights and the possibility of bodily danger. There was no telling what might not happen and yet there was certainty that whatever transpired would be accompanied by a frenzied pressure not all comfortable to bear.

I saw Governor Fuller face this seemingly overwhelming task with squared shoulders and a clear eye. There was nothing of the politician, nothing of the office-holder who passes the buck or sidesteps responsibility. He evaded nothing; rather, he made work for himself. He sought the truth for himself and would not be deterred.

I saw this exhibition of statesmanship, of manly courage, from the beginning to the crisis and there was no wavering, no faltering. It was a lesson in moral bravery, and as such ought to be repeated to the youth of our country. It gave me renewed faith in Massachusetts and provided me with a more profitable Summer than I could have attained by travel or recreation. It was the very best way I could have spent my time.

Well, well! A contest for the office of Mayor. At least, anybody who takes the chance and runs against Mayor Childs is certain of one thing—he will obtain good practice. And, as far as I can see, the more practice you have the wiser you become.

As I read the public letter of the opposing candidate he is entering the contest at the behest of numerous taxpayers who have convinced themselves and him that he would make a good Mayor. No doubt they are right. The next thing, of course, is to convince a majority of the voters and induce them to come to the polls and cast their ballots. The process is simple as a matter of theory, but in practice it works out somewhat differently. However, let us have a contest by all means. We may hear some things about our municipal government that we didn't know.

What I started out to say was that I have yet to discover a candidate for office whose announcement did not contain the fact that he had given the matter thought and discussed it with friends on whose advice he had entered the field. Every one of them points out that he possesses the necessary qualifications for the office he is seeking.

We, as citizens, might be surprised if a candidate wrote an open letter to the newspapers in which he said something like this: "It is my personal ambition to hold the office for which I have announced myself a candidate. I am seeking election (or re-election) because I want the job which looks very good to me. I shall try between now and election day to persuade the voters to turn out in large numbers and put me across. In the meantime I shall do everything I can to make myself popular in the eyes of the people. Whatever I think a majority of them favor I will openly support. Any delicate question, on which there is a marked division of opinion, I shall side-step as gracefully as I can. I want the job because I want it and that's that."

Do not hope ever to read anything like that from a political candidate, but try imagine what shock you would receive if it should be forthcoming.

Several readers of this column have privately reminded me that I am expected to report on the outcome of my efforts to raise certain flowers and vegetables from seeds purchased by me a year ago in a quaint little seed shop in France. The best way I can lay the situation before you is to print the kind of a letter I would like to write the man from whom I bought the seeds. Now I am not a French scholar, or even a student or a kindergarten. Therefore, there is no hope of such a letter being written by me in the French language. I have written it in English, with the hope that somebody will offer to translate it for me. If they do I shall avail myself of their painstaking generosity.

My communication is addressed to "Mons. A. Teyssere, 23 Rue de la Gare, Carcassonne, France."

"Dear Mons.: I bought some seeds from your shop on the morning of July 15, 1926. The fact that you and your friends were celebrating Bastille Day the night before may or may not have something to do with it, but I couldn't seem to get all the seeds to grow. I suppose you will say they didn't understand my language when I tried to persuade them they ought to come up. I watered them regularly. Maybe you will tell me that instead of water I should have used wine. Why didn't you tell me that when I bought, if such is the case? I could then have explained why anything but water was out of the question."

"The poppy seeds never did even make a fluff at growing. The radish seeds came up all right, but instead of producing radishes they turned into weeds. Why didn't you tell me that when I bought, if such is the case? I could then have explained why anything but water was out of the question."

"Now, Mons., I must admit that the chloery is growing pretty well, but the way I hoped for when I bought it doesn't seem to want to head up. Maybe it isn't supposed to, but I'd rather have it that way, if it is all the same to you. Perhaps you will sell me some fresh seeds I can use next Summer."

"Of course, Mons., I am not kicking and I don't expect to get my money back. If ever I get over to your town and you are still living maybe we can talk it over through an interpreter. Regards to the Missus."

Brancroft Goodwin and several other leading citizens have spoken to me about my straw hat of which I wrote in this column last June. "How's the hat?" they ask. Some years ago when Brancroft and I indulged in amateur theatricals he proved himself one of the best stage-managers I ever saw or have seen since. He is a practical man and when he makes an inquiry about anything he not only desires but is entitled to all the facts. All others who have displayed equal interest should be informed.

The hat has done very well. It was bought at the store of one of our Newton residents who advertises in the Graphic and naturally proved a sound investment. I must admit that I haven't been outdoors as much this Summer as in other years, but when I have the rain has fallen, which is not good even for a good hat.

Like many another straw hat it has lost its school-girl complexion, and for that reason has somewhat depreciated in value. I will admit I lingered over the counter of a drug store on which were displayed bottles of "straw hat restorer," but resisted purchasing any of the magic liquid. When they invent lip-sticks and face powder for straw hats I may make the experiment, but even that has a doubtful side.

As I write this, my 1927 "sailor" stares at me from the office clothes-tree. It has a sad, farewell look. I think we shall part forever in a couple of weeks. It seems to say, "I do not choose to be worn in 1928."

The other day I enjoyed a revelation. It completely upset one of my pet beliefs. You know, those things sometimes do happen and when they do we are apt to think of them for some time. It is really difficult to keep them to ourselves; almost impossible, in fact. Therefore I am compelled to unload this on my readers.

We all of us have pity for the lone bachelor, who lives in a boarding house or hotel, according to his means, and has no one to "do his mending for him" as the country people say. We assume that if anything goes wrong with his wardrobe he is forced to take it to the tailor's or to someone who is handy with the needle and thread. At any rate we know, or think we know that living alone is a costly thing, if not a melancholy one.

The recent occurrence that made such a deep impression on me was simple in circumstances, but I shall long remember it. A bachelor of my acquaintance, who has seen close to forty years and who has prospered as a writer, is the subject of this little parable.

He walked into my office and after saying, "Hello, do you mind if I close the door?" proceeded to sit down and take off his right shoe.

"Too tight?" I asked.

"No," replied my friend, "I have a hole in my stocking."

"Going to change your stockings here," I persisted.

"No," he replied calmly, "just a little darning."

With that he placed his shoeless foot on a chair and displayed a hole in the heel of the stocking. I remarked that he was welcome to take his stocking off but he said, "It won't be necessary," and fished out a needle and thread from his pocket. I have never seen anybody reach backwards and sew at the same time, but this bachelor did with marked facility. And it didn't seem any time at all before he had sewed the hole up as good as new. It was an acrobatic stunt as well as a display of fast needlework.

Maybe he would be called an unusual man. At any rate he proved that some of the things which cause us to weep over lonely bachelors are partly in our imagination.

DAMON HALL OPENS IN NEWTON

A new junior college for girls offering courses in foreign travel and "management of personal affairs" has entered the school world of Newton. Damon Hall is named for its founder and principal, Frank Hardy Damon, a New England educator of wide experience who has been connected with school work in this part of the country for the past 30 years.

The new school is to occupy the old Wellington estate, former home of A. J. Wellington, at 81 Church street, Newton.

It is a school for girls of college age, offering regular academic work in addition to its unique plan of unusual courses of study and a faculty of authors, artists and business men who will augment the regular teaching staff.

"A Junior College for the Cultured Woman of Tomorrow" is the plan and creed of the school, as voiced by Mr. Damon.

The stereotyped school room and the conventional "dorm" have been eliminated because Mr. Damon believes "a young woman who will spend the most of her life in a home should be educated in a home."

The course in foreign travel, said to be the only one of its kind in the country, fits a girl through a year of intensive study for travel in Europe.

Lantern slides of foreign scenes, history of European peoples, study of their customs and extensive nautical training are included in the course.

Going about Boston with a French-speaking guide to give each girl a "traveler's French" is a novel part of the year's work.

A "salon" in which girls will practice the fine art of conversation and meet interesting persons in the world of art, music and letters, is to take place one evening a week.

In the "management of personal affairs" girls are to learn the meaning and use of stocks, bonds, mortgages, interest, investment and insurance.

Mr. Damon, for the past year has been principal of the Mt. Ida School for girls following the death in 1926 of George Jewett the former Mt. Ida principal. Prior to this he has been high school instructor, college instructor, high school principal, superintendent of schools, lecturer, private school principal and consultant and adviser on educational matters. Mr. Damon is a graduate of the University of Maine, and as a young man in a family in the diplomatic service, has spent much of his early life abroad.

Many of the pieces of antique furniture, curios from all parts of the world will remain in the old Wellington home. A large library of first editions, and old valuable books, partly Mr. Damon's private collection and partly that of the Wellington family will be open for the school's use.

An athletic field, a block from the school will be used by the girls. They will also have the privilege of the swimming pool and tennis courts of a private club near the school.

Damon Hall will open October fifth.

HURT IN AUTO—TROLLEY SMASH

Frank Colontonio of 24 Clinton street, Newton suffered injuries to his head and face Sunday evening when the automobile in which he was riding was in collision with a Boston elevated car on Tremont street, Brighton. The automobile, which was owned and operated by Sogio Trolo of 169 Adams street, Newton, was turning into Cuffin street from Tremont when it struck the car of which Charles Dunder of Arlington was the motorman. Trolo escaped injury and after being treated at the St. Elizabeth Hospital Colontonio was able to go home. He received abrasions of the forehead and nose. The automobile was badly damaged and the front of the street car slightly damaged.

SCARES AWAY BURGLAR

It is believed that an attempt was made early Sunday morning to break into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Dwyer of 34 Risley road which was prevented when a prowler, surprised upon the grounds, was frightened away. The police were notified but could find no trace of the fugitive upon their arrival. Mrs. Dwyer was awakened by the sound of footsteps outside the house. She aroused her husband and they turned on the lights. As they did so they saw a man fleeing from the yard. According to residents several houses, vacant for the summer, have been entered in that neighborhood recently and it is thought the burglar believed the Dwyer home unoccupied and was endeavoring to find a means of entrance.

heard last week Judge Brown reserved his decision until Monday when he ruled that the alley was not a public way after making a visit to the scene of the arrest and therefore Southwell was not guilty of the first count.

In court on Monday morning Mrs.
Lucy Hopkins of 11 Faxon street was acquitted on a charge of making an illegal sale of liquor while her husband, Joseph Hopkins was found guilty of keeping and exposing liquor for sale and fined $50. The Hopkins premises were among the six places raided by the police on August 13th.
The only witness against Mrs. Hopkins was Edward A. O'Brien of Dorchester, a spotter employed by the police. He testified that he had purchased a pint of liquor from the woman.
Defense attorney Hugh Boyd cross-examined O'Brien and drew from him the admission that he was the man referred to in a newspaper story Boyd had accidentally run across.
This account told of the arrest of O'Brien on a charge of larceny of $41 preferred by the chief of police of Wareham, who had employed O'Brien as a liquor spotter. He was found not guilty. When the defense drew the admission that he was the man referred to Judge Bacon stated that he could not accept the man's testimony since his character had been impeached by the Wareham police head and found the woman not guilty. Sergeant Vedeuco and Patrolman C. Feeley and King took the stand against Hopkins. They told of having seized 33 bottles of beer in his home whereupon the fine of $50 was imposed by the court.

At the same session of the court another couple, living at the same address where four raids were conducted at the same time, were called to face charges of violating the liquor laws. Mary Battista, the wife, agreed to pay $200 costs to the court and the case was continued without a finding. She had been charged with making an illegal sale. Nicola Battista, the husband, was fined $50 on a charge of keeping and exposing liquor for sale. Both were given until Sept. 29 to pay.

He was then engaged in the war service of his country. After one year at the Hartford Theological Seminary, he completed his theological course at Bangor. He was instructor of Elementary Greek in the Seminary. He was ordained in 1922 and has been minister of the Congregational church at Dover-Foxcroft, Me., since that year. He is the son of Calvin M. Clark, Professor of Church History at Bangor Seminary, and is a descendant of Jonathan Edwards through the Hookers, thus having a religious ancestry of high renown.

REV. CORNELIUS E. CLARK

Mr. Clark takes an active interest in the community in which he lives. He was chaplain of the American Legion at Dover-Foxcroft, a member of the Odd Fellows organization and very active in the affairs of young people, in which work he acquired a wide reputation throughout the State of Maine. Auburn-dale is particularly fortunate in thus securing as its minister an active young leader of such fine attainments.

MORE ALDERMANIC CANDIDATES

Joseph J. Murray of 184 Washington street is being urged to run as a candidate for alderman from Ward 7 to succeed Benjamin S. Hinckley, who will retire. Mr. Murray, who is president of the P. A. Murray Company, is a native and life long resident of Newton. For a number of years he has served as a trustee of the Newton Free Library.

In Ward 3 friends of Algernon W. McCarthy of 58 Margin street are mentioning his name as a successor to Alderman Richard Leahy. McCarthy, who has long been prominent in West Newton affairs, holds a responsible position with the Boston & Albany Railroad. Another probable candidate to succeed Mr. Leahy is Chester Price of 59 River street, a young man who is a lawyer by profession.

It is probable that Herbert I. Bridgely of 1295 Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls, will be a candidate for alderman-at-large from Ward 1. He is a well known attorney with offices at Boston and West Newton.

LODGES

The annual election of officers of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons will take place next Wednesday evening and will be preceded by a dinner. The installation will be public and take place on September 21st.

The first regular meeting for the season of Norumbega Lodge of Masons will be held next Monday evening.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Contract for New Building Awarded Boston Concern

Contract for the construction of the new units of the Newton Hospital has been let to the Holt-Fairchild Company, at 7 Water street, Boston, after wide competitive bidding. It was announced this week by Leon B. Rogers, chairman of the hospital building committee. Surveying of the site of the new buildings was begun this week, and the contractors expect to break ground early next week. The sum involved in this contract was not made public at this time, as it was said some details of the building are yet subject to alteration.

The immediate building program calls for the construction of the main hospital building, which will rise five stories above a full basement and sub-basement, and a power plant. The new ward and service building will stand to the south of the present group of buildings, and will be connected with them by a tunnel. The power plant will be built near the railroad tracks, thus facilitating the delivery of coal.

Formal recognition of the beginning of actual work on the building is planned by the hospital campaign committee for late in September. At this time exercises will be held to which the general public will be invited to join with the hospital authorities in celebrating the progress of the work. Plans for this occasion and for the continuation of the fund-raising campaign will be considered at a meeting of the general campaign committee, which has been called for Thursday evening, Sept. 15, at 6 o'clock, at the Brae-Burn Country Club.

HARVEST SALE

Plans are being developed rapidly for the big Harvest Sale of the West Newton merchants on Saturday of next week, September 17, this promising to be an event that will eclipse in many respects the successful Dollar Days conducted under the direction of the West Newton Business Men's Association in March and June. Believing that a general sale of all types of merchandise, participated in simultaneously by all of the merchants of the village and concentrated within the business hours of one day, would permit the offering of many more inducements and a much greater assortment of bargains than another Dollar Day, the publicity and mercantile events committee of the West Newton business men decided to conduct a general sale on all types of merchandise, and at a variety of prices, striving to offer an assortment of special bargains that should make this one of the most talked of merchandising events ever held in the city.

The merchants are cooperating to an extent that should more than compensate for any disappointment on the part of Dollar Day patrons of the past and these may be assured that the coming Harvest Sale will not only duplicate the preceding Dollar Days in the values offered, but will greatly exceed those events in the variety of offerings. Since the decision was reached in early August to conduct the coming sale, and the date was chosen, practically every merchant in the village has been marking down a substantial part of his stock to prices that could not possibly prevail for more than one day. Many have sought the cooperation of jobbers and manufacturers and have made many special purchases which will result in a great deal of new merchandise being offered at unheard of prices for similar quality previous to this sale. Reductions will range from 15 to 20 per cent to as high as fifty per cent less than the standard prices on the specials quoted, the purpose of these sales being to stimulate trading at home and to bring new people into the various stores rather than to make a large profit, on even volume business.

WILLIAM DONALD

William Donald, for many years a resident of Newton, and formerly employed for a long period as baggage-man at the Newton railroad station, died on Sunday at his late residence, 19 Water street, Watertown. He was born 64 years ago at Bann, Scotland. He is survived by two sons and three daughters. His funeral services were held Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's Church, Watertown, Interment was in Waverley.

The steam fan engines in the Technical High, Bigelow and Mason Schools were replaced with electric motors which complete this change so that the ventilation systems can now be run in all of the schools, where mechanical ventilation is necessary without making it necessary to start the heating plant with exception of the Hyde Schools. A great deal of work has been done on the heating and ventilating systems throughout the schools, installing modern equipment wherever possible.

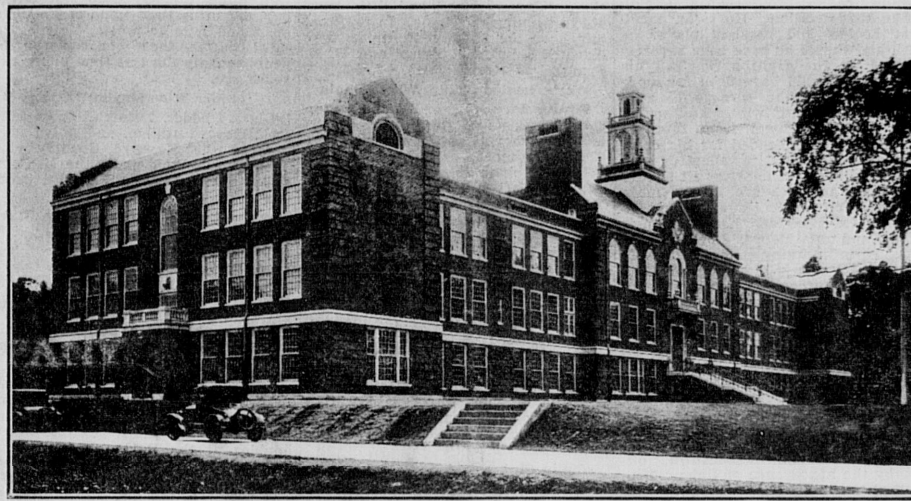

As usual, a great deal of work was necessary on the roofs. Stair treads and means of egress have also been given very careful attention and have been replaced where necessary.

In general, the school buildings in Newton today are in a very satisfactory condition as for heating, ventilation, electric, sanitary, egress and fire prevention. As it is necessary and desirable that all of these items mentioned should be given very careful rooms, rooms for men and women teachers; nine class rooms, and a large assembly hall with stage and dressing rooms; rooms for storage and for moving picture equipment. The assembly hall is accessible from the main corridor and the outside. By means of folding doors the hall is divided to provide gymnasiums for boys and girls, with separate staircases from each leading to the locker and shower rooms below.

On each floor there are toilet rooms and storage rooms, and four large exit stairways leading directly to the outside, in addition to the main entrance and those connected with the auditorium and ground floor. The wide corridors are of fireproof construction, with a high dado of salt glazed brick. The exterior of the building is of water struck brick with stone trimmings. A central tower of lead coated copper contains the main ventilating stack.

attention for the health, convenience and safety of the occupants of the schools, these matters for the past four or five years have been given a great deal of study, and the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen by the generous appropriations have made it possible for the Building Department to put the Newton schools in a very fine condition in all of these respects.

New Construction
The Levi F. Warren Junior High School, which was started June, 1926, was completed on time and is ready for use this school term. The cost of the building, not including furnishings, was $566,000. This building was designed by Ripley & LeBoutillier, architects, and is one of the most complete junior high schools in the country.

It is a structure of three stories, finely equipped and finished, and Colonial in style.

There are class rooms on three floors. On the ground floor are three class rooms; two rooms each for Domestic Science and Sewing; a large woodworking room, a printing room, and a room for metal working; boys' and girls' toilets, locker and shower room.

New Well Adds Two Million Gallons Daily to Newton System

The work of cleaning out the 6 and 8 inch mains in different parts of the city has been practically completed, so far as the money appropriated for this task is concerned. It is probable that the Board of Aldermen will soon be called upon to appropriate more money to permit all the 6 and 8 inch mains throughout the city to be freed of the sediment which has been gathering in them for many years. Certainly the results obtained in this work done to date warrants it being extended to all the water mains in Newton.

Considerable trouble was experienced the past two weeks while the 6 inch main on Adams street was being cleaned. One section of the first cleaning device which was inserted in this main caught in a hydrant connection opposite the convent on Adams street and broke off. It was supposed that this machine had become stuck in the bend at the intersection of the Newtonville drain, so a second machine was sent through the main to push the missing section along. When this second machine also failed to come through, it was traced to the point opposite the convent, an excavation dug, and then it was discovered that the two cleaning devices had been stopped at the hydrant connection.

Water Commissioner Whitney proposes to have two more wells constructed on the water reservation at Needham. One of these, a large well, would be sunk about a third of a mile above the new well recently completed. The other, a smaller well, would be made in the direction of the old well towards the Dedham end of the reservation. These two wells would add appreciably to the supply and care for future needs. The well recently completed is supplying about 2,000,000 gallons of water per day.

JANSE GETS CABBAGE CONTRACT

On October 1st John A. Janse of 443 Parker street, Newton Centre, will begin to collect the garbage in the city of Newton. For over 40 years this work has been done by William H. Mague of West Newton. His contract expires the last of this month. When the bids were received for the new contract Mr. Janse was Mr. Mague's only competitor. He submitted a bid of $52,000 a year for a three years contract. This is the same amount which Mr. Mague has been receiving. Mr. Mague's bid was $84,000 yearly, an increase of $32,000 over his present contract figure. After the bids had been opened Mr. Mague submitted another bid of $48,000 per year, but this could not be accepted.

Mr. Janse has purchased a fleet of steel tank garbage trucks, which will be manned by a driver and two collectors on each truck. When these trucks have collected their loads, they will be driven out of the city for the disposition of their contents, thus avoiding any nuisances in this community because of the existence of a garbage plant.

THEFT AT AUBURNDALE

The home of Harry Every, 48 Islington road, Auburn-dale, was broken into sometime between Saturday noon and Monday night and jewelry and radio parts stolen. Entrance was made by forcing a window, and the entire house was ransacked. Valuable jewelry and silverware had been placed in safe deposit vaults while the family was away. The thieves are supposed to be boys.

TWO GAMES AHEAD

Newton Highlands Team Seems Assured of Being in City Series

The Newton Highlands team of the Newton Twilight league practically clinched the championship of the second half this week by winning both of the games it played while Auburn-dale dropped a 3 to 1 affair with the Pals on Tuesday night. The second half leaders won over the Earnshaw Mills on Tuesday night by a 4 to 0 score and on Wednesday night they duplicated the score against the Pals. The Corpus Christi club of Auburn-dale, which has been pressing the South-siders closely all through the second half, defeated the Y. M. C. A. at Norumbega last Friday night 4 to 2 and took over the West Newton Town team on Wednesday, 4 to 1. The game that they lost to the Pals on Tuesday, however, was their fourth in the second half race and as the Highlands has lost but two games out of the 16 it has played, it has a comfortable lead over the rest of the field. Upper Falls has also lost four games in the second half and has won one less than the Corpus Christi team, putting the first half champions in third place. A few of the games this week have not gone the required minimum number of innings and whether or not they will have to be played over will be decided tonight.

A meeting of the league officials and managers will be held tonight at the Newton Centre playground house when this question and the playoff of the city series will be discussed. If possible, it is planned to start the city series tomorrow afternoon with a second game on Sunday and a third affair next Saturday. If any more games are necessary to decide the city title and the holder of the Graphic Cup for this year they will be played on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

SUCCEEDS BROWNELL

F. E. Wilson of Hammond, Ill., will succeed Clifford L. Brownell as director of physical education in the Newton schools. The appointment was ratified yesterday. Last fall Brownell was appointed State director of physical education in Ohio and his resignation from the Newton staff followed. Coming here last fall Brownell soon gained for himself a high place in the esteem of the boys with whom he came in contact and it is with much regret that he leaves Newton. Mr. Wilson will assume his position with the opening of school on Monday and has been present at several of the practice sessions of the football eleven on Clafin field this week.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

CANDIDATES OUT AT NEWTON HIGH

Seventy-five candidates for the 1927 Newton High school football team were equipped for the initial practice session on Wednesday morning at the high school field this week. This number is expected to be greatly increased early next week when school opens and many of the boys who have not yet returned to the city after the vacation period will be on hand. Coach John L. Sullivan, who has been laying plans for his first year at the helm of Newton's grizzled team, addressed the group at the beginning of the session on Wednesday morning. He informed them that the policies of the late Coach Allie Dickinson would be followed throughout the season with a few minor changes on the offense made necessary by the new rules. Whether or not he will employ much use of the lateral pass is not yet known although it is expected that many of the college and high school eleven will attempt to achieve results by such plays.

Two weeks from tomorrow Newton will open its season on Clafin field against St. Mary's high of Waltham which is being coached this year by Frank Smith, former Waltham high and Dartmouth football star who was instrumental for the Watch City's superiority over the Garden City eleven some years back.

Newton's prospects suffered a severe setback last week when it was learned that captain Frank Spain, who was expected to lead Newton to many victories from his position at quarterback had submitted his resignation. An injured ankle which has failed to respond as it should have to treatment during the summer caused the Waban athlete to make this decision. He is an excellent hockey and baseball player as well and should have been severely injured on the gridiron this fall his loss would have been far more detrimental to the success Newton hopes to have next winter and spring than his withdrawal from football. He is to be commended for his courage and judgment in adopting the course he has taken. After all is said and done athletics are in the main intended for physical development as well as for glory and honor of one's school and an athlete is doing himself more harm in taking chances when he is making a martyr of himself for some soon-forgotten cause. Mentally Spain has the making of an excellent football player as he has shown in the past but physically he is not built for the strenuous game it always will be. He is of the so-called "brittle type" when it comes to the gridiron sport and is liable to injury on the slightest provocation. Newton can afford to lose him in football knowing his ability in hockey and baseball.

The loss of Spain was somewhat offset by the appearance of Robert Bennett at the initial practice on Wednesday. He is probably the best punter in the school and his foot will help the orange and black keep the ball in enemy territory on many occasions this fall. He also is a fair ball-carrier and is capable of making many gains around the ends as well as through the line. It would not be at all surprising to see Frank Perry holding down the regular position at quarterback. He has good football instinct, is hard-working and is fairly fast. He put on a little weight this summer which will be of much service to him. Another veteran backfield man to return is Brown, regular full-back last year. He, too, has put on weight and is of the plugging type of ball-carrier. MacIntyre and Joe Gilligan are fast shifty backs who will be seen in the halfback positions most frequently. Phil Andres and Duane backfield men on the intermediate variety last season, are out to make strong bids for berths. The former is also a good punter. Romaine Cole, one of the fastest sprinters in school, and an end on last year's eleven may be shifted to the backfield, giving Coach Sullivan two sets of backs. One a light but fast set and the other a heavy plugging type. Cole is expected to report next week.

In the line Newton is pretty well off for material although most of it consists of last year's substitutes. The regulars to return are Everett Schefflein, and Payne as ends; Hamilton and Harrington at tackle, Creighton, Gatchell at centre and Swan at guard. Shea will probably win regular guard berth this year with Stubbs not returning.

The material that Coach Sullivan has on hand looks fairly good but whether the players possess the mental ability to work together is something that will not be known for several weeks. If it is there the new Newton mentor and his assistants will bring it out. Sullivan is being assisted by Warren Blue and Donald Enoch, both faculty members of Newton high. The former will take the line candidates and the latter the ends while Sullivan will spend most of his time with the backs.

Frank Simmons of the physical education department will take the position of trainer which has been filled the past few years by Dr. Fanning.

BURR TENNIS ASSOCIATION

Plans for the annual Fall tennis tournament of the Burr Tennis Association are now under way and entry blanks have been issued. All residents of Wards 1 and 7 are eligible for membership with those under 16 years of age on May first eligible for the boys' or girls' tournaments. Silver medals will be awarded to the winners of the boys' singles, girls' singles, men's singles, women's singles, mixed doubles and men's doubles. Courts 1 and 2 are reserved for scheduled tournament matches after four o'clock every day. Entries for all tournaments except the boys' and girls' singles close tomorrow, Sept. 10th, and the latter two events close on Wednesday the 14th. Registration blanks for all tournaments may be obtained at the Burr playground or from the president of the association, Lawrence Trowbridge, 14 Hollis street.

Martin Wins and Loses

Donald Martin of Waban, former Boston University tennis captain, won his final match in the Savin Hill tournament and his semi-final in the Hatherly tennis tourney on the holiday. At Savin Hill he defeated Frank Lyons, last year's title holder in a hard-fought match. The local youth's superior steadiness enabled him to win out, 7-5, 9-7, 5-7, 7-5. At North Scituate Martin advanced to the final round in the South Shore championships at Hatherly by eliminating Edward Hastings, second seeded player, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. In the finals match the same afternoon Alden Briggs, last year's winner repeated by taking Martin into camp in a four set tilt, 6-3, 6-4, 5-7, 6-1.

Turner Brothers Win Finals

The Turner brothers, Robert and Arthur, who teamed together in the doubles tourney at Hatherly over the holiday week-end had little trouble in winning the finals. In the final match on the holiday afternoon they defeated Edward Hastings and H. G. Symonds in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

West Newton Youth Wins Finals

Fowler Pickhardt of West Newton won the finals of the junior singles tennis tourney at the Menahant Boat Club at Falmouth on Labor Day. He defeated Robert Sherman of Belmont, 6-2, 6-0. Carl Pickhardt, paired with Ned Brewer, won the men's doubles title in a three set match in which they defeated Wise and Cliff of Wellesley, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4.

Bowdoin Varsity Candidates Out

Among the candidates for the Bowdoin varsity football eleven are several former Newton high players. Robert Adams of Needham, former orange and black captain, who played an end last year on the Maine college team and Winslow Howland of Auburndale reported on Tuesday. Dan Kennedy of Chestnut Hill sent word that he would be on deck before the end of this week.

Win Father and Son Doubles

George W. Wales and son won the father and son doubles tournament at Longwood on Monday by defeating John Barton and son of Sioux City, South Dakota in two straight sets, 6-2, 7-5.

Harry Waitt Wins Onset Bay Award

Harry Waitt, driving his Miss Bourne, took the honors at Onset on Monday. He received the award of the Chamber of Commerce and Town Cup for winning the Onset Motor Boat Club mid-summer regatta series. Mrs. Waitt was second with her boat, Miss Onset, in the 16-foot class.

Gove Reaches Semi-Finals

James Gove of Newton reached the semi-finals of the Essex County singles tennis championship tournament which was played over the week-end holiday at the North Andover Country club only to be eliminated in that round by Holmes Perkins of Cambridge, Tedesco and Vermont state champion, who ultimately also won the Essex title, by scores of 6-1, 7-9.

Winrow Second in 10-Mile Race

Herbert A. Winrow of Newton Centre finished in second place in the 10-mile race on Monday under the auspices of the Lawrence J. Flaherty Post of the American League of East Boston. He was about one minute behind the winner, Tom Bury of Lynn.

McCleary Twirls Good Game

Sam McCleary, Newton High and West Newton A. C. pitcher, took the mound for the Boston Tigers at Fallon Field last Friday night and allowed the Rialto Theatre nine but two hits in a seven inning game which the colored team won by a score of 6-1. One of the two hits was a misjudged fly in the fifth inning which was retrieved too late to prevent the batter from making the circuit for the losing team's only run.

Lyons Out at Boston College

"Dandy" Lyons, former Newton high halfback, reported to Coach Leo Daley this week at the Boston College field in Chestnut Hill. He was a substitute back on last year's freshman eleven.

Crosby Breaks Course Record

Perley Crosby of Auburndale won the gross in the postponed M. G. A. medal play open tournament at the South Shore Country Club last Friday with a 72. Not only did his score win the gross for him but it also set a new course record. The local man was out in 33 and took a 39 to come home again.

Shepler in Backfield At Williams

Dwight Shepler of Newtonville is expected to make a strong bid for one of the regular backfield berths on the Williams college eleven this fall. Shepler is one of the several letter men to return to the Berkshire college.

Newton Centre Golfer Victor

Robert McKnight of Newton Centre won the club championship of the Oak Bluffs Country Club last Saturday, defeating Fred Rudd of Fall River, 2 and 1, in 36 holes. This is the third time the local man has won the championship the last time being two years ago.

Hodder Wins Maynard Open

Crowley Helping Reading

Leo Crowley, Newton Upper Falls youth and Northeastern University pitcher, has been twirling fine ball for the Reading club in the Greater Boston Twilight League recently. His work has kept the Reading club up near the top and given it the chance to tie with South Boston for second half honors. In the game with Lynn on Tuesday night Crowley allowed but five hits and fanned three. In the fourth inning he singled to score Reading's fourth run of the game and the third for that inning. Reading won by a 4 to 2 score.

NEWTON ARCHERS HOLD TOURNAMENT

The Newton Archers held an all day tournament and basket lunch on Labor Day. Archers were invited from outlying places. Some of the members, including Dr. Crouch, were not present because of a camping trip planned by the Rovers, a small archery club of men. About 15 competed in the morning and about 20 in the afternoon, at Newton Centre.

In the morning shoot A. W. Dick of Worcester easily topped all other men. Mr. Dick is a consistently good shooter and is always not far from the top in any tournament. Mr. John Preston True of Waban took second place and Mr. William McPherson of Boston took third place. Among the ladies Mrs. H. A. Bartholomae of Waban took first place. Mrs. Bartholomae is a very graceful and correct archer, and it is only lack of opportunity for practice that prevents her from being at the top more often. Mrs. John Preston True of Waban matched her husband by taking second place among the ladies, and Mrs. A. W. Dick of Worcester won third place. The awards were suitably printed blue, red and white ribbons.

In the afternoon all participated in the Cummins Cup contest and shot an American Round. This is a handicap contest. Mr. Dick also won this with an American Round score of 88 hits—553 score.

Two of the Newton Archers have seen archery in England this summer. Mrs. H. S. C. Cummings of Newton Centre and Brookline was there on her wedding trip and a spectator at a meet where she was presented with a silver mounted tassel. Mrs. G. H. Woolley of Newton Highlands was visiting the Robin Hood country with her daughter. At an archery meet Mrs. Woolley was loaned equipment so that she had the pleasure of shooting with English archers.

More Single Women

In America today there are proportionately more single women than in colonial times. This fact is believed to be due to the change in the social status of unmarried women as well as to the increased opportunities offered them for self-support.

Would Include All

Generally speaking, when a woman reforms a man she is content to devote all her efforts to one individual. Men want to make a law that will include everybody and let it go at that.

Labor Day afternoon the Myrtle Girls of the Myrtle Baptist Church and the West Newton A. C. held a joint field day at the Auburndale Playground that was largely attended. ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

We have received another very interesting letter from Mr. Wilfred A. Wetherbee of Orchard street concerning days of yore at Newton Corner. Mr. Wetherbee, who for many years has been Assistant Adjutant General of the Massachusetts G. A. R., is one of Newton's oldest native sons. He is 80 years young, and has a remarkable memory. If he possessed the time, he would render a valuable service to Newtonians of the present and the future by writing reminiscences of Newton during the latter half of the last century. His letter follows:

Newton, Aug. 30, 1927.

Dear Sir:

Your old-time picture in last week's edition of The Graphic touched a tender spot in my memory for the picture was that of the house in which I lived from November, 1853, to the fall of 1856. At that time it was occupied by three tenants—the owner, George Hall, a Mrs. Randall, who carried on dressmaking, and my own family. The house at that time was known as the Hall house, and had been occupied by George Hall, a grumpy old man in his eighties, for many years. He was nicknamed Daddy Hall by the boys, for whom he had a serous aversion. The low building which can be seen in the rear was the wood-shed for the three families. The engine house, which shows at the east end, was not erected for a long time after the date I mention. I think it was built in the late sixties or about 1870. The engine house at that time stood on the other side of the railroad on the spot where Murray's auto shop now stands. The Central House you speak of was a private residence occupied by a German physician named Dr. Birnstill. He was one of the prominent doctors of the then village. At his death the place was sold to a former well known citizen, Mr. George E. Bridges, who lived there a number of years and afterward moved to Newtonville. I am not sure but believe the next owner was George Lamson, who opened it as a hotel. I also enjoyed your picture of the old Nonantum House and stable a few weeks ago.

You made mention that it was a resort for cattle men on their way to and from Brighton cattle market and the room of interest to them was entered from the stable yard under the piazza and was patronized by the drovers almost entirely who wished to wash the dust from their throats. Abel Harrington was the owner of both the hotel and stable for many years. It was used as a summer home for many years by Boston people, prominent among whom was the well known music publisher, Oliver Ditson, who with his family spent their summers there for a long term of years. Mr. Harrington afterwards bought the Oregon House at Hull and lived there till his death. The stable passed into the hands of Theodore Leates, who afterward took as a partner Charles Ricker and a little later he became the sole proprietor and afterwards it passed into the hands of Henry Daniels.

You may not care for this enough to make mention, but as the data you gave the story only went back to 1870, I did not know but that its earlier history might be interesting to you.

Very truly yours,
WILFRED A. WETHERBEE.
A resident of Newton Corner for 80 years the 23d day of July.

The picture to which Mr. Wetherbee referred was that of the old house which formerly stood just to the west of Engine 1 house at Newton Corner.

WHO CAN HELP?

A Newton family recently bereaved by the sudden death of the husband and father can make its income stretch farther if the mother has an opportunity to make over clothing for her children. This necessitates a sewing-machine. Has some Newton family such a machine to give to a Newton family?

Also double bed with spring needed in another Newton family where three little girls, not very robust, are sleeping together in a bed only wide enough for one.

COLLEGE NEWS

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

The annual rush for education is rapidly nearing its departure, and all the neophytes along with the regulars are busy checking wardrobe wants, and figuring just what they will be able to do. It is a great adventure to the beginners, and a great change to those who have been away for the summer and now look forward to renewing the friendships made at college to give them new impetus throughout the year. That is one of the finest things that can come out of a college education: the broadening touches of a mixed crowd, and the meeting ground for the airing of opinions with the resulting stimulus for new and better ideas. Therefore as the horde of college bent boys and girls gradually disappear to their chosen studying grounds, the majority will be going in to a land of more enlightened and more diversified education.

In the early part of the month the students that get away for colleges are as a rule those that have western affiliations. Dwight Noble is heading west for De Pauw this week where he will again take up much the same sort of work that he did the other years, that of running an orchestra. Noble has been one of the best orchestra leaders around Newton, and at college he is recognized as genius when it comes to organization and the product that his organizations can turn out. On top of his musical work he is a fine student and has done great work in the musical activities of the college.

Another westerner to be is Arthur Shute of Newton Highlands who takes up his degree work at Kenyon College in the Mid West. He graduated from Newton last fall after a series of mishaps that would have discouraged the ordinary boy, and now he is continuing his plucky fight for college. He was a former manager of football, and a member of the tennis team. If his wound from the summer's set back in the shape of appendicitis will only heal sufficiently he should be able to make the tennis team at this small but excellent institution. He already has found a position at the college as a secretary and plans to work the major portion of his way through.

William Cummings, entrained for Purdue this week where he will complete his course of studies, Purdue is one of the members of the Big Ten, and a ranking college as far as scholastic standards go. Willie was one of the finest runners that the Orange and Black ever had on its track despite the fact that the jinx of injuries kept delaying him and his hopes. Given an even break in the matter of health he will show enough track ability to give Newton something to crow over in the future.

According to latest announcements Dartmouth is going to have two fine athletes matriculate at Hanover this year. Henry Johnson, one of the greatest all around athletes that the school has produced is heading toward the hills of New Hampshire while Carleton McCullough of Newton Centre is also going there. Both of these boys spent last year in prep schools, Johnson at Benschmol's in Cambridge and McCullough at Exeter. Tabor Academy has a larger Newton delegation than any of the small preparatory schools, and numbers among its members some fairly prominent athletes and students. Warren Skelton has played football, and rowed on the crew for two years. Arnold Rich holds three letters while George Chase of Waban and Robert Andrews of Newton Centre attend to the studying end of the game. This little school is splendid in its location and boasts one of the best gymnasiums in the country for a school of its size. The feature of the school is the Easter and summer trip given to men who stand well in their classes. Since it is a naval training school these trips take the shape of cruises on the water and the competition is keen to see just what boys will make these jaunts to distant parts of the country.

The rumor is abroad that Kent Allen will enter Brown University this fall from Exeter. If that is so Brown would do well to rejoice for Allen is of the finest type of college material. He is athletic without over doing the matter, and he is a student in the sense that he is keen and seizes opportunities. At Newton he was one of the most popular boys in his class, and he rated with an equal degree of affection at Exeter.

At the end of the sophomore year it is customary for a number of student to drop out of their chosen institution because they feel the call to work is more pressing than the call to study. This has been the case since colleges were founded and this year one of the Newton boys has left to take up work in Boston. Hamilton Oakes of Bowdoin is not going back this year because he feels that he would do better at a steady job instead of spending the next two years at the books.

Evelyn Hatch has left for France where she is taking up the interchange course that Smith College offers to those with a high enough standing in French to warrant such a trip. In order to earn the right to go to the Sorbonne to study Evelyn had to obtain very high marks as well as prove her worth in the French language. They spend the Junior year at the colleges of France and then come back to graduate at Smith. In this way they all gain a broader education, and at the same time have an opportunity to understand different methods of teaching the various subjects since their curriculum is changed very little from what it is in the United States save that it is taught in French instead of English.

She worked for several years in the Harvard College Library and attended the kindergarten training school of the Misses Weston and Garland. She later established a kindergarten school at Newport, Rhode Island.

In 1886 she graduated from the Boston University Medical School and then practiced for several years in Waterbury and Middletown, Connecticut, and at Chicago. She later came to Newtonville where she had an extensive practice until her retirement in 1918. She is survived by a brother, Dr. Charles H. Taft of Cambridge. EDITORIAL

Our readers need not worry over immediate action on the three initiatives which are being mentioned in the Boston papers. The actual vote on these matters, if it ever goes to a popular vote, will take place in November, 1928. These petitions refer to sports on Sunday for which an admission fee may be charged, to making Armistice Day a legal holiday, and to express the wish of the voters on the Eighteenth Amendment. The petitions must be signed by 20,000 voters, and if so signed will come before the next session of the Legislature. If the Legislature acts favorably on any of them and it is approved by the Governor, no further action is necessary. If the Legislature, as now seems likely, will refuse to approve any of these matters, the question so refused will be placed on the ballot at the November, 1928, election, provided 5000 additional signatures are secured to the petition or petitions.

We shall keep our readers fully advised on these questions, as we believe the voters of Newton are opposed to all three.

Another accident at the corner of Centre and Church streets further emphasizes the position taken by the Graphic that the hedge at that corner is a menace to life and property.

School days will begin once more next Monday, with a new and commodious school building, the Levi F. Warren Junior High School, added to the splendid educational plant which the city possesses.

Al Douglas of the Campbell Hardware Company thinks the hedge alongside the Newton Opera House on Pearl street should be trimmed. Al was walking on Pearl street the other night when he met George Wright, the rotund baker. According to Douglas, George Wright occupied at least half the width of the sidewalk, which seems probable, and the hedge occupied the other half of the sidewalk's width. So Al had to step into the gutter until George passed by. There are other hedges in Newton besides the one at the Opera House which need trimming because they are growing out over sidewalks.

The dean of Newton's professional men, Dr. Arthur Hudson, spent his 81st birthday at his summer home in Meganset. Though over four score years of age, Dr. Hudson is still actively engaged in his professional duties as chemist and bacteriologist. He has faithfully served the people of Newton and vicinity for over 50 years, and his legion of friends wish many more years added to his long and honorable career.

We have been asked to call attention to two matters. One is the menace to pedestrians using the west side of Centre street at the railroad bridge at Newton Corner. Because of repairs to the bridge, the west sidewalk is closed to foot traffic, and pedestrians must walk on the street. Automobiles parked near the bridge add to the hazard. The second complaint made to us is in regard to the lessened car service on the Boston Elevated between Newton and Boston. The person making this complaint states "that since the employees of the Boston Elevated have been granted the six day workweek, cars do not run so frequently between Newton and Boston. This less frequent service results in longer waits and crowded cars."

Matter of History

Confirmed by Coin

Coins do more than throw corroborative light on historical events. In some cases they actually supply data missing in the records which would otherwise remain in the limbo of forgotten things.

There is an old tradition of the Christian church, for instance, that the Apostle Thomas, familiarly known as Doubting Thomas, went to India as a missionary. The Apocrypha contains a book known as the "Acts of St. Thomas," in which is revealed how the disciple converted one Gonda pharnee, King of India, to Christianity. As far as history can tell us, no such King of India ever lived. But in 1838 coins were found in northwestern India bearing the name Gondapharnee. Thus the tradition was corroborated and the apocryphal book found to contain the truth.

Shortly afterward other coins of the same period were discovered, lacking the name, but bearing a new inscription. This time it was "Great Saviour, King of Kings." No numismatist will go so far as to declare that this inscription refers to the king's conversion, but it may very likely be so.—Crawford Wyman in the Saturday Evening Post.

Pumice Deposits Due to Volcanic Activity

Nebraska possesses extraordinary deposits of pumice. Virtually the whole state is overlaid by natural deposits of this substance, in all stages of consolidation, from fairly solid rock to the finest dust.

Pumice is a volcanic product, and its presence in such large quantities in Nebraska and some adjoining states is taken to be evidence of former volcanic activity in that region. It is produced by the rapid expansion of gases in lava, due to sudden release of pressure, which either forms a very light, porous rock or may completely shatter the lava into dust, in which state it may be transported great distances by wind and deposited in drifts.

In the western portion of Nebraska there are impure masses of it, probably deposited in this way, 100 feet or more in depth. Nearly all the pumice or the volcanic ash used in the United States is made into polishing powder or incorporated in abrasive soap. Other uses are the manufacture of semi-fluid filling brick or mineral wool or cement and of a cheap kind of glass.

Literary Anecdote

There was nothing that James Whitcomb Riley liked better than a cup of weak tea. Once when he and Edgar Wilson (Bill) Nye were eating chocolate soldiers after an arduous evening of lecturing, the talk turned to fame. "The keystone of every famous author's glory is one character," said Nye. "Shakespeare achieved fame through inventing the character of Falstaff. Dickens is deservedly well known for his Samuel Weller. Thackeray created Becky Sharp. Now then, Mr. Riley, from what character of your invention did you obtain your reputation?"

"I got it Orphan Annie," answered Riley, who had not had more than three cups of diluted tea since dinner time.—Akron Beacon-Journal.

Important in Commerce

"Ranicle" is the name of a fiber-producing plant and of the fiber produced thereby. The fiber is one of the strongest and finest known. The plant is widely grown in China, more or less in India and has been grown in California on a small scale. From China and India it is exported to various countries of Europe and to the United States. The fiber is employed in the manufacture of nets, cordage, gas mantles, underwear, canvas, dress goods, etc., and for embroideries. Some of the woven fabrics composed of it closely resemble those made of flax linen in various characteristics, including appearance.

Elephants That Burn

Mixed metaphors are not by any means uncommon. Sometimes they are merely inept; occasionally they are ludicrous. In England the other day the Salford city council emitted a gem.

The question under municipal debate was whether Salford wanted to have an exhibition hall. There seems to have been a considerable difference of opinion. Said one speaker:

"I do not want the council to get their fingers burnt with a white elephant!"

Presidents for a Day

In March, 1849, the United States had three successive Presidents on as many successive days. James A. Polk ended his term March 3. President-elect Zachary Taylor refused to be inaugurated on Sunday, and he did not take office until March 5. As neither administration was in office, David Rice Atchison of Kentucky, president pro tem, of the senate served in the interim.

Appropriated Motto

"Ich dien" is a German phrase, meaning literally "I serve." It was originally the motto of John, the blind king of Bohemia, who served in the army of the king of France and was slain in the battle of Crecy, 1346. The victorious English army was led by Edward the Black Prince, who appropriated the motto, which since that time has been the motto of the prince of Wales.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The Graphic two weeks ago credited or accused us of being on a ten-days' trip to Canada. We did not enter this privilege. The nearest we got to Canada was Augusta, Me. And there is some difference between Maine and Canada, at least in one respect. In journeying to Maine we travelled on the far-famed Atlantic Coast Highway. Just beyond Portsmouth, N. H., we learned that the State of Maine is reconstructing several miles of this highway. It will be a wonderful piece of highway when it is finished. But it is an awful stretch of road to drive over now. Just why the State officials of Maine allowed five or more miles of road to be in an almost impassable condition during the season of heaviest traffic is something that tens of thousands of motorists would like to know. One mile of road such as this is enough to negotiate at one time.

While we were on our vacation we visited Paris. Not the famous city on the Seine, which is being visited by thousands of members of the American Legion, but Paris, Maine. In company with Mr. William A. Sprout, we were travelling from Farmington to reach Bridgton. The road map showed that if we wished to enjoy a first class highway we must journey by a round-about-way to Auburn and then back to Norway. Desiring to avoid such a long route, we inquired of a native at Livermore Falls if the road leading from North Turner via Buckfield to Paris, is a good road. He assured us that it is. So we suggested to Mr. Sprout, who was driving, that he take this road which he did. It was a good dirt road until Buckfield was reached. At that town we inquired the best way to reach Paris, and we were instructed to take the road over the mountain. The family followed, and the mountain road was taken. The grade of this road was all that could be desired to test the power of the motor, and the condition of the road all that could be asked to test the strength of the chassis.

How to Play BRIDGE

ARTICLE No. 22

The writer has frequently called attention in these articles to the modern tendency to bid a suit, rather than no-trump, if the hand contains a singleton or void suit. The matter of distribution has become an important point in modern bidding as the cards themselves, and no good player bids no-trump on high cards only. In addition to the high cards, he must also have a favorable distribution. If he hasn't, he prefers the suit bid to no-trump. One type of hand that always works out better at a suit bid than no-trump is the one that contains three four card suits and a singleton. The following is a good example:

Hearts — A, J, 8, 4
Clubs — A, K, 10, 7
Diamonds — 7
Spades — A, 8, 5, 4

With this hand as dealer, bid one club and if your partner bids one no-trump, bid two hearts. It is a perfect example of the type of hand that plays better at a suit bid than no-trump.

There is another type of hand where the suit bid is preferable to the no-trump. In the following hand:

Hearts — A, 7
Clubs — A, K, 9
Spades — Q, 10, 7, 6, 5, 4

the proper bid is one spade, not one no-trump. Here is another example:

Hearts — K, 10, 9, 8, 6, 4
Clubs — A, K, 5
Diamonds — none
Spades — A, J, 10, 7

The proper bid is one heart, not one no-trump. Avoid the latter bid if the hand contains a singleton or void suit. Here are two hands that illustrate another principle that should be thoroughly understood. Suppose your partner bid one spade, second hand passed and you held the following hand:

Hearts — A, K, 10, 7, 6
Clubs — 10, 7, 6
Diamonds — 9, 8, 4, 3
Spades — A

Would you bid two hearts or pass? You should bid two hearts by all means. The singleton spade is a danger point, even though it is the ace. Never pass your partner's bid when you have a singleton of his suit, unless you have a worthless hand and no justifiable bid of your own.

The other hand is of a different type but illustrates the same principle. Suppose your partner bids one heart, second hand passes, what is your proper bid with the following hand?

Clubs — J, 4
Diamonds — 10, 6, 2
Spades — A, K, 10, 7, 3

You should bid one spade. So many players bid four card suits nowadays that you should not lose a chance to show the other major suit, even with three little cards of your partner's suit. Such a bidding is of real support for a four card suit. With three to an honor or four or more of your partner's suit you should pass. The modern theory of bidding is to give accurate information whenever possible and these hands are good illustrations.

Hearts — Q, 8, 7, 4
Clubs — K, 5
Diamonds — K, 9, 7, 6, 4
Spades — Q, 3

: Y :
: A : B :
: Z :

Hearts — A
Clubs — J, 10, 9, 6, 4, 2
Diamonds — A, 10, 5
Spades — K, 10, 4

No score, first game. Z dealt and bid one club, a sound bid even if Z doesn't hold top clubs. He has enough outside strength to justify the bid. A and Y passed and B bid one spade. Z bid two clubs and all passed. A opened the seven of spades. Y played the trey, B the ace and Z the four. B then led back the spades, Y winning the trick with the queen. How should Z so plan the play that he can make game if the cards are divided a certain way? The only possible way for Y-Z to make game in this hand is to find the singleton queen of clubs and the queen, jack of diamonds alone in the hands of either opponent. If that is true, Z should lead the king of clubs at trick three. If this lead drops the singleton queen of clubs, Y-Z will only lose one club trick. Then if either A or B has the queen, jack of diamonds alone, Y-Z will not lose a diamond trick. In this way and in this way only, can Y-Z score game. It is an interesting hand because the cards were just as supposed and Z made game by playing as indicated.

ROTARY CLUB

The meeting of the Rotary Club of Newton this week was held on Wednesday at the Woodland Golf Club instead of on Monday on account of the holiday. It was a joint meeting with members of the Waltham club and President Judge Gibbs of Waltham and President Cecil Clark of Newton presided.

The chief guest and speaker was Frank Appleton, a member of the Boston club and a director of the Wadsworth Howland Co. His subject was the "Manufacture of Paint" and he illustrated his talk with three reels of very interesting moving pictures which showed the process of the making of paint from beginning to end.

Several of the members of the local club have returned from their summer vacations and extended trips. Twenty-seven Rotarians and Rotary-ans have made reservations for the annual convalescence at Poland Spring.

Large Plant in Wilderness

A large hydro-electric plant in Searsburg, Vt., located far in the wilderness, regulates itself without human aid. It is wholly automatic in control and if serious trouble arises in its mechanism, it shuts down and stays shut down until experts make things right again. It has a capacity of 6,500-horse power.

To Tame a Husband.

A lecturer says that wives should tame their husbands by feeding them on lettuce and prunes. Nonsense—a diet like that would drive any man wild in a week.—Tacoma Ledger.

ANNUAL K. OF C. ELECTION HELD

The annual election of officers of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, was held on Tuesday night in Elks Hall. The officers elected for the 1927-1928 term are John J. Monahan, Grand Knight; Charles E. Coyne, Deputy Grand Knight; John O'Donnell, Chancellor; Daniel F. Quinn, Recorder; George W. Linnehan, Treasurer; William J. Geegan, advocate; Thomas F. Foley, Warden; Edward C. White, Inside Guard; James J. Matthews, Outside Guard; John A. Dutton, Delegate to State Convention. Edward J. Kivell, Charles E. Coyne, John J. FitzPatrick, John M. FitzGerald and William J. Geegan were elected as directors of the Home Association for three years.

John J. Monahan, the Grand Knight elect, is a well known member of the Newton police department, and has been prominently identified with the organization for nearly 30 years. Charles E. Coyne, elected Deputy Grand Knight, is connected with the advertising department of the Filene Company, and has been one of the most active members of Newton Council for several years.

Church Designs Studied

Modern religious thought and new economic conditions are bringing about a demand for a change in church conditions and as a result several of the leading denominations have named a special committee to study designs best suited for small or medium-sized congregations. The object is to find the economic value, if possible, in a more liberalized church architecture.

Men of Genius Often in Pessimistic Mood

Some authors have had a sudden revulsion of feeling, usually brought on by overwork, and have condemned everything they ever wrote. Lord Byron flew into a rage one day and ordered his publishers to destroy all of his poems they had in hand. Those in bookstores he tried to forestall from literary channels by the process of buying every volume he could find but found the expense prohibitive.

John Ruskin, the English author, artist and social reformer, had a similar morbidly overcome him while sitting for his portrait, a writer in the Kansas City Times recalls. Turning suddenly to Dante Gabriel Rossetti, for whom he was posing, he declared he had lost all faith in revealed religion, that he regarded all he had already written as trash, that he should write nothing for some years (one biographer says ten), and that he should then vigorously pull to pieces all his previous writings.

It is a fact that nearly all of Ruskin's best books were written prior to the time of this alleged change of opinion. 1862, but he published at least two well known works as soon thereafter as 1865, when "Sesame and Lilies" appeared, and in 1885-9, when "Praeterita" saw the light. A preface to a book in 1871 gave the first public intimation of his revised ideals.

"Common" Prayer Book Didn't Suit Occasion

The late E. C. Dewitt, who died unknown in New York worth $85,000, did not believe in climbing. He said one day to a New York reporter: "Climbers are always coarse and stupid. A Sioux City climber decided to turn Episcopalian, for all the bang-up people in town went to the Episcopalian church."

"So he visited a bookstore and asked for the hymnals, Bibles and other literature he would need in his new faith."

"The salesman laid a pile of black-bound books before him, and as he read the titles he seemed well enough pleased till he came to the last title of all, the Book of Common Prayer. This volume he handed back to the salesman with a shake of the head."

"This'll hardly do, brother," he said. "Ain't ye got nothin' a little more selecter?"—Minneapolis Tribune.

Moslem Pilgrim Rites

Pious Moslems who make the pilgrimage to Mecca go seven times round the Kaaba, or tomb of the prophet, reciting prayers and reverently kissing the Black Stone. They then proceed to the sacred spring of Zem-Zem, which is said to be the fountain of life. There each pilgrim dips into the water two white shirts held together by strings (no pins are permitted for that purpose). These garments must be dried in the court of the mosque, and afterward are laid aside as the burial clothes of their owners. According to tradition a shroud that has been soaked in the water of Zem-Zem will protect its wearer against the fiery heat of the Last Judgment.

To End Church Debt

Amos Skinner had never done any real work; instead, he had tried to invent something that would bring him a fortune.

Meeting an old friend, he rushed up to him, greatly excited. "I've got it at last!" he shrieked. "Made my fortune, sure as eggs!"

"What is it this time?" asked his friend. "Just a little device," said Skinner, "but it will bring me millions. Every church in the country'll buy one. You see, it's a collecting box with different slots for different coins. All silver money falls on velvet, while copper drops on a big bell!"

Chinese Legend

The legend of the Chinese willow plate design is the love story of Li Chi, the only daughter of a mandarin, and Chang, her father's secretary, who lived in an island cottage at the top of the plate. When the mandarin forbade the match the lovers eloped and lay concealed for a time in the gardener's cottage, from there escaping to the lover's home. The father, pursuing them with a whip, would have beaten them to death had not the gods changed them into turtle doves. At the time of the elopement, the willow shed its leaves.

Birds' Food Important

Choice of food by a bird usually is the most important factor in its relation to man. One of the reasons for importing the sparrow was to have it eat dropworm, a shade-tree pest which spun down its silken threads among pedestrians. The dropworm is no longer a pest in cities, and entomologists give sparrows the credit. Not only this pest but almost every injurious insect we have is eaten at times by this ubiquitous alien.

Displaying the Flag

The Shenandoah method of displaying the American flag is as follows: A hole is placed in the curb and plugged when not in use. A flagstaff is erected 14 feet 6 inches and the diameter at the base is 1 3/4 inches. A weather-proof American flag, size 4 by 6 feet, is put up. These flagstaffs are always placed near the curb line near the pavement and the gutter and are 122 feet apart.

RESUME SERVICES IN SECOND CHURCH

Services will be resumed at the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, next Sunday morning at 10:45 a. m., when there will be the regular service of worship followed by the Communion service. This will be the first occasion when the new minister of the Second Church, Rev. Boynton Merrill, will preach and officiate since his coming to Newton. Mr. Merrill has been for six years the associate minister of the Old South Church in Boston and so comes as no stranger, but there is widespread interest in his coming to the pulpit left vacant by the departure of Rev. J. Edgar Park, D.D., to the presidency of Wheaton College. Mr. Merrill is not ready yet to announce any of the possible plans of the church, but assurance is felt that the services of worship at the Second Church will remain unchanged, as the new leader is a sincere believer in the form of worship which has grown into beauty and proven its strength under the gifted leadership of Dr. Park and Mr. William Lester Bates, the organist and choir director of the Second Church. The full choir will not be used the first Sunday, but will be assembled in the near future.

Mr. Robert L. Underwood, for three years associated with Dr. Park, and during the last year carrying the full weight of the administration of the church, has, to the regret of all the membership of the Second Church, left for a pastorate of his own and will be succeeded by Mr. Frank H. Grebe. Mr. Grebe is a graduate of the School of Religious Education of Boston University and has, for two years, been Director of Religious Education in Union Church, Boston. There is great satisfaction felt by all who know Mr. Grebe that he has decided to associate himself with Mr. Merrill in the well established and swiftly expanding work of the church at West Newton, which has always laid great stress on the care and education of its children. The church school will begin its regular sessions on Sept. 18, but parents may bring their children for enrollment this coming Sunday, Sept. 11, when teachers and officers will be in attendance.

LOCAL MARINE RETURNS FROM CHINA

Mare Island, Calif., Sept.—Louis F. MacLennan of Newton, Mass., is one of a group of U. S. Marines who arrived at this post recently after a period of duty in China. He made the trip home from Shanghai aboard the U. S. S. Chaumont which brought back men whose enlistments are due to expire shortly.

Large numbers of U. S. Marines have been on duty in the Far East since early last February, when the advance of the Cantonese forces endangered the lives and property of Americans in Shanghai. The local boy will no doubt have many interesting experiences to recount of his stay in China.

Louis is 23 years old and was born in Newton. He lived at the home of his father, Duncan, MacLennan, 11 Charlesbank road, Newton, before he joined the Marine Corps at Boston, in November, 1923. MacLennan will probably be stationed at some Marine Corps post in the United States for the remainder of his enlistment.

NEWTON SCHOOLS

Classical High was intended to be ready for use on the school opening, but owing to the lateness of appropriations being granted for this work and the very severe weather conditions, the tunnel will not be ready for school use until the latter part of September or the first of October. This tunnel when completed will cost $50,000, and will be equipped to take care of two way traffic by two 7 foot passage ways protected with smoke screens to eliminate any danger of room, vacuum cleaner room, coal storage, boys' toilets, girls' toilets.

The kindergarten with separate entrance and loggia, alcove, toilets and storerooms is on the first floor. The kindergarten is also provided with folding doors with blackboards on each side so that, when desirable, the room may be divided into three smaller rooms. Adjacent to the main entrance vestibule is the principal's office with waiting room, storage and private toilet. Nearby is located the nurse's room. The rest of this floor, including the space over assembly hall in that wing, contains class rooms, boys' toilets, girls' toilets, book

smoke passing from one building to another should a fire occur.

This tunnel also connects the Classical High School heating and electric systems with the power plant and will eliminate using the boilers in the Classical High. The entire three school buildings will be run and controlled wholly from the central power plant in the Technical High School building, making a great saving in labor, fuel and maintenance.

New Chestnut Hill School

Plans have been prepared and contracts let for a school in the Chestnut Hill district, to be located on Dolphin road, off Ward street and Waverley and other storage, cleaners' closets, etc. Between two of the class rooms a folding door partition is provided so that, when desirable, the partition may be folded back against the walls and the two rooms used as one large room.

On the second floor are class rooms, between two of which is a folding door partition similar to the one on the first floor, teachers' room with private toilet, boys' toilets, girls' toilets, cleaners' closet, etc. All class rooms in the building have built in wardrobes opening into class rooms.

This building is to cost, including the grading of the entire lot properly fenced off to separate it from that this school will cost less than $150,000.

The extreme urgency of adequate housing for the school children of Newton Lower Falls not only forces action on the part of the school authorities but also gives our city an opportunity to create a type of structure rather different, in some respects, from that which has hitherto prevailed in our local school design. The children of this growing section have been forced to attend school in an antiquated wooden structure whose safety for its purpose will continue, until its replacement is effected, to be the cause of extraordinary apprehension on the part of those responsible.

In the first place, the new Hamilton School is to be built upon a part of one of the city's playgrounds, most favored perhaps of any of our playgrounds in its extent, its location, its high well-drained land, its beautiful shade trees, and its other natural advantages. That sufficient land should be thus available without cost to the municipality, to combine the closely related functions of the indoor and outdoor schools of our youth is to the last degree salutary. It is in complete accord with the most advanced ideas of what this relationship between organized training of the intellect and organized physical development and play should be.

In the second place, it is to be built one story only, in height conforming to the accepted theory behind the bungalow type of design where there are no stairs to be climbed by either teacher or pupil for the interchange of classes or for any other of the usual school functions. The hazard of both fire and panic is thereby minimized and substantial economies in the structural scheme made at once available to lighten the burden of the taxpayer.

The general ground plan is shaped like a large U surrounding all but the south side of a generous sunny play court. The kindergarten unit with its large bays of windows is in the easterly wing opening directly upon this sunny enclosure and everyone of the other ten classrooms of the completed structure receives direct sunlight during the school hours.

In appointments the rooms conform with recognized school standards as to size, lighting, ventilation and furnishing, not unlike all other recent Newton school buildings.

Two groups of two classrooms each face the south court on either side of the central south entrance, two more face east in the wing with the kindergarten unit and four more similar rooms face west in the westerly wing.

On the northerly side of a direct corridor between classrooms combine to make

Wilson MacKay of Warwick road, West Newton, was fined $100 in the Newton Court on Wednesday for driving while under the influence of liquor. On the same day David Weber of Wrentham was fined $10 for driving without a license, and $75 for driving after his license had been revoked.

Edward T. Callahan of 69 Gilbert street, Framingham, was in court on Tuesday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until September 15. Charles Hogan of Framingham, who was arrested with Callahan, on the technical charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, because Callahan had no license, was found not guilty.

Walter Blakeley of 29 Lincoln street, Watertown, was in the Newton Court on Friday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, and with driving after his license had been suspended. His case was continued until September 9.

Raimond Lombardi of Arsenal street, Watertown, reported to the police Tuesday that an automobile tire had been stolen from his car while it was parked opposite 295 Fuller street, West Newton.

The police have learned the identity of the persons in the roadster which was wrecked at Oak Hill on Monday night. The car was driven by William Dobbins of Weymouth, the woman who was riding with him, and who was injured when the roadster crashed over an embankment was Louise Porter of Hemenway street, Boston. Her injuries were not serious. Dobbins was ordered to pay for 40 feet of fence which was demolished when his car crashed through.

avenue, to be known as the John Ward School. The building was designed by James H. Ritchie & Associates. It is of Tudor style of architecture, of red antique brick, stone trim, granite steps and buttresses, slate and tar and gravel roofs. The plan of the structure is oblong with a small assembly hall and kindergarten wing. It is of fireproof construction throughout with the exception of the roof.

On the ground floor is located the assembly hall with a seating capacity of 300. On this floor also there is a boys' play room, girls' play room, boiler room, storage room, switchboard the golf course, giving the girls and boys independent play fields, the sum of $250,000. It will be one of the most modern and attractive school houses in the country. It will be completed and ready for use on September 1, 1928.

Proposed New Construction — New Hamilton School at Newton Lower Falls

Plans are now under way for this structure, being prepared by the firm of Henry & Richmond of Boston, successors to Guy Lowell. It is hoped, if appropriations are granted, that this building will be ready for the spring term of school, 1928. It is estimated cut-off or inadequate exit facilities physically impossible.

The natural slope of the site toward the north permits copious lighting of the basement area without any material cost for grading and without lifting the building out of grade, for basement lighting purposes, at the expense of increased cubic content. Taking advantage of this simple physical condition readily permits the equipment of the basement for joint use by the school and playground at a minimum cost. A large, well lighted and comfortably high room for play in inclement weather is thus made possible and toilet facilities for the play-

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

The next time you are walking through the village square (and this goes for any part of Newton) just look down at the curbstones, preferably those that have been in position for a good many years. You can find them, for although we may have new buildings here and there we still have the same old sidewalks.

Now before you start out, let me tell you what you may expect to find. Nothing wonderful, nothing astounding—just a symbol of the days gone by. A relic of the past, and not the distant past, but those days before there were automobiles, or at least automobiles in large numbers; when there were no traffic rules to remember and no signs and signals to be obeyed for fear the police might take you in charge.

I refer to the days when there were horses and wagons and buggies and carriages. When a person drove into the village and hitched his horse, or the grocer or butcher had his delivery wagon standing in front of his place of business. I suppose that was really parking, but who ever heard of the word in that connection? In fact, did we ever use the word? However, that isn't what I'm driving at—no pun intended.

You see, there used to be hitching posts and before that horse-sheds. But congestion and other things caused the horse-sheds to be abandoned and hitching posts were in the way and so something else had to be devised. And it is that which I think you may find in certain places today if you will take a sharp look at the curbing. The rings that were cemented into the granite and which were used when one had a horse that wouldn't stand.

There were various ways in which these rings could be employed. Sometimes the reins were drawn through them and deftly tied. Sometimes a weight was attached to the bridle and the rope run through the rings. At other times there was a rope tied to both the ring and the horse's bridle. Any of these worked well, for Dobbin was pretty certain to refrain from trying to pull up the sidewalk.

Maybe you are going to find it difficult to locate one of these rings with automobiles parked closely to the curb. But take a look anyway and tell the youngsters how many of these rings there used to be and how often you stubbed your toe on them. We're still a village, after all, and as long as we preserve the village spirit we'll be just as well off to my way of thinking.

A thoughtful friend made a gift to me of an interesting volume which deals with the early days of Newton. Under the caption, "Life in the New Settlement," I find, "The life of these earliest adventures was a strange mixture of privation and luxury, superstitions, vagaries and practical activities." A curious paternal government resulted. Men were set in the bilboes for finding fault with the acts of the Court. Non-attendance at town meetings was punishable by a fine. As the petty business of government became more exacting, Townsmen (Selectmen) were chosen, with full authority during the intervals between the town meetings. The Townsmen met "every second Monday" of the month, and for their noon meal the town provided "an eight penny ordinary." It was ordered that "Whoever of the Townsmen fails to be present with in half an hour of the ringing of the bell (which shall be half an hour after eleven of the clock) he shall both lose his dinner, and pay a pint of sack (sherry) of ye value, to the present Townsmen; and the like penalty shall be paid by any that shall depart from ye rest with out leave."

That isn't half as astonishing as these "Settlers" were at first compelled to live within half a mile of the meeting house. To exclude unorthodox settlers, land must not be sold to newcomers without permission from the town. Strangers must not be harbored over night; in 1655 Reynold Bush was fined twenty shillings for entertaining his own son, lately immigrated, and the son was also fined.

Twenty shillings for "coming as an inhabitant into the town without the leave of the townsmen". The conduct of young and old was alike subject to official control.

How times have changed in Newton!

Continuing, the volume says, "The General Court passed elaborate summary laws against the wearing of finery, such as coats slashed more than once, or laced cloaks. Rev. John Eliot declared that 'it is luxurious feminine prolixity for men to wear their hair long' and Rev. Mr. Cotton objected to veils, because when 'not by the custom of the place a sign of woman's subjection, they were not commanded by the apostle'.

"Every child sent to tend cattle or goats must spend the time learning to spin or in some other useful occupation." "The public use of tobacco was forbidden; officers were appointed to catechise the youth of the town, to keep them in order during divine service, to see that all young men were attached to some godly and responsible household, to prevent excessive drinking. Precautions of every sort were imposed by law. It was forbidden to carry fire-coals from one house to another except in covered dishes; to smoke in the fields (whether because smoking tended to slothfulness, or was liable to start disastrous fires is not recorded).

"Citizens were fined if they did not attend meeting; if they did not keep up their fences; if their hogs went unringed; if their dogs got the habit of pulling the tails of cattle; if they cut wood in the lands without permission or if they sold waste-land outside of the town."

Raising cattle to be shipped south for labor or for food was one of most profitable occupations. "Cows were sent across the river to graze on Nonantum Hill and Newtonville Plain," says the book. "At one time they were kept by a cow-herd named William Patten, who lodged there continually (with every other Sunday off) for twenty pounds a season (he, of course, was fined if he let one go astray); but in 1547 the town made a bargain with Chief Waban, who kept a hundred and twenty cattle through the season for eight pounds, six and a half of which were paid in corn."

When I read of the 35 years of continuous employment of a chief clerk of one of the departments at City Hall it occurred to me it has been Newton's good fortune to have a large number of efficient and faithful employees who have been in municipal service for an extended period. Frequently we read or hear of an individual who has been engaged in a single trade, profession or business for a long time. It is apt to strike us as remarkable. To me it is not half as interesting when someone in private business remains at the same work year in and year out as it is in public service. There is usually far greater remuneration in private enterprises.

That point, however, is debatable, perhaps, but here's one thing that isn't: Newton is not afflicted with unfortunate conditions that beset some neighboring cities. We do not have politicians eager to "land" a constituent in a soft berth and for whom room must be made in an already overcrowded department. That state of affairs does exist even in places within a single square of Newton. "Payroll patriots" are part of the local government of more than one city in Massachusetts, but Newton has been blessed in that it carries none on its books. The good people of Newton, who have never witnessed some of the "raw" things that are done in larger places, would be amazed. I am sure, if they knew that all kinds of impossible jobs are invented for the sake of "placing" an applicant. It isn't a case of finding work for a man but finding an excuse for putting his name on the salary list. An outrage, you say. Just the same it is not uncommon.

I have observed in more than one city other than Newton certain plain evasions of the civil service and examples of down-right dishonesty, due to political scheming. The taxpayer bears the burden and as he knows nothing of it he seldom complains. The trick of over-manning a department is as ancient as it is illegal. Again we in Newton should thank our lucky stars that we don't descend to such practices; that we have a corps of faithful officials whose principles are high and who do their utmost to earn their pay. May we be permitted to enjoy this good fortune for many years to come.

If I could have my way I should add to the list of major criminal offences the stuffing of mail boxes and mail chutes in office buildings with letters and pamphlets entirely too large for the aperture. This, to me, is one of the greatest nuisances imposed on the public. The worst of it is the chief offenders are otherwise law-abiding citizens whose honesty, piety and general good behavior remains unquestioned.

Somehow or other there are men and women who seem to think that letter boxes and mail chutes are made of rubber. They do not hesitate, even on Sunday afternoons, to try to jam some big fat envelope into a small slide. The result is that the whole works are gummed-up.

In office buildings I have seen the mail chute put out of commission for a day or two through the thoughtlessness of some dumb-bell. Often it is an office boy or girl who has been told to take the letter down to the mail box on the first floor. Instead they think they will save time and spare themselves, incidentally fooling the boss, by dumping everything into the chute.

Well, so it goes, or at least doesn't go and there is a pretty picture. But that isn't all. Letter carriers are not above ramming a mail box or front-door mail slide full of mail matter. I have seen magazines doubled and twisted for the purpose of thrusting them through the slide or into the box. Sometimes the things are torn, but that doesn't make any apparent difference.

You are saying, "What are you going to do about it?" My answer is—Make Frank A. Goodwin Postmaster General. He'll put a stop to it.

For punishment I would make offenders sit down and write letters to themselves until they became weary of looking at their own name.

POLICE NEWS

Motorcycle Officer John J. Murphy recovered a Dodge roadster Tuesday night in the woods at the end of Edinboro street. The machine had been stolen in Waltham from Edward Bradley of Lincoln street, that city.

Last Friday the Needham police captured six men who were unloading Canadian ale from a carload of "hay" on the railroad siding at Needham Heights. One of the men gave the name of Roderick D. MacLean of 251 Webster street, Newton. In the Needham Court on Wednesday morning, MacLean and another of the six, Harry Metzger of Beach street, Revere, each was fined $200 to pay the fines they tendered $1000 bill. The clerk of the court had some job endeavoring to break the bill. The two were then taken to Boston to be arraigned before the Federal Court for illegal transportation of liquor.

William L. Jarvis of Newton Centre was arrested at Middleboro on Monday charged with reckless driving. The sedan he was operating had crashed into a small coupe, swerved in front of another car, and eight persons had received light injuries from the triple collision.

Monday night as Albert Osgood of Jamaica Plain was driving his sedan on Brookline street, Oak Hill, a roadster came out of Dudley road, side-swiped Osgood's car and then plunged through a fence and down a steep embankment. The roadster was occupied by a man and a woman and the latter was rendered unconscious by the crash. Osgood assisted her companion in carrying her onto the street where a passing automobile conveyed her and her escort away. The wrecked car was registered in the name of William Dobbins, 27 Front street, Weymouth.

Michael Totaro of 286 Watertown street, Nonantum, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction and fined $100 for maintaining a liquor nuisance, and fined $50 for making an illegal sale of liquor, in the Newton Court on Tuesday. Totaro's house was raided on the night of August 13, at which time the police seized 49 gallons of wine and 12 gallons of beer there. Edward O'Brien of Dorchester, a spotter employed by the police testified that he had purchased liquor from Totaro on July 28. Totaro and his wife denied ever having seen O'Brien and the defendant testified that the alleged wine was vinegar. The beer, he claimed, was for the use of himself and his family. He appealed the sentence and the fines.

Philip Vahey of Curve street, Natick, was fined $75 in the Newton Court last Friday for driving while under the influence of liquor, and given a suspended sentence of 30 days to the House of Correction. He was also ordered to pay $75 damages to the owner of the car with which he collided. Vahey thought this amount exorbitant, but agreed to settle. James Corlies of Winthrop avenue, Newton, was brought into the Newton Court on Saturday and committed to the House of Correction for three months to serve a suspended sentence imposed some months ago. He had just completed serving a sen-

CITY PENSIONS

Alderman Hinckley Points Out Many Inequalities in Present System and Urges Study of Problem

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, a communication was received from Mayor Childs requesting the aldermen to appoint a committee to study the matter of pensions paid by the City of Newton to certain classes of employees, and to appropriate money to permit an investigation of this matter. The aldermen voted to comply with the Mayor's request, and a committee will be appointed by President Weeks.

Alderman Benjamin S. Hinckley of Ward 7 told the Board that he had submitted a lengthy memorandum to Mayor Childs on Sept. 8th, which was probably responsible for the request made by his Honor. Mr. Hinckley believes that the present pension systems of Newton are unfair because they are non-contributory (with the exception of the teachers' pensions), apply only to special groups, and are not administered on a sound economic basis. They are unfair in that they do not include employees just as worthy as those to whom pensions are given.

According to Mr. Hinckley's views, "the arguments against a non-contributory system far outweigh the arguments in favor of such a system. The non-contributory system does not encourage thrift—does not instill in a man the responsibility of saving to protect his old age—is apt to be extended and frequently altered to favor the beneficiary at the expense of the city, and is sure in time to bring a heavy burden of expense on the city."

He explained that the teachers of Newton are pensioned under a contributory system operated under State supervision, and it is not proposed that the teachers will be included in the new retirement system which he thinks Newton should adopt.

The memorandum submitted by Alderman Hinckley goes into considerable detail regarding the pension systems applying to policemen, firemen, city employees, schoolhouse janitors and foremen in various departments. He comments, "It is granted that an estimate of the prospective cost of pensions under our present systems cannot be figured with any accuracy, for no one can say how many now on the pension list may die next year, or in two years. Neither can one know how many, or who, may become disabled or be retired from ordinary disability, or from accident."

"For these reasons the figures shown must be read with the following assumptions:

1. That all pensioned are to be retired at age of 65 on account of superannuation.

2. That they will be drawing the present rate of pay during the last year of their employment.

3. That the total compensation for the last year of employment is figured on the basis of 300 days' employment with no overtime.

4. That no retirements are made on account of disability or accident."

Based on these assumptions, and taking into consideration that there are now 91 men on the pension rolls of the city, with a pension roll of $58,796.17, Mr. Hinckley estimates that in the next ten years the pension roll will increase to $83,801 for retired employees of the following classes: Street Department, Water Department, Police, Fire, and Playground departments. Janitors are not included as they are not retired because of superannuation; their retirement comes because of disability, and after they have reached the age of 60, and served the city for 25 years.

Mr. Hinckley stated in his memorandum, "To illustrate comparative amounts of pensions received under the present Boston, Worcester and Newton systems it was figured that a policeman who had worked 25 years at same rate of pay, $2100 per year, retired at 65 because of superannuation. To equalize the effects of the systems it was assumed that all were adopted as of January 1st, 1927. In Boston his pension annuity would be $983.65; in Worcester $531.33; in Newton $1050.00. Under the new system, in Newton he would receive $631.33."

"Had the systems been in force 25 years the policeman would have contributed 5 percent of his salary yearly, and with compound interest the city would have accepted such contributions to the point where the annuity funds would insure an annuity equal to the maximum allowed by the city as a pension. The policeman would, therefore, then receive the annuity of $1200 per year. In other words, the employees by contributing to the annuity fund will receive more liberal pensions than under the present system."

"A contributory system properly administered places all employees on the same basis and gives them the satisfaction of knowing that they have assisted in building up a reserve fund which is theirs at any time they may wish to retire from the service, and is augmented by a generous pension contributed by the city if they remain in the service until retirement. When they, on account of superannuation, or disability, retire, the two amounts become an annuity fund to be distributed to them monthly as long as they live, and if they so elect to take a smaller yearly payment, to be paid to an heir after their death."

"Under the contributory system the city has more control over the men, and can more readily discharge an employee who is disabled, or inefficient. The point is that heads of departments have better control of the men, are more free to discharge them for inefficiency, disloyalty, or for many other reasons, when it is known that the man is not deprived of what is due him from either annuity fund or pension at the time he leaves the service."

In the course of his memorandum, Mr. Hinckley states, "It may be possible that the committee of the State Legislature on pensions will again present this year a bill for a contributory system of pensions which will allow any city or town to adopt a uniform system to be operated by the State. This would be excellent and would relieve the cities and towns from handling the details. All accounting and record would be handled by the State, and bills rendered to each city and town for its respective costs."

Mr. Hinckley favors "the authorization of an appropriation for the employment of an actuary who shall make an estimate of the cost to the City of Newton for each year of the next ten years that would be incurred by adoption of a contributory system of pensions. The actuary also to make recommendations as to possible changes in a retirement act that would be advantageous to all concerned."

He recommends that the committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen make recommendations for a new system to include all employees not elected by popular vote. That this committee investigate the maximum pension now allowed laborers as compared to that allowed foremen, mechanics, etc. He suggests, "If a new contributory system is not deemed advisable, should not the City of Newton accept present Act of State which applies to all other classes of employees such as clerks,

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Campaign for Balance of $1,500,000 to Be Started at Once

Activities preliminary to the campaign to complete the Newton Hospital building fund began last evening, September 15, when the members of the general executive campaign committee met at the Brae Burn Country Club. In calling the meeting Leon B. Roberts, general chairman of the campaign, announced that $350,000 remains to be pledged before the goal of $1,500,000 is reached.

In the meanwhile, the work of breaking ground for the main hospital building has begun, and actual construction will begin shortly. The expenditure of one million dollars on the hospital building and new power plant was authorized last month, and contract for the general construction was let to the successful bidders, Holt-Fairchild Company of Boston.

In renewing its activities the hospital campaign committee will retain the same leaders that directed the successful campaign during the spring of 1926, with Mr. Rogers as general chairman, E. J. Frost, chairman of the special gifts committee, and Henry J. Nichols as chairman of the organization. To the meeting of Thursday evening there has been invited the members of the general campaign committee, the special gifts chairman for each community, all division leaders, and the women captains, who represented their communities in the 1926 campaign activities.

The plans for the new hospital were displayed and explained to the members of the Newton Medical Club at a special meeting at the hospital on last Tuesday evening. Mr. Rogers, who is chairman of the building committee, was the speaker.

BENEFIT SHOP

The Benefit Shop at 5 Washington terrace, Newtonville, is well started on its second year of mutual benefit. As ground is broken for our new hospital enthusiasm is renewed and as the shop works to increase the fund for our hospital the committee must again remind every Newton citizen that we can only keep up this work as we are supplied with goods. The hard work is ours, the donations are yours. We feel sure that you will send us the things we need and so help the fund and help the needy. Just now we have a great demand for men's and children's clothing and shoes. Will you bring them to the shop Wednesday and Fridays between 9:30 and 12:30 or call Mrs. Van Horssen, 1898-W Centre N, if you need to have them called for?

ELECTRIC CAR HITS AUTO

Monday noon as a Framingham car was passing Elm street at Washington street, West Newton, the rear truck of the car jumped the switch and swerved towards Elm street. The rear of the car hit a passing automobile driven by Mrs. Gladys Pride of Temple street, West Newton. The running board and rear fender of the automobile were damaged.

WEST NEWTON MAN MISSING

Mr. John M. Manter of 1011 Washington street, West Newton, has been missing from home since the middle of August, according to his wife, who has appealed to the Newton police to assist in finding him. He was in an automobile accident some years ago, and may be an amnesia victim.

library employees," etc.

Mr. Hinckley presents comprehensive recommendations for a contributory system which he will present to the special committee of the aldermen for its consideration.

CITY AFFAIRS

President Weeks Gives Kiwanis Club Interesting Facts and Figures

C. Sinclair Weeks, President of the Newton Board of Aldermen, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Norumbega Park restaurant on Tuesday. He talked to the members about the conduct of city affairs in Newton. He characterized Newton as a $15,000,000 corporation with $13,113,000 of fixed assets and $2,163,000 of quick assets. It has current liabilities of $6,300,000, a bonded debt of $4,000,000 and a current debt of $2,700,000. "The citizens of Newton are stockholders in this big corporation, ought to know more about it, and take a greater interest in it," said Mr. Weeks. He lauded the character of the members of the various Boards of Aldermen of Newton with whom he has served the past five years, and told his audience that with 21 members on the Board, the average attendance during the past two years has been 19.

He explained the duties of the various committees of the Aldermen which deal with the affairs of the twenty departments of the city government. Among the serious problems which have come before the Aldermen during recent years, Mr. Weeks included the gasoline station permits, the zoning ordinance, and the apartment house question. He expressed the opinion that the zoning of Newton was one of the most forward steps this city ever took, because it assured the retention of the unusually attractive character of this municipality as a high class community of homes, of which Newton has 10,981, an increase in seven years of 2443.

He regards the apartment house question as a difficult problem. No true citizen of Newton wants to see it change its character and become an apartment house district as has Brookline. Yet there is a big demand for high class apartments in Newton to house small families who have resided here for years, and who for various reasons find it necessary to dwell in apartment houses rather than in large private dwellings.

"The population of Newton," said Mr. Weeks, "has increased from 40,000 in 1919, to 54,000 in 1926. An increase as great as during the preceding 28 years was the growth of the valuation of the city in this same period: from $86,000,000 in 1919 to $132,000,000 in 1926. During the past year the value of the city jumped $8,000,000. Last year the valuation of tax-exempt property in the city was $21,000,000; in 1921 it was $15,000,000. In 1919 the tax rate was $19.80. In 1926 it was $28.00. The average tax rate of Massachusetts cities is $31. In 1918 the cost of running the city was $2,100,000; in 1926 the cost was $3,800,000. "Why this increase?" asked Mr. Weeks. He explained that the amount necessary to pay pensions has greatly increased. In seven years the amount has jumped from $314,000 to $615,000 because of the big school building program which caused large increases in the interest on funded debts, and because of the greater amounts necessary to retire bonds. The Police Department in 1919 cost $170,000; in 1926 it cost $270,000; this jump was caused mostly by increased salaries, and by an increase of the force from 79 to 109 men. The same reasons caused the cost of the Fire Department to increase from $143,000 in 1919 to $235,000 in 1926. In that same period the Playground Department expenses jumped from $37,000 to $79,000; the Library department from $50,000 to $74,000; the School Department from $798,000 to $1,109,000; the Street Department from $698,000 to $946,000.

Mr. Weeks said, "Naturally the Aldermen are responsive to demands for gradual increases in facilities to serve the citizens, but they do not want to have these increases come too fast for the pocketbooks of the taxpayers."

He remarked, "This year we cut $364,000 from recommendations of department heads, an amount which if allowed to stand, would have caused the tax rate to be $3 higher." "The problems confronting the aldermen," said Mr. Weeks, "are to determine what we need, what we can afford: to give the citizens what they want, but not to allow the tax rate to jump out of sight." He called attention to the fact that while Federal and State expenses have been decreasing in late years, the cost of running cities has been rapidly increasing. He concluded by urging the Kiwanians, as citizens, to take a greater interest in the affairs of Newton, and to give the Board of Aldermen the support it deserves.

NEW BLEACHERS

Aldermen Approropriate $9000 for Seats at High School Functions

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night, the rules were suspended to permit $9000 being appropriated for new portable grandstands at the Newton High School. Alderman Fitts explained that the movable stands heretofore used are no longer available. Seats must be provided for the coming football season, or Newton's schedule will collapse. The new stands will provide 2100 seats and will take between two and three weeks to construct. The stands will be planned and constructed under the supervision of Buildings Commissioner Chadwick. Chairman Collins of the Finance Committee explained that the High School Athletic Association has but $500 in its treasury, and the city must stand the cost. In answer to a question by Alderman Earle, Alderman Fitts stated that the present stationary stands at the High School field will continue to be used, as they have been repaired. The new portable stands can be used for the school gym, or on other parts of the school grounds. Alderman Earle raised the point "that it was the condition of the newly filled ground, rather than defects in the old stands, which caused the stands to collapse last spring." He inquired if anything will be done to assure safe footings for the new stands to prevent them sinking into the ground. He was assured that either solid ground or concrete foundations will be provided for the new stands.

WABAN BUS LINE

Service to be Curtailed on Account of Lack of Patronage—Aldermen Debate the Matter

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night received a communication from the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, through Chairman Hawkins of the Transportation Committee, giving the information that the buses which run from Newton Corner to Waban, will in the future be run every hour instead of on a half-hour schedule. These buses have been running for four months. The Middlesex & Boston Company officials were skeptical concerning the patronage on this line when they were asked to start this route, and they have kept a record of the amount of traffic handled by the buses on this new route. Alderman Hawkins explained that during 102 days the buses have been in operation between Newton Corner and Waban, the average receipts have been $44.07 a day. It has cost $52.60 a day to run the buses. The M & B is willing to operate an extra bus on mornings to accommodate workers, and will run buses to care for the school pupils. But it does not intend to operate on a half hourly schedule when it is only making 50% of the running expenses on this route. Neither will it operate buses to Waban on Sundays, according to its communication, until 12:30 noon, because the buses have been practically without passengers on Sunday mornings.

Alderman Heathcote protested against the reduction in the schedule. He argued that the buses have been run during the summer months when three-quarters of Waban's residents have been away, and that the present schedule should be continued for the coming three months, to enable a fair test to be made. He objected to the discontinuance of the buses on Sunday mornings, as this action will prevent Wabanites from having transportation to churches. According to Mr. Heathcote, the M & B should be willing to stand for losses on the Waban route, because it is getting "cream" from other bus lines in the city. He criticized the M & B for not removing the car tracks throughout the city where car lines have been discontinued, and alleged that discrimination is being used in this matter, naming Newton Centre as a favored section. He asserted "that in Waltham the car tracks are being rapidly taken up."

Alderman Ball reminded Mr. Heathcote that the first car tracks to be removed in this city were on Adams street, in the Nonantum district. He agreed that the buses to Waban should be continued on a half-hour schedule for another three months. Alderman Holbrook told of the sentiment of the Waban Improvement Association regarding the starting of the bus line to that village, and stated that most of the residents there desired the line to be continued. While Waban residents want transportation, the M & B cannot be expected to furnish more than there apparently is a demand for. Regarding the buses on Sunday mornings, Mr. Holbrook admitted that few Waban residents seem to patronize them. They go to the churches in their own automobiles. He stated that the most important phase of transportation for Waban is the providing of buses for the school children, and hoped that sufficient facilities for carrying the pupils will be assured.

Alderman Hawkins took exception to the contention that the M & B officials are unwilling to give information regarding the income and expenses of this corporation. He stated that he has found them quite willing to furnish information. Alderman Collins said that the M & B had been getting no "cream" when it was operating electric cars on its lines. It had been consistently losing money in recent years. If it will be shown that it is not operating buses at a profit, it cannot be expected to run the Waban line at a considerable loss. President Weeks asked Alderman Heathcote if his objection was against the less frequent trips of buses to Waban, or to the discontinuance of trips on Sunday mornings. The Ward 4 Alderman replied that he objects to both these changes, and asked that the M & B give information regarding the income from its bus routes in this city. He asked City Solicitor Bartlett regarding the delay in the removal of the unused car tracks. He was informed that according to the agreement between the city and the M & B, the tracks are to be taken up when the Mayor requests such action.

Alderman Weeks took the floor and commented that the M & B never got any "cream" from its lines in Newton. He thought the city would lose nothing by letting the proposed change go into effect on September 15, and regards the hourly schedule as the logical one for the Waban route. He suggested that Alderman Hawkins, as chairman of the Transportation Committee, confer with the M & B officials before the next meeting of the Aldermen, to ascertain if some acceptable agreement can be reached regarding the matter.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

At the memorial services held on Thursday at sea on board the S. S. Scythia for those lost at sea during the World War, Mrs. Janet Putnam recited the "Crossing of the Bar." She is one of 15 Gold Star Mothers from Massachusetts who have gone to Paris to attend the American Legion reunion. Mrs. Putnam was formerly a Newton Highlands resident and her son, David Putnam, was the Ace of Aces when killed by the Germans while flying.

LOGGES

DEATH OF MR. BROWN

Frederick T. Brown, who died Sunday night at the Newton Hospital, was for many years a resident of Malden, from which city he moved to 3 Fair Oaks avenue, Newtonville, four years ago. He was 63 years of age and he entered the hospital several weeks ago for an operation.

Mr. Brown was born in Malden, the son of Frederick T. and Catherine (Harris) Brown. He had been for 43 years connected with the American Thread Company, where he was in charge of the credit department. In Malden he had for several terms represented Ward 7 in the Common Council, and he also was a member of the Malden Park Commission for six years. He was a member of the Sons of Veterans and of the Fusiliers' Drum Corps. He is survived by his widow who was Mary Louise Smith of South Boston; a daughter, Miss Ruth Brown, who is a teacher in Newton; and two sons, Frank and Frederick T. Brown, Jr.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

OSBORNE WINS CUP— GETS INTO MOVIES

Lloyd Osborne, interscholastic 220-yard swimming champion, won the New England A. A. U. Men's Junior championship in that event last Saturday in the eighth annual swimming carnival of the town of Brookline held in the Boylston street Reservoir. Osborne, who swims under the colors of the Brookline Swimming Club when not competing for the Newton High School, from which he graduated last June, also won possession of the handsome Bebe Daniels cup which the famous screen star donated for the event. The local youth, who will enter Exeter Academy this month in preparation for Yale, the alma mater of his older brother, who was also a former Newton High athlete, twice smashed the former New England junior record in finishing in front of a field of 12. In his first heat the Newtonville youth was timed in 2 minutes 50 3-5 seconds for the 220 yards and in the final heat he lowered this mark nearly 11 seconds, being caught in the fast time of 2 minutes 39 4-5 seconds. He took the honors in the last 50 yards of a driving race in which George Shinnery of the Boston Boys' Club had set the pace from the start. Shinnery evidently had set too hot a pace and Brooks Maury of the Brookline club slipped into second place behind Osborne.

In the men's 200-yard relay scratch race Osborne teamed up with John Bryant, Dartmouth swimming team leader and West Newton youth, and Brooks Maury and Marty Ford of the Brookline club to represent the Brookline S. C. The quartet finished in second place behind the Worcester Y. M. C. A. four.

Ten events were on the program for the day and the first three fishers in each event, officials and representatives of the various clubs, were the guests of the Metropolitan Theatre on Saturday night, when moving pictures which had been taken of the swimmers in action during the afternoon were shown on the screen.

NEW BLEACHERS TO BE BUILT

Last Monday night the Board of Aldermen rushed through an appropriation of $9,000 under suspension of the rules in order that bleacher seats may be built to replace the portable ones which were condemned last spring following the collapse of a section at the outdoor spring concert. One of the other sections had previously collapsed at the Newton-Brookline game last Thanksgiving Day. Twenty-one hundred seats will be built in sections so that each section may be knocked down and set up again in the new gymnasium or wherever desired. It is understood that the new bleachers will be erected under the supervision of the city building department instead of new sections being ordered ready-made.

Newton has one of the most attractive home schedules in many years with six games scheduled for Clafin field. The first five games on the list, St. Mary's on the 24th, Medford on Oct. 1st, Cambridge Latin on the 8th, Everett on the 12th and Beverly on the 22nd, with the Lawrence game, following the one at Somerville, on the 29th, on the first Saturday in November, should draw a large number of fans from other cities and towns nearby as well as the local supporters. It is doubtful if the new seats will be ready much before the Cambridge game, which is one of the opening contests of the Suburban League season this year, but the work will be rushed in order to have them ready for the Medford game if possible. Faculty Manager Dr. Oscar Martin was conferring with Medford High authorities early in the week regarding a changing of the Medford game to the Medford field but announcement was made Wednesday night that it would be played at Newtonville as originally planned.

Coach Sullivan has been putting the candidates through some hard sessions since the first practice a week ago Wednesday. He is being assisted by Warner Blue of the high school faculty as line coach. Mr. Sanborn, another faculty member, is helping the Newton mentor, as are several alumni, which include "Waxie" Littlefield, tackle two years ago; Harold Andres, last year's captain and center; Leonard Clark, last year's quarterback; Henry Johnson, a fullback a few years ago; "Clucker" Johnson, a guard on the 1921 championship outfit and coach of St. Mary's High last year, and Frank Spain, last year's quarterback and this year's captain-elect, who recently resigned.

The new Newton mentor has had signal practice periods every day for about a week as well as the daily grass drill which has put the members of the squad in first class condition for ten days' work. No scrimmage has been held as yet but it is planned to hold the first one either this afternoon or tomorrow morning. The size of the squad was somewhat increased on Monday when school opened and a number of the boys who had not returned to the city until last week-end reported. Taking it all in all, the entire squad compares very favorably with those of recent years in apparent football ability and somewhat heavier than late years. No cut has been made in the squad as yet but in all probability when the first scrimmage is held Coach Sullivan will concentrate his attention on the twenty-five or more men picked for Teams A and B and turn the other candidates over to the assistant coaches who will cooperate with the head coach. In this way a line can be kept on all candidates and those deserving of promotion to the so-called first string squad will be advanced.

A tentative lineup for Team A might include the following: Ends, Scheinfeld and Payne; tackles, Harrington and Hamilton; guards, Shea and Maguire; center, Gatchell; quarterback, Perry; halfbacks, Bennett and McIntyre; fullback, Brown. Team B would have such players as Reimer at one end, Marsh as a guard, Chamberlain at center, Andres calling signals, and Gilligan, Cole, Foster and Duane other backfield men. An interesting fact is noted that only a very few of the men on this year's squad will graduate next June. Newton, therefore, should have unusually good material next fall. This season is the one now at hand and if the material present has the football ability in it Coach Sullivan will bring it out. One need but go to Clafin field some afternoon and watch the practice session for a while to see the truth of this statement.

MAY USE 1926 RULES

There is a possibility that the Suburban League, of which Newton High is a member, will ignore the new 1927 football rules and play under those used in the 1926 code. The faculty managers of the Suburban League, meeting of the Boston City Club on Wednesday afternoon, favored such action but before making a definite decision, will take up the matter with their respective coaches. The meeting was largely a discussion of the new rules and much dissatisfaction over changes in them has been expressed, especially in this case of high school football. Several high schools open their 1927 football season tomorrow afternoon and the league officials will watch some of these contests before taking any drastic action.

A meeting will be held next Wednesday night at the University Club at which the various league team coaches will be present as well as the faculty managers, as the latter cannot select the 1926 rules unless the former are agreeable. Some definite decision will be reached at that time. Should the league decide to play under the 1926 code it is more than likely that all the other teams in Boston and the suburbs will follow suit.

Martin Re-elected President

Dr. Oscar Martin, faculty manager of Newton High, was given a fine reception at the meeting. He has quite recovered from his serious illness of last June. He was re-elected president of the league and M. C. O'Neill of Everett was reappointed secretary-treasurer. It was agreed to have 50 cents the minimum admission fee for adults at Suburban League games and 25 cents for students. Medford, Everett and St. Mary's High will open their season tomorrow. The first named plays Reading at Medford, Everett meets Worcester South at Everett and St. Mary's opens with Revere at Revere.

Gulian Again With Steamrollers

Mike Gulian will play professional football again this year and will play his old position at tackle with the Providence Steamrollers.

Sunday afternoon the Rollers will play against the Submarine Base in a practice game in preparation for the opening of the league on the following Sunday.

Capt. Harlow Of Cambridge Out

Cambridge Latin high school eleven will probably be without the services of a captain and best quarterback, Fred Harlow, this fall. The Cantab three-sport athlete is suffering from a nervous breakdown. No action bearing upon a selection of a captain to replace Harlow will be taken until it is definitely known that he will be unable to play.

Bond Takes Up Duties At Harvard

Rufus Bond, former Everett and Harvard athlete, will again be the Harvard freshmen backfield coach under Head freshman coach Eddie Casey. Bond, who is well-known in Newton through his activities in connection with the playground department and twilight league, was among nineteen of the Harvard coaching staff who responded to Coach Horween's call on Soldiers Field on Thursday. Yesterday Harvard candidates reported. Among the prominent candidates for the freshmen eleven is Tom Gilligan, Newton and Exeter quarterback, who should take his place alongside the many other Newton athletes who have brought honor to Harvard on the athletic field.

Green Freshmen Look Orange And Black

The Dartmouth freshmen football eleven this fall should have an orange and black tinge with the prospects of five recent Newton high players planning to try out for the team. Henry L. Johnson, Waban ten years ago on the Newton high eleven and Carleton McCullough, Newton and Exeter end, are two of the quintet. The remaining three were members of last year's Newton high team. Ex-captain Harold Andres is out for the pivot position, Ed Kent for a line berth and Len Clark will be either a quarterback or halfback candidate.

Lynch Wins, Crosby Is Second

Honors in the two-day open tournament at the Blue Hill Golf Club last Friday and Saturday were won by two local golfers. Joe Lynch of Abenmarle, State junior amateur champion, won the low gross prize with a 74 which was one stroke better than that turned in by Perley Crosby of Woodland, who captured the second gross trophy. Lynch started well and was out in 35 but ran into trouble coming home and took a 39. Crosby got off the fairway several times but good recoveries kept his score down. Clark Hodder and several other low handicap men had too many fives on their cards to get into the prize distribution.

Mahoney vs. Crowley

The Greater Boston twilight league race last week hinged somewhat upon the work of two Upper Falls youths, Neil Mahoney catcher of the South Boston team and Leo Crowley, pitcher for the Reading team. At the end of the second half of the season South Boston and Reading were tied and a three game series was played with Reading winning two of the three and the right to meet Malden for the season's championship. In the second game on Friday night, Crowley was on the mound for Reading and went down to a 7 to 2 defeat although allowing but seven hits. His opponent was McNulty, Boston College twirler, who allowed Reading but three scattered safeties. Curiously enough it was Mahoney who started his former Northeastern batterymate on the road to defeat. In the third inning he led off with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored Southies' first run on the next batter's single. In the fifth Mahoney hit to second but the first baseman lost the throw in the sun and Mahoney was safe and two runs counted. McNulty got into his only tangle in the sixth when with one down he hit Crowley and walked another. An infield out advanced the pair and they both counted on a single.

Thornquist Wins Cup

Hamilton Thornquist of Bellevue street was among the winners of prizes in the season's sailing races at Crow Point this Sunday. Final races were held last Sunday and at the close the prizes were distributed. In the first series of races in Class O young Thornquist was first with his boat "Southie" and in the second series he placed second. These finishes gave him second prize for the season in this class which was a beautiful cup.

Wilson Wins Walk At Brockton

Ed. Wilson, Newton man on the B. A. A. track team, won the mile walk at the annual events held under the auspices of the Seville Council, K. of C., last Saturday afternoon at Brockton. Wilson's time from scratch was 7 minutes 8 2-5 seconds. He won over Clarence DeMar, the marathoner who had a handicap of 65 yards, and Andrew Pasquale, unattached, who had a handicap of 30 yards. The two latter finished second and third respectively.

To Train DeWitt Clinton Athletes

Dr. Fanning, who for the past few years has been athletic trainer at Newton High School, has accepted a similar position at the DeWitt Clinton Heberd School.

Beverly Wears Orange and Black

On Oct. 22nd when the Newton high eleven meets the Beverly high eleven on Clafin Field a clash of colors will take place as both teams wear the orange and black. It would seem that there may be more or less confusion on the gridiron that day with 22 men in similar uniforms and unless some means of ready identification are devised the referee may find himself handing out a penalty to the wrong team. Unless the players keep wide awake they might also find themselves lined up with their opponents.

Beverly Rooters Behind Team

The royal rooters of Beverly have recently organized for the coming football season and plan to go through with the team from the opening game to the final one on the schedule. Meetings are to be held every Friday evening throughout the season at which football experts will address the gathering. The rooters will turn out for the first game with Nashua on Sept. 24th, making the trip by automobiles decorated with the orange and black colors of the school. On Oct. 22nd when Beverly comes to Newton there should be quite a number of royal rooters on hand. This is the way to support a school football eleven.

Iron Men of Brown

The Iron Men of Brown have been collecting at Quonset Point in order to chip off the rust that has been accumulating and in their number the two Newton boys are very prominent. Charles Considine has been resting from a minor throat operation but has now recovered and begins to fight his way back past two former freshmen candidates that are after his position. Edwin Kevorkian the brave guard has arrived and is in fine condition. He spent the major part of the summer laboring over the streets in Providence and consequently is ready to go on where he left off last year. If he lives up to fond predictions this year should see him in the All America class. His playing last year was a marvel to see and his class at Quonset is beginning to show once again. When the 1931 team gets under way there will be one strong candidate from Newton, for Granger Haggood the veteran lineman of the 1926 team will report.

Rising Out for End

Philip Rising has reported at Dartmouth for practice and expects to be able to do more this fall if his in-

Hoyt and Phelps at Williams

At Williams Franklin Hoyt of Newton is busy giving out the equipment and attending to the various things that come to an Assistant Manager's attention. He should have a great time at the task for he has had a great deal of practice since he was a manager at Newton, and knows how the matters are run. Charlie Phelps is also at Williams and is getting ready for the soccer season which draws almost as soon as football. He is expected to play forward on the Williams' eleven, and should do a fine job in this position.

Holbrook a Fine Back

Guy Holbrook has gone out to practice at Harvard where he will give the coaches more than an eye for when it comes to value as a back. He is one of the tearing kind of ground gainers whose chief asset is the undying courage and conviction that he can make that necessary inch of ground. Along with the attributes of a plunger he links those of an expert forward passer and the shoe of a punter. He is a triple threat given a chance and should make the opponents of Harvard think once or twice before the year is over.

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

This week sees even more of an exodus than last for the freshmen of the Eastern colleges are beginning to register and at the same time receive their baptism of fire at the hands of their ardent supporters, the sophomores. Connecticut College has its full quota of freshmen registered and ready to begin their academic year this week. Beatrice Brooks of Newton Centre is a member of the class of 1931 at the New London College. If she can continue to do the work that she has accomplished the last few years at Newton, another girl from the home town will have made her mark with praise and honors on the path. Frances Brooks of Newton Highlands is planning to go back shortly in order to join the ranks of the friendly enemies. She has already made a name for herself in the athletic way, and this year she should be able to continue in much the same manner as she did last year.

Two men have left for Lehigh this past week in the persons of Chester Pratt and Richard Powers. Chet has a busy season ahead of him because of his athletic abilities and also his popularity among his classmates. Dick is going to Lehigh for the first time and although there is no hockey he should, however, be able to succeed in the sports as well as in the book world, for he has made a good record at Newton for study and serious purpose and these are the two essentials for a man that is going to make a success of his college course.

Dartmouth soon opens its portals for the neophytes that wish to walk the Big Green, and as usual the entering class is the biggest in history; that is, in the number of applications. A larger number of Newton boys have been packing for the chilly days of Hanover than is customary, for this fall sees a greater number of Newton boys in the freshmen class. One group of roommates that should make history at the college are William Bengier, Edward Kent and Leonard Clark. The last two are fine football players, and when Harold Andres is added to them one can readily see the possibilities of having a regular from Newton on the 1931 eleven. Bengier, if given the proper coaching, has the possibilities of an excellent track man. All three boys are good students and should meet with no great difficulty in the courses that are prescribed. Andres is an exceptional student as well as being a fine baseball and hockey player. As a result he should more than make a record, he should be one of the best men that Newton has sent up to the college in many years.

Bowdoin once again is claiming more men than is usual for a small college. Robert Sprague, Junior Upland, David Thompson, James Colton and Eddie Milner all leave for Brunswick in the near future. Harold Rising, the crack quarter miler, is planning to go back to college shortly and looks forward to a busy season on the track. He was one of the outstanding performers for Bowdoin on the cinders and if he keeps up his present pace will be a logical man for the captaincy before he graduates.

George Brewer, the Newton Centre boy who has left for Williams recently, has every prospect of being as popular as his brother was before him. He is a good hurdler and middle distance runner, with possibilities that were only recently reached at the end of the track season. He has a high pinnacle to climb if he wishes to attain the record that his brother made before him, but he has the ability and much success come of it.

Tabor Academy has received another Newton boy into the fold this fall in the person of Raymond Brooks. This boy, a brother of Beatrice Brooks, has made a good record as a student, and is popular with the other boys.

Victor Stout of Newton Highlands has decided to put off his proposed entrance to Wesleyan this year, and plans to pass the terms in the confines of Worcester Academy. He has an excellent chance to make the baseball team next spring since he has become a greatly improved athlete in the lines of baseball throwing and hitting. After this year's work at Worcester he plans to continue with his original idea and matriculate at Wesleyan.

It is an odd coincidence that four students of Newton that graduated from colleges last year should take up the teaching profession at the same time. Edith Howlett, who graduated from Boston University last fall, has accepted a post at the Quincy schools, and has already begun her work as a guide of knowledge. The other three have obtained positions in the preparatory field and consequently are able to teach the courses that they themselves have had the most experience with. Helen Clark will teach Biology at Dana Hall this fall, a position that is extremely opportune, for it leads with some certainty to college work, since Dana Hall is allied to Wellesley College in almost all particulars. Julius Kohler has accepted a post at the Saint Paul's School on Long Island, where he will teach and at the same time instruct the youngsters in the art of how the game of football should be played. He graduated last fall from Bowdoin, and his fraternity brother and college chum, Robert Olmstead,

ANOTHER LANDMARK SOON TO GO

Another old Newton landmark will soon be but a memory. The old Bacon homestead at the corner of Washington and Bacon streets is being vacated by Charles F. and Edward L. Bacon, and on October 1st the old house will pass into the hands of W. Mark Noble of Newton Centre who some months ago purchased it from the Bacon brothers. This dignified old dwelling with its Ionic columns was erected in 1840 by Joseph Bacon who came to Newton from East Sudbury in the first years of the last century, and who married Beulah Fuller in 1805. Both Joseph Bacon and his wife were members of families numbered amongst the first settlers of Middlesex County.

Joseph Bacon for many years conducted a country tavern on the site now occupied by the building of the Newton Trust Company at Newton Corner. His home was situated on the same lot now occupied by the present Bacon house, but in 1840 he moved it to Bacon street and built the present dwelling. The older Bacon house is located at 14 and 16 Bacon street.

The new home built by Joseph Bacon subsequently became the residence of one of his sons, B. Franklin Bacon, well remembered by the older residents of this city. Across from the homestead, Joseph N. Bacon, another son of Joseph Bacon, built a residence in 1842. This house was torn down in 1921 to allow the site to be occupied by the Community Theatre. In 1864 Joseph N. Bacon started the Newton National Bank which for many years occupied half of a little brick structure situated where the present bank building stands. The other half of the little old bank structure was occupied by the Newton Savings Bank. This building is now the back part of the Gas Company office at Newton Corner. Joseph N. Bacon was for many years the president of the Newton National Bank, and B. Franklin Bacon was the cashier of this institution. Charles F. and Edward L. Bacon were is doing the same type of work at Andover. He is instructing in English and at the same time giving a helping hand to the students of the gridiron game. He has an enviable record as a scholar at Bowdoin and expects to make the teaching profession his life's work.

Leslie St. Lawrence of Waban has enrolled in the University of Maine this fall. He has been held back from entering because of illness but is now ready to combat with the cold climate of the northern part of Maine.

The two Ruby girls will be leaving shortly for their respective colleges. Constance returns to Wellesley while Mary, the younger, enters Smith with honors. Both girls are good students with some athletic ability, and the colleges are fortunate in having them enrolled on their lists.

Y. M. C. A.

The Board of Directors of the Newton Y. M. C. A. held their first meeting of the season on Tuesday evening, Sept. 13, at the Association building. Mr. Walter C. Wyre was chosen treasurer to succeed Mr. Harold T. Dougherty, who has taken up his residence in Westfield. A letter of appreciation was sent Mr. Dougherty for his long and faithful service to the Association as treasurer.

The resignation of Mr. Charles M. Abbott of Watertown was also accepted with regret. Mr. Abbott, beginning Oct. 1st, is moving to Montreal, Canada.

The members of the Board of Directors called in Mr. Richard B. Simmons, Physical Director, and presented him with a substantial sum as a wedding gift to express their best wishes to himself and Mrs. Simmons.

It was also announced that Mr. Vadel Anderson of Springfield, Mass., was appointed as Assistant Physical Director to begin his work on Sept. 19th. Mr. Anderson succeeds Mr. E. Melville Westgate, who leaves on Monday to begin a course at Springfield College. Mr. Westgate has been Assistant Physical Director for the past two years and has had charge of the boys' gymnasium classes and most of the work of swimming supervision. This past year he has taught many to swim and through his teaching, large numbers have received the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. Life Saving emblems.

PROTEST CHANGES AT GAS STATION

Joseph H. Boughan of 414 Water-town street, Nonantum, appeared before the Board of Aldermen on Monday night and asked for a permit to increase the gasoline storage capacity at his station from 1000 to 2000 gallons, and to erect two additional pumps. He explained that it is now the practice to sell two grades of gasoline, and therefore he needs additional facilities.

John Finelli, an attorney with an office in the Columbus Building just across the street from this station, protested against the permit being granted. He argued that efforts are being made by himself and his associates to embellish Nonantum, that they have invested $75,000 in the Columbus Hall building, and that Boughan should have erected an attractive brick building at his gasoline station.

SEWERS TO BE LAID IN MANY STREETS

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night authorized appropriations for sewer construction in the following streets: Arapahoe road, $2090; Talbot street, $892; Westminster road, $3287; Bolton road, $3399; Warden street, $1765; Highland street, $3024; Greylock road, $5222; Leonard avenue, $2815; Lewis street, $1713; Lewis street, $2039; Annapolis road, $6805; Tolman street, $1094. For a street drain in Glen avenue, $5767 was appropriated. The Aldermen postponed action on the building of sewers in Sherman place, Oldham and Chesterfield roads.

A number of objectors appeared against the building of sewers in certain of these streets. Their objections were all based on the same reason—that they would be assessed for sewer construction which was intended to benefit other parties, and which would be of no advantage to them. Reuben Forkall, appearing for his daughter, explained that a sewer in Talbot street would cost her $400, and that her property there will not be benefited by it.

Thomas M. Connelly of 207 Auburn street, and James Patchett of 215 Auburn street, objected to being assessed for a sewer in Sherman place. Mr. Connelly stated that the sewer was for the use of houses to be constructed by some real estate speculator, and that he would pay the cost. Mr. Patchett told of having improved one end of Sherman place; this improved end has been badly damaged by heavy trucking, and, according to Mr. Patchett, those developing the land there, should repair the damage done. Alderman Leahy asked City Engineer Morse what amounts Mr. Connelly and Mr. Patchett will have to pay as their parts of the sewer assessment. He was told that the former would be assessed $37.50, and the latter $22.50.

Thomas Curley objected to being assessed for a sewer on Tolman street. Protests against this sewer construction were also received from Philip Pintabona, and Alfred Newcomb. Arthur Nash objected to sewer construction in Lewis street, but was informed that this work will not affect his property.

KIWANIS CLUB SHOW

A large audience thoroughly enjoyed the excellent vaudeville show presented by the Newton Kiwanis Club at Norumbega Park on Friday night under the direction of Will White. The program consisted of ten acts of unusual variety, all of which made decided hits. The first number was given by the DeMolay Band of Newton. The boys played several popular marches in a snappy manner. This organization of local boys has made remarkable progress for the comparatively short time it has been formed and provides this city with a real band which in time should be one of the best in the State.

Other acts were Bento Brothers, acrobats; Meldona, Trio, musicians; Russell & Holt in repartee; Dorothy Galland, character songs; Kay & Elsie, instrumentalists; Frank Howard, magician; Les Cosmer, musical comedian; Senia Russakoff's pupils in dancing specialties; and Bob Emery with his "gang" from the Big Brother Club.

POLICE NEWS

Kind hearted persons in Newton who freely donate money to mendicants who call at their residences should be more careful in dispensing charity. Joseph E. Hamel, 38, of 1516 Commonwealth avenue, Allston, was sentenced to 30 days in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon on Friday on the charge of obtaining money by false pretences. He had been arrested the preceding day at Newton Highlands by Officer Forristall after he had visited some stores and houses and obtained a couple of dollars. Hamel did not believe in the "spoken word" to get results. Instead he handed his dupes a slip of paper on which was written the sad information that he had a wife and five children, was out of work, and sought aid in God's name. According to the police Hamel is not married. He appealed the sentence and was held in $300 bonds.

CITY EMPLOYEES TO BUY HOME PRODUCTS

At the state convention of the Massachusetts Federation of State, City and Town Employees held last week at Boston, A. Leslie Moriarty of West Newton was re-elected Secretary. Treasurer for the 11th consecutive year. Jeremiah Herlihy of Newtonville was elected a Vice President, and Jeremiah Ford of West Newton a member of the Finance Committee. All three of these men have been prominent members of the Newton City Employees Local.

The following resolution offered by Newton City Employees Local was accepted by the convention:

"Resolved: That the delegates to this convention pledge themselves to buy nothing but American made goods, and try to influence our families and friends to do the same, and that a printed copy of this resolution be sent to each Local to be posted in its regular meeting place, and the Local president call the attention of the members to the same at each meeting."

The Newton employees deem such a resolution necessary because of the large amount of idleness which has been prevalent in American mills the past few years, and because of the increasing amount of foreign made goods which are being offered for sale in American mercantile establishments.

WILL TOUR EUROPE

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Meserve and son, Edwin C., of 30 Ransom road, Newton Centre, left Friday for an extended trip through Europe. With Major Meserve will also be his brother and his daughter of Allston. They sailed from New York on the Leviathan, with General Pershing and the National Officers of the American Legion for the convention in Paris, after which Dr. Meserve and his party will have a six weeks tour through France, Switzerland, Belgium, England and Scotland.

Several of their many friends went down to New York over the week-end to wish them "Bon Voyage!" Dr. Meserve also expects to visit several of the famous hospitals and medical centres of Europe before his return the last of October.

OPPOSES MORE TAXI LICENSES

The recommendation of the License Committee of the Aldermen that two first-class taxi licenses be granted to Carl Rogers of 36 Park street, was opposed by Alderman Heathcote. The Ward 4 Alderman asked Chairman Hawkins "Why does the committee recommend these taxi permits now, when it reported against them several months ago?" Chairman Hawkins explained that the committee acted adversely on Mr. Rogers' petition then because no locations were available for taxi stands. The petitioner has since interviewed the Mayor and the Street Commissioner and locations have been found for him. He is a war veteran and because of disabilities received in the service he must have outside employment.

Alderman Grebenstein remarked that Rogers has been waiting since last April to obtain his permits, and it will be an injustice to make him wait longer. Alderman Heathcote argued that a decision should be reached by the Aldermen regarding the practice of granting special concessions to war veterans. He stated that the Aldermen from the Newton Corner district have for several years contended that there are too many taxis at Newton Corner. He asked where Rogers would have his taxi stands. Alderman Hawkins answered that the stands will be at the Newton depot in the daytime, and in front of the Nonantum Building at night. Alderman Heathcote reiterated his desire for a postponement of action on this matter to allow further investigation, and it was laid on the table until the October 3rd meeting.

WEST NEWTON MERCHANTS OFFER MANY BARGAINS AT HARVEST SALE TOMORROW

West Newton's big Harvest Sale, the "Welcome Home" of West Newton Merchants to the many returning vacationists and tourists of that section of the city, is to be held tomorrow, September 17, and promises—if advance indications are of real significance—to prove the greatest opportunity for economical buying ever offered by the progressive business men of that rapidly growing community.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the Harvest Sale announcements of many of the participating merchants, each of which is worthy of the careful perusal of every thrifty citizen.

Planned and developed under the auspices of the West Newton Business Men's Association, and designed especially to get away—temporarily at least—from the Dollar Day idea, forty or more merchants of that village have for several weeks been striving to make this the most attractive sale which they have ever held, sufficiently so in fact to more than compensate those who have come to look upon the Dollar Day as the ideal opportunity for economical buying of either the luxuries or the necessities of life.

The advertising announcements indicate, of course, only a comparatively small proportion of the various bargains to be found in each store and are, in each instance, merely suggestive of the many real shopping inducements that are to be placed at the disposal of the buying public on Saturday of this week. Coming just after the close of the summer season has permitted each participating merchant to give ample time to planning his part in the impending sale and a week-end visit to the many stores of the village should prove a revelation to even the most expectant shopper.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

On Sunday afternoon, September 18th at 3:30 o'clock, at the Children's Museum of Boston, Jamaica Plain, there will be shown a very interesting motion picture reel in which, by a visit to various zoological parks, close glimpses will be caught of many kinds of grass-eating wild animals, such as the deer, elk, zebra, buffalo, camel, giraffe, and even a huge elephant, who will be seen at his daily scrub and swim. The story will be told by Miss Pearl Bragdon of the Museum staff.

On the following Saturday, September 24th at 3:00 o'clock the fourth of the September series of Indian talks will be given. The subject will be "Old Wigwam Legends," and the talk will be followed by a Museum Indian Game, in which all boys and girls who wish may take part.

EDITORIAL

The suggestion made at the aldermanic meeting this week that the pension system of the city should be investigated draws attention to one of the serious problems of public service. While a member of the Legislature, the editor had a small part in drafting the Boston pension act, said to be one of the best pieces of legislation of its kind in the country. That service convinced us that a contributing pension system was the only satisfactory and fair method to handle this question. Newton may well copy the Boston plan, or at least take it as the basis for one of its own.

Governor Fuller has honored the city in his appointment of our fellow townsman, Edward E. Whiting, as a trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway. Mr. Whiting will bring to his new office a wide acquaintance with men and affairs which is a valuable asset in every public office.

We are glad to note that the aldermen have made the necessary appropriation to widen St. James street. We believe that there should be a systematic plan followed by the city and a certain amount of street widening done each year.

While we are sorry to have the Newton-Waban transportation privileges curtailed, the public has no right to compel the street railway company to run a losing business.

The excellent idea of having a general overhauling of all automobiles ought to have been suggested in the spring and not in the late fall.

POLICE NEWS

Edward Fayrell of Francis street, Brookline, was fined $10 for speeding in the Newton court on Wednesday. Other autoists who were assessed for rapid driving were Walter Richardson, 31 Clyde street, Newtonville, $10; Bennett Richardson, 19 Austin street, Cambridge, $10. Cornelius Bullock of Roxbury was fined $25 for driving without a license.

Joseph Hamel of 1516 Commonwealth avenue, Allston, who was arrested last Friday at Newton Highlands for obtaining money under false pretences, was sent to the House of Correction on Saturday for 30 days. He had taken an appeal from his sentence, but could not obtain bail.

Louis Pagano, 14, of 22 Rockland street, went A. W. O. L. from the Lyman School last week. He was recalled by Patrolman J. P. Murphy and returned to the institution at Westbury.

Arthur Langlois of Washington street, Wellesley, was arrested Sunday morning when the automobile he was driving ran into a pole at Waban avenue and Collins road, Waban. He was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and will be tried September 20th.

Friends of Traffic Officer Dalton had his stand at West Newton gayly decorated when the policeman returned to duty Monday morning after having returned from his honeymoon. It was artistically embellished with crepe paper, and a wedding bell topped it.

In the Newton Court yesterday Edward Callahan of Framingham was on trial charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Patrolmen Allan Foley and Tompkins, who arrested Callahan and two others who were in his automobile, testified that the trio were all drunk. Lieut. Hughes who was in charge at police headquarters when Callahan was brought in, and Officer Barry who was on the police wagon which brought Callahan to the station, contradicted Foley and Tompkins' testimony and testified that Callahan and his companions were not drunk. Judge Bacon found all three not guilty.

Thomas Kelly of Linwood street, Roxbury, was found $20 in the Newton court yesterday for allowing a minor to illegally operate his automobile. The fine was suspended. Secardo Cullati of Wellesley paid $10 for speeding. Isadore Phillips was assessed $50 for driving an automobile after his license had expired. This was the second time Isadore had been arrested for an offense of this nature.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE

September 8th, 1927.

At each City election time for the past three years, I have been approached by numerous Newton business men and property owners, and asked to allow my name to be put in nomination as a candidate for the Board of Aldermen. Each year I found that if I did so, I would be opposing a candidate running for reelection. I declined to do this believing that the incumbent had served the City well and, therefore, was entitled to reelection. I am now informed the Alderman from this Ward is not a candidate for reelection. Under the circumstances, I feel that I should allow the use of my name this year for the vacancy of Alderman-at-large from Ward 7.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Considerable interest was shown this week at the hearing given at the State House by the recess commission on Election laws. About 200 men and women were present and some interesting suggestions made to the committee. Mr. William F. Garcelon was one of the speakers from this city.

A large part of the morning was given to advocates of a pre-primary convention. This plan calls for a spring primary at which delegates would be elected, whose duty it would be to look over the political field and give their endorsement to those candidates it favored. These candidates to go on the usual State primary ballot on September bearing this endorsement. It is believed that this plan will give the uninformed voter at the September primary some assistance in marking his ballot. The plan was advocated and opposed by leading Republicans and Democrats.

Suggestions were made to advance the State primary to the third Tuesday in June, for a shortening of the ballot, for uniform hours for voting at the primary and for a strengthening of the corrupt practices act.

At a public hearing held on Tuesday by the Commission on Public Utilities on the smoke nuisance, Mr. Charles F. Cheney of Newtonville entered vigorous complaints against the nuisance caused by smoke from the Newton High School plant.

J. C. BRIMBLECOM.

MORE SMALL WATER MAINS TO BE FREED

The aldermen on Monday night appropriated $5000 to enable 40,000 more feet of 6 and 8 inch mains to be freed from the incrustations of Crenothrix and rust which have been discoloring the water. To provide for the sinking of a number of test wells at the water reservation in Needham, $500 was appropriated.

Alderman Ball, chairman of the special committee which has been earnestly endeavoring for the past two years to improve Newton's water supply, and who with Aldermen Gallagher, has devoted much of his time to this work, explained that these test wells will be sunk in that part of the water reservation towards the Dedham line, and that it is expected a considerable addition to Newton's water supply will thus be made available.

Alderman Hodgdon took the floor to make some quite tart remarks regarding the appropriation at this time of $500 for such a purpose. He denounced the practicality of such work at the present, and intimated that it may be a decade before another large well will be constructed. Alderman Ball, resenting the aspersions cast by his fellow member from Ward 5 at the Special Committee on Water, intimated that his critic was laboring under a serious misconception of the matter, and undertook to enlighten him as to the practicality of such work at the present, and intimated that it may be a decade before another large well will be constructed. Alderman Ball, resenting the aspersions cast by his fellow member from Ward 5 at the Special Committee on Water, intimated that his critic was laboring under a serious misconception of the matter, and undertook to enlighten him as to the practicality of such work at the present, and intimated that it may be a decade before another large well will be constructed.

Alderman Hodgdon, who apparently is a devotee of Dickens, complimented his associate from Ward 5, but then explained that he was doing so in a "Pickwickian sense." He asserted that he also "knows water," and wanted to be told why it is, on occasions, still discolored in certain sections of the city. Alderman Collins, for the Finance Committee, agreed with Mr. Hodgdon, that the water is still off at times in certain districts, and moved suspension of the rules to permit the appropriation of $5000, so that the work of cleaning the pipes can be continued, and the incrustation in the mains, responsible for the discoloring of the water, scraped out. His motion was passed.

Somewhat over a week ago, the "governor" mechanism on the engine at the pumping station in Newton Upper Falls, got out of order, and it became necessary to shut down the pump for several days. In the meantime the supply for the city was taken from the Metropolitan system. Wednesday the work of repairing the engine was completed, and the water from Newton's own supply was again started into the mains. The Metropolitan water, being much softer than the local supply, acts as a solvent on the incrustations in the pipes. When it is being used the flow in the mains is in an opposite direction from that prevailing when the local supply is being used. So, when the Newton supply is pumped into the mains, at first, discolored water will be in evidence in sections where the pipes have not as yet been cleaned.

With the increased supply made available from the new wells, and with modernization of the pumping plant, which will perhaps occur in the near future, it is hoped that the nuisance of discolored water, will soon be completely ended.

WILL TAKE UP MORE CAR TRACKS SOON

Within a day or two work will commence on the removing of the car tracks of the Newtonville & Watertown Street Railway on Watertown and Walnut streets at Nonantum and Newtonville. It is about 35 years since the tracks were first laid on these two streets. Electric street cars were growing in popularity in those days, so it was not long before the rails were continued to Union Square, Allston, and to Needham, through Upper Falls. A New Company, the Newton & Boston Street Railway, was formed to operate the extended route, and the Newtonville & Watertown tracks were leased to it. Business was good on this route for several years. Hundreds of workers used the cars to travel to the mills and shops at Upper Falls and to the industrial establishments at Watertown. Pleasure seekers travelled on the Newton & Boston to see Echo Bridge at the Upper Falls, and to hear the somewhat famous echo there. On evenings many thirsty individuals journeyed from Needham and the Newtons on this street railway to Brighton. Considerable of this latter class of patronage was lost when the Boston Elevated Railway built the Arsenal street line from Watertown through North Brighton to Cambridge. Later the Newton & Boston Street Railway was merged with the Middlesex & Boston, and the line between Allston and Watertown was abandoned.

As automobiles became more and more common, traffic on the route between Watertown and Needham rapidly dwindled, and for a long time this line was operated at a loss. During late years the tracks along the Watertown streets have been sadly out of repair. Nonantum residents asserted that automobile accidents had resulted because of the condition of street railway tracks in that village. But because the Middlesex & Boston was hard up financially, and because of the question of a comparatively short time until the electric cars would be replaced by buses, the tracks were not repaired. When the Middlesex & Boston officials came before the Board of Aldermen last year to obtain permits to run bus lines the question of removing the tracks came up. It was agreed that the rails would be taken up as soon as possible on those streets where the carlines would be discontinued. It was also explained that the tracks on Walnut and Watertown streets between Newtonville and Watertown, were the property of the old Newtonville & Watertown Street Railway, and the consent of the trustees of that corporation would have to be obtained before these tracks could be taken up.

The first tracks to be removed were those on Adams street. Tracks have also been removed on Centre street from near Boylston street at Newton Highlands to Commonwealth avenue at Newton Centre. Other streets from which tracks must be removed are Walnut, Lincoln, Elliot, High, Chestnut, Lexington, Chapel, Crafts and Waltham. Because of the legal difficulties involved in the removal of the tracks between Newtonville and Watertown, through Nonantum, City Solicitor Bartlett has been giving attention to this matter since last winter. On July 22nd in the Graphic under "About Town" was this item:

"Here's hoping that the consent of the surviving trustees of the Newtonville & Watertown Street Railway has been obtained, to permit the removal of the tracks from Watertown street. This street is in a terrible condition." On August 16, Mayor Childs wrote to James L. Richards asking that action be taken as soon as possible to remove the tracks from Watertown street. Mr. Richards replied the following day and assured Mayor Childs that his company would co-operate in this matter.

Inasmuch as Watertown street is the main street of Nonantum, and the business district of that village is located on it, residents of that section will appreciate the improvement which will result when the tracks will have been removed and the street repaired. The work of removing the rails from other streets in the city will proceed as rapidly as practicable. The Middlesex & Boston must work in conjunction with the Street Department, as the city resurfaces the roadways from which the tracks are taken.

D. A. R.

On Monday, Sept. 12, twelve members of the Lucy Jackson Chapter D. A. R. and three guests met at Norwood and proceeded to the Norwood Cemetery to mark the grave of Mrs. Martha Guild Kimball, a "Real Daughter" and Honorary Member of the Newton Chapter D. A. R. about a year before it united with the Lucy Jackson Chapter D. A. R. The occasion was marked by appropriate exercises. The prayer was made by Rev. E. D. Nead, a fighting parson and member of the G. A. R.

Following this a trip through the Fairbanks house was enjoyed, after which the Chapter Members met at the Dedham Community House where luncheon was served.

At 2 p. m. Chapter members and twelve guests met at the Medfield Cemetery where the grave of Mrs. Lydia Hamant Rowe, who was also a "Real Daughter" and Honorary Member of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, was marked. The marker was placed by Mrs. Marshall, a daughter of Mrs. Rowe. Mrs. Bakeman, Chairman of Committee on Preservation of Historic Spots told of the part played by Mrs. Rowe's father during his enlistment. Mrs. Rand, a former State chairman, spoke on the object of the Committee for Preservation of Historic Spots, followed by prayer by the Rev. Mrs. Anita Pickett, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, Medfield.

HAVE YOU HAD YOUR AUTOMOBILE TEST?

Thousands of automobile owners have already had their cars tested at one of the stations authorized by Registrar Goodwin for the inspection of brakes, lights, steering gears, and horns. Many thousands more must have their cars tested during the next week if they desire to have one of the little slips issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles to show that an automobile is in proper condition. Cars without these slips are apt to be stopped by one of Mr. Goodwin's inspectors, and he threatens that the owner of a car so stopped, and which is found to be defective, will be severely prosecuted. It costs nothing to have your car inspected. It may cost your life, or some other person's life if you do not have your car inspected, and if later on you have an accident because your headlights glare, the brakes on your automobile are defective, or its steering gear is out of order.

The following garages and automobile repair shops in Newton have been authorized by Registrar Goodwin as authorized inspection stations in conjunction with the State-wide Safety

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Once more the time approaches for the News of our Clubs' activities, and your Editor bespeaks the co-operation of all Clubwomen, and especially of Club officers, that it may be made of interest and inspiration, and may express somewhat our status in our community.

The first Column will appear in the Graphic of Friday, September 30, and will give advance news of all meetings that take place between that date and Saturday, October 8. As the Column occupies, paradoxically, many columns (during the height of the season five or six), it is evident that the majority of this must be set up in type early in the week, as the paper is mailed so that it is received in many homes on the date of issue, Friday. Since it has to have sequence, unlike "personals," items can not be taken as these shorter paragraphs.

ADVANCE NOTICES must be in the hands of your Club Editor each week on Monday morning mail AT LATEST. The Editor of the Graphic has requested your Club Editor to have ready all ADVANCE NOTICES, and all WRITEUPS of meetings that have taken place between Wednesday and Saturday of the previous week, by Tuesday afternoon. This means your Club Editor must have all material on Monday to work on, and if it can be sent earlier it will be most gratefully received. This is, of course, no hardship to press chairmen who know long in advance from their Year Books the coming meetings, so that they can easily send their notices to reach her on the first mail Monday, or earlier. The only thing to look out for is that all chairmen arranging activities should report to their press chairman in ample time for her to include the item in her report.

WRITEUPS of meetings that take place on Monday and Tuesday.

By having the Advance notices out of the way, and set up in type, it is possible to arrange to save space for accounts of meetings that take place the first two days of the week, provided these reports are sent so that they reach your Club Editor Wednesday afternoon. An advantage in sending in writeups so quickly is that the press chairman remembers the many interesting, amusing and worthwhile bits of business and program, and these records should be written up to contain not only the important business matters and announcements, but to include those delightful personal and entertaining touches that make such interesting reading. In other words our Column is not a mere record of secretary's brief and crisp report, but NEWS generously shared among all Clubs that all readers may find enjoyable as well as informative and inspiring. FULL NAMES of chairmen, presiding officers, speakers, and all mentioned, should be given, as Mrs. John H. Smith, not just Mrs. Smith.

CLUB NEWS IN THE CLUB COLUMN. The Column is the official place for all Club doings—meetings, classes, social and philanthropic activities, hikes, etc., and all chairmen planning any Club event, or any affair for any group of members, should notify their press chairman, and have her report to the Club Editor. They should not report to the Graphic direct, or to the Club Editor. Reporting of all Club affairs is the duty of the press chairman, and her fellow members should assist in every way to give her material that will show her Club alive and flourishing. As a courtesy to your Club Editor the Editor of the Graphic will not allow anything pertaining to Clubs to be printed in any other part of the paper, either as "personals" under the various village headings, or as a special item. And no material will be accepted at the Graphic office, unless sanctioned by the Club Editor, nor will it appear in the Club Column unless edited by her. All notices should be sent to the Editor at her home, 4 Pembroke street, Newton, and not to the Graphic office, as she does her editing at home. All notices should be written out, preferably on typewriter size paper—8½ by 11—not telephoned, except in emergency, when plans change at the last moment, as names taken over the telephone do not—alas!—sound as they are.

HOLIDAYS ON THURSDAY. When a holiday falls on Thursday, such as the Thanksgiving, news should be sent to the Editor to reach her on Saturday. Press chairmen should watch their calendars, therefore.

YEAR BOOKS. And finally, your Club Editor asks the Club Presidents to show her the courtesy of sending to her their Year Books and Calendars, as soon as printed. And she herself will do all in her power to make the News of the Clubs accurate, interesting, and of vital significance, with their kindly co-operation. No Club should be left to "blush unseen or waste its fragrance on the desert air," but that responsibility rests with the press chairman, and her fellow Club women, and it behooves her to use her every talent to place her Club high in the annals of activities, for to this sacred task has she been appointed to office!

NOTICES to appear in the Graphic of September 30 must be in the hands of your Club Editor by the first mail on Monday, September 27.

SEASON BEGINS MONDAY

Miss Edith L. Black, teacher of pianoforte, announces the beginning of a season of teaching at Newton Centre on Monday, September 19th, 1927.

Miss Black is a graduate of the Faelten Pianoforte School and received private instruction from Carl Faelten. She afterwards became a pupil of Heinrich Gebhard and later studied, under Raymond Havens, the famous "Matter" method which she now teaches. She is also available for solo and ensemble playing, or accompanying. Application for lessons may be made by phoning Newton North 2872-W or addressing communications to 5 Porter street, Watertown.—Advertisement.

JAMES H. WHITCOMB

Mr. James Haywood Whitcomb passed away after a long illness Sunday, Sept. 11, in his 81st year, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lee W. Woolston, 38 Mossfield road, Waban. Mrs. Woolston, with whom he had resided for the past two years, is his only survivor.

The funeral took place Wednesday at the Baptist Church in West Acton, Mass., Rev. Mr. Batstone, pastor of the church officiating. The interment was in the family lot in the local cemetery at West Acton.

Mr. Whitcomb was a member of Audubon Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Fitchburg and for many years was American Express Agent at Fitchburg.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The O-E-CE-CA Camp Fire Girls of Newton Highlands held a ceremonial meeting at the home of their Guardian, Mrs. A. H. Elder, Erie avenue, Newton Highlands, on Saturday evening, September 10th. The rank of Fire Maker was awarded to Miss Priscilla Gibbs and Miss Hilda Hammond. Six members received the rank of Torch Bearer—Misses Elizabeth Ball, Margaret Haberstroff, Jean Martin, Ruth Sanders, Dorothy Thompson and Ruthena Warren.

All of the eleven members of O-E-CE-CA Camp Fire Girls have now received the Fire Maker's or second rank in Camp Fire. The Torch Bearer's or third rank which was conferred on the six young ladies mentioned, is the highest rank which a Camp Fire Girl can attain.

A very happy surprise of the evening was the Presentation by the Group of an Arts and Crafts silver pin and glass vase to their Guardian. They also presented a pin to Mrs. Frank D. Warren who has been very helpful to them at various times in connection with some of their hand craft work.

NEWTON WELFARE BUREAU

During the last fortnight, nearly 300 articles of clothing were given to Newton mothers sore distressed over their inability to provide clothing for their school children.

Now the shelves in our Distributing Room, set aside for children's clothing, are empty.

Other Newton mothers daily are appealing to us for their children and look at us almost reproachfully when we tell them we have no more clothing to give.

The children needing the clothing belong to families who have met trouble by sickness, by unemployment or shortened hours of labor, or by the death of the father.

Warm bedding, omitted from the family budget of many Newton families, will be greatly needed during future cold nights.

Who will be the first to send us a bundle—and the next, and the next? Will someone lend to a "shut-in" Revolt of Asia by Upton Close?

The bed spring appealed for in last week's Graphic delivered to us the following Monday. The generous donor added a mattress to the gift. One narrow bed no longer contains three little girls.

ADDS TO FALL SCHEDULE

On Monday evening of this week the steamer Mayflower, owned and operated by the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Co., New England's only floating ballroom steamer, began its fall schedule of sailing six evenings a week.

Up to this time the Mayflower has sailed on only five evenings a week, but owing to the popularity of this moonlight sail on Boston harbor, the additional night has been added thus making it possible for pleasure seekers and dance lovers to take this trip any week day night, Monday to Saturday inclusive.

The Mayflower leaves Rowes Wharf at 8:30 P. M. and returns to Boston at 11:15 P. M., in ample time for suburbanites and out of town patrons to reach their homes at an early hour.

Mr. Frederick L. Lane, general manager of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Co., has contracted for the remainder of the season with the "Seven Jolly Tars" orchestra.

The full crew of 60 men and women that are maintained on this big dancing steamer during the summer season will be kept on for the comfort and convenience of the Mayflower patrons, the balance of the season which is scheduled to close Christmas day.

POSTPONE ACTION ON MAYOR'S VETO

Mayor Childs sent to the Board of Aldermen at its meeting Monday night a veto of the order adopted by the aldermen on July 25th which granted a Common Victualer's license to Mrs. Jennie Moriarty at 229 River street, West Newton. He gave as a reason for the veto that some of the people residing in that section had objected to the license being granted, and the matter should receive further consideration. Alderman Flitts moved that the Aldermen take no action on the Mayor's veto until the next meeting on October 3rd. The Board, with the exception of Alderman Heathcote, voted in favor of this motion.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

It would seem that Newton has the question of school accommodations well in hand. To me such enterprise is highly commendable for where wise provision is made for education local conditions are certain to be excellent, or as near that point as possible.

The youth of the country are not only entitled to all advantages of learning, but the municipality that realizes its opportunity in this regard is making a sound investment. It is building for the future, which includes the development, mentally and physically, of all growing children.

Now then, what is Newton doing about the housing situation? Is it determined that this shall be a city of dwelling houses, with no provisions for apartment buildings? And are those dwellings to be divided into classes whereby the dwellers in two or three-family houses shall occupy certain neighborhoods and the single families other districts?

Mark you, I am not interested in apartment buildings, their construction or their occupancy. No real estate agent has been whispering in my ear and no builders have asked me "write a piece for the paper."

I have, however, heard of the case of a prominent Newton man, whose public spirit has never been questioned and who is a free-giver to all charities. Moreover, he is thoughtful and always on the lookout to do good.

This man finds himself the owner of a large house which might easily be converted into a family hotel, an apartment house or even a dwelling for two families. Furthermore, it might be used as clubhouse or a private hospital without damaging the character of the neighborhood. Any step he would take would be for the city's advantage, for he is that kind of a man. And yet Newton's zoning ordinance, building restrictions, etc., all have this man bound tight. He must find a single family to occupy this large house or let it remain idle.

I have no doubt there are similar cases in the city. But whether there are or not, here is an existing condition which does not seem fair.

Naturally, one asks how did it come about and what is the solution? I frankly admit that I cannot answer. I believe, however, that we can have too many laws, too many city ordinances and too many restrictions on family dwellings. Nothing man-made is perfect. Life is, after all, something of an experiment itself. Therefore, it is barely possible that City Hall, which sometimes seems a bit cocksure of itself, may have slipped a cog. What about it?

Two Newton residents were discussing their first trip abroad with a friend who had crossed several times.

"Tell me, what did you see?" the latter inquired.

"Well, we had a very interesting time," came the joint reply. "We saw some magnificent art galleries, some glorious cathedrals and beautiful public parks and statues. Many wonderful views, too, looking from all sorts of places. Then we did some mountain-climbing and took a lot of sight-seeing trips. O, we did everything."

"That was fine," the much-traveled friend agreed. "By the way are you fond of visiting art galleries and public buildings?"

"We enjoyed it," came the reply from the recently returned tourists. "Did you ever visit the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston?" persisted the friend.

"No."

"Ever look over the Boston Public Library, the State House or any of our large public buildings in Boston, or New York?"

"Well, no," the couple admitted.

"Did you ever go around Boston or any other American city looking over the beautiful churches and cathedrals?"

"Can't say that we ever have."

"Ever try mountain-climbing in New Hampshire or anywhere in this country?" the friend continued.

"No," the couple replied, with increasing embarrassment.

"But you took it up when you got to Europe?"

"They nodded assent."

"Didn't go around to see how the people over there in the same line of business as you conduct their establishments?" the quizzing friend asked the husband.

There was only a shake of the head in reply.

"And you," he pursued, addressing the wife, "you didn't try to see how the people in those countries keep house?"

"Same negative answer."

"But you got a lot of postcards and did much gazing and that was about all, eh?"

"They wouldn't give us time for anything else," the husband at last explained.

"But you're sure you had a good time?" asked the friend.

"Not so sure as we were before you called," the wife retorted, rather sourly.

At this point the diplomatic husband reached over and turned on the radio.

Newspaper accounts of a New Hampshire woman who sat for thirteen hours one day counting the number of automobiles that passed her house seem to offer food for thought. For purposes of argument, or at least contemplation, let us transfer the supposititious scene of action to Newton, and furthermore, let me address the women readers of this column.

Suppose you decided to make a count of the passing motorgs from your front window. How much time could you spare? If you found that you could not devote all daylight hours to the ceremony what part of the day would you select? Would you wait until the breakfast dishes had been removed and, setting aside all other duties or concerns, draw up a chair with a pad of paper and pencil in your hand and start gazing?

Assuming you should set about the task in a business-like way, determined to mark down each, one by one, until you had a satisfactory tally; scarcely would you get settled than there would come a telephone call.

It might be one of your friends who thought she had something to say and who took considerable time to say it. There would then be a gap that couldn't be filled.

You would resume your counting only to be summoned into the kitchen to solve some minor domestic problem that demanded immediate attention. Again you would have missed some cars. But your determination would still be keen and again you would grab pencil and paper.

Then, after a dozen or more cars had passed, it would occur to you that there was an errand in the village that demanded your personal attention. Out you would go and hop in to your car. Would you count your own car in that event, or wouldn't you?

Of course, the taking of the tally would have to be suspended for lunch. As soon after you would tackle the job again. Then somebody would be sure to call, and you wouldn't want them to find you in such an undignified occupation.

Valuable time would have elapsed before you could resume the important statistics. Maybe the late afternoon would offer a splendid chance, but what about dinner? And later, the arrival of the male members of your household.

No, no, the whole business seems too complex for the fair readers of this column. Consequently, I wouldn't urge it for the world. Let's try and think of something that doesn't require so much time.

I think I shall take a day of my vacation, which is yet to come, to observe the tiding squadrons which I understand is to undertake the collection of garbage in this city. Please do not think that I am attempting to be humorous at the expense of the contractor who has agreed to perform the work. The fact is I think Newton is stepping out, progressing, to use a more dignified word, in the disposal of clearings from kitchen sink and dining table.

To my mind it has always seemed a bit suggestive of ancient times to see a garbage wagon, with the top open, slowly drawn through the streets, while the driver entered one back-yard after another. The horse has always been part of the work, for he seemed to know when to stop and go ahead. I know of one driver who gets on my nerves by yelling at his beast until the poor thing drops back on his haunches in fear. But this is a sanitary and not a humane matter, so the horse doesn't count, or won't after October 1.

We do have a way in Newton, which is not unlike other communities, of being content to let certain things slide along. That probably accounts for the failure to handle the garbage situation any differently. Now that we are to have automobiles to do the work we should be free of this slow method of emptying householder containers. I hope the new contractor, whom I do not know and of whom I never heard before, makes good in his undertaking, particularly as his figures are less than what the city has been paying for a long period.

CUP SERIES STARTS

Upper Falls, Highlands and Auburndale All Have Chance

The second annual baseball series in the Newton Twilight league for a year's possession of the Graphic Cup and the title of City Champions will start tomorrow afternoon on the Newton Highlands playground. Secretary Rufus H. Bond made the statement last night that inasmuch as several league games in the second half have not been played off because of the early darkness that the two leading teams, Newton Highlands and Corpus Christi, would battle the first half champions, Upper Falls, for the title and a leg on the cup. While the Newton Highlands team is at present in the lead for the second half it has been increasingly difficult to get the teams together to play off the postponed contests, thus leaving Auburndale in the position of having a chance to tie the leaders if the schedule could be played out. With many of the players either going away to college or school shortly there is not time to play a preliminary series prior to staging a city series between the Upper Falls and the other winning team. Because of these facts Secretary Bond has announced the following schedule of games to decide the city championship and winner of the second leg on the Graphic Cup.

Tomorrow afternoon at Newton Highlands, as previously stated, the Newton Highlands team and the Upper Falls nine will stage the opening game. On Sunday afternoon at Upper Falls the Corpus Christi club will get its chance at the first half champions. The following Saturday, Sept. 24, the Highlands and Auburndale outfits will play one game on West Newton Common to decide which will meet Upper Falls to settle the issue. If, after this game, the two teams are still tied they will play a deciding game on Sunday and the winner will meet Upper Falls the following Saturday. There is still a possibility of there being a tie between that team and Upper Falls if the latter should drop its game this week-end to one of the two and then win on Oct. 1st. If such is the case the deciding and final game will be played the next day. Should Upper Falls win both of its games tomorrow and Sunday and then a week from Sunday defeat the winner of the Auburndale-Highlands game it will be all over and Upper Falls will win the cup and title.

The following players are eligible to represent their respective teams: Upper Falls—Neal Mahoney, John Moore, Leo Crowley, Edw. Stanton, George Kenney, Joseph Russell, Steve Bennett, Newton Hanscom, John Simpson, William Proctor, Michael De-George, Joseph Pelouquin, John Proctor, Edward Goodwin, Charles Bridley, Thomas Simpson, manager.

Corpus Christi—J. Powers, R. Pickard, E. Scribner, J. Garvey, N. Maher, J. Larkin, W. Sullivan, J. Ryan, C. Leary, M. Connelly, Sharkey Dowling, Al Ryan, Fat Foster, Joe Bancroft, Charles McVarrish and J. Maher.

NEWTON GIRL SCOUTS

Have Had a Busy and Profitable Summer—Many Girls Awarded Honors for Their Good Work

Way down in our Girl Scout hearts we have a feeling for you, Mary Day for you.

And we think you're just about right—just about right.

The campers who wrote this song certainly did think that Camp Mary Day was just about right, and in spite of many rainy days and a consequent lack of swimming and other outdoor activities, the girls' spirits remained undaunted and they greeted each rainy day with just as much pep and enthusiasm as they did the pleasant ones.

One hundred Newton Girl Scouts were accommodated in their Camp Mary Day in Natick in four encampments of two weeks each, and eighteen officers in a fifth encampment devoted to officers' training.

The younger girls came early in the summer and the older girls in the last two encampments. It is interesting to note that the girls came from ten villages and twenty-two troops. Newtonville sent 27 girls, Newton 27, Newton Centre 11, Waban 8, West Newton 12, Newton Upper Falls 7, Auburndale 4, Newton Highlands 15, Nonantum 5, and Thompsonville 2.

Many councillors helped to make the summer a pleasant one. Miss Florence Hills of Newtonville stayed for all 10 weeks, Miss Gertrude Melick, the Red Cross nurse was there for 9 weeks, Miss Dorothy Colby and Miss Mildred Lovejoy of Newton Upper Falls and West Newton for 8, Miss Muriel Post of Philadelphia was at camp for 5 weeks, Miss Marion Clapp of Brookline, Miss Ruth Lapham of Newtonville, Louise Lovejoy of West Newton, Barbara Partridge of Newton, Eleanor Hall of West Newton, and Anne Kenefick, Newton Upper Falls were there for 4, Miss Lois Ladd of West Newton was there for 3 weeks and Barbara Jack, Marjorie Newell and Shirley Eddy all of West Newton spent 2 weeks at camp. Miss Ruth Houghton and Miss Alice Goodnow were camp cooks for 9 and 6 weeks respectively. Miss Goodnow's place being taken by her sister Dorothy when she left.

The 2 Red Cross Life Saving Examiners, Mrs. James Warren of Waban and Miss Dorothy Colby were kept very busy and at the end of the summer we had 12 new life savers and 4 who had reviewed their tests. Mr. Bristol Baughner, who had charge of Life Saving at Crystal Lake this summer paid us a visit and was doing of seeing just what we were doing and of interesting the girls to continue with the work at Crystal Lake after they left camp.

The Star Gazer, Flower Finder, Sailor and Craftsman merit badges were very popular and with a Red Cross nurse many girls welcomed the opportunity to Study First Aid, Child Nurse and Home Nurse.

One of the outstanding features of the summer was a luncheon and short entertainment given for the Newton Rotarians and their wives. Six of the campers served the luncheon and the girls sang many of their favorite songs for the guests. After luncheon Miss Freeman, the Director, took the guests for a short walk around the camp and pointed out the interesting features. Then the girls put on a stunt which they called "A Day in Camp." Reveille blew and five sleepy girls attired in pajamas and bathrobes staggered out of each tent for morning "jerks." By the time jerks were over the girls were no longer sleepy but rushed back to their tents full of pep, and joyous shouts rang from one end of the campus to the other. Colors came next—an impressive flag ceremony, and after that inspection which afforded much amusement for the girls in one tent had, at the last moment, taken all their beds out onto the campus in order to have a real clean-up, and were caught in the act at 5 minute warning with not enough time to get things back in order before the inspecting officers arrived for the inspection the girls collected in small groups for their classes, one of which proved especially interesting to the visitors—fire building in the open. A peppy game followed, and then the girls gathered to watch an original "campfire" given by one tent and to sing some more. The entertainment was brought to a close by "Retreat" and a Goodnight song around the flag pole. Then the girls scampered off to bed and as "Taps" blew, the guests had a view of the tents with the girls under their mosquito nettings.

One thing that was not included in this entertainment, but which stands out in the memory of every girl who goes to camp is the candlelight service held the last night of each encampment. At that time special awards are made and the girl who has been chosen by her mates and the councillors as having shown the best spirit during that encampment is given Camp Letters and a silver Camp Spirit pin and Camp Letters are bestowed upon three other girls whom the councillors have chosen as having also shown very fine spirit. The Camp Spirit girl kindles her candles at the open fire in the Camp House and passes around the circle of her friends, each of whom lights her candle from the Camp Spirit torch, as she sings the Girl Scout Litany. Then follows a never to be forgotten picture of lights from many candles, and the strains of the Camp Spirit song as the girls follow their chosen leader out into the night to their tents. The following girls received these honors this summer:

Camp Spirit: Phyllis Burnell and Alma Warner, Troop 1, Newtonville; Elsie Stephen, Troop 4, Waban; Susan Slocum, Troop 10, Newtonville; Marion Bridget, Troop 17, Newton Upper Falls.

Camp Letters: Jean Robb, Carol Shattuck, Troop 1, Newtonville; Anne Kendall, Troop 3, Newton Centre; Della Fisher, Troop 7, Newton Upper Falls; Emily deWolfe, Troop 16, Nonantum; Eveyne Morse, Troop 4, Waban; Barbara Mildram, Troop 22, Newtonville; Kathleen McKenzie, Troop 5, Thompsonville; Jane Brown, Troop 2, Newton; Eleanor Collins, Catherine Carrick, Troop 21, Newton Highlands; Louise Chambers, Troop 10, Newtonville.

During the eight weeks that camp was open to the girls, four groups of Girl Scouts that were left at home hiked to camp and were entertained by the campers.

The officers' training course this year proved to be very enjoyable as well as beneficial to the 18 Junior and Senior officers who attended. It was run on the patrol system, as were the other camps, with one additional feature, that of cooking. This duty, however, was voted a pleasure, as the work was so well divided that no one suffered in the east.

The morning were given over to fatigue, court of honor, assembly, which combined discussion of the laws by patrols with group instruction, and class work. The afternoons were filled with such pleasures as swimming, craft, hikes and sports, and campfires by patrols, games and interesting discussions made the evenings fly by, so that Taps seemed to come all too soon.

Camp Mary Day will be open this fall to troops whose captains have reviewed week-ends. We hope that some of the girls whose names had to go on the waiting list this summer will be able to enjoy one of these week-ends and experience some of the pleasure which makes Camp Mary Day so dear to the hearts of the Newton Girl Scouts.

TWO ALARM FIRE

The two story brick brick and tile building at 25 Kempton Place, West Newton, owned by Horace M. Walton, and occupied in part by A. S. Bartlett & Son, manufacturers of a waterproofing substance for fabrics, was the scene of a fierce fire yesterday afternoon at 2:30. Two alarms were pulled from Box 311, calling most of Newton's apparatus. Engine 1 of Waltham also responded. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed that a kettle containing an inflammable mixture used in the waterproofing, boiled over. The contents of the place burned spectacularly for ten minutes, destroying much of the roof of one end of the building. The damage is about $2,000.

Most of the building was formerly used as a storage warehouse by Charles Buckman, but sometime ago Mr. Buckman ceased to be a tenant, when he erected his own warehouse on Dunstan street, so there was no furniture in the burned structure.

CUP SERIES ON

Highlands Leads Upper Falls in Quest for City Title

The opening of the Twilight League championship series for the Graphic Cup and the city title took place last Saturday afternoon on the Newton Highlands playground. Newton Highlands and Upper Falls were the contesting aggregations, with the former coming out on top 3 to 6. Sullivan was on the mound for the Southsiders with Stumpf behind the bat. The Falls team used Bridget in the box with Moore on the receiving end.

Sunday afternoon the same two teams put on a 14-inning tie which ended at 6 o'clock, as per State law, with both teams having scored two runs. Upper Falls was fortunate to get a draw as they were one run down going into the last half of the ninth. They managed to push over the tally which sent the game into extra innings. In the 10th Highlands came to bat and by virtue of Connors' double and several succeeding plays counted two runs. Upper Falls showed a tendency to stall with the hope that the inning would not be finished before six. As the inning was not finished the game was called a tie, with the score reverting back to the preceding frame. McLaughlin pitched for the Highlands and Kenney for the Falls. Stumpf and Moore caught for their respective teams.

The rival teams will meet again tomorrow afternoon at Newton Highlands and Sunday afternoon at Upper Falls. The series is to be the best three out of five. In the event that any more games are needed to decide the winner after Sunday's game they will be played on the following Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

The Corpus Christi team is still fighting for a chance to get in on the city series, as they claim that they could have had a chance to tie the Highlands for the second half lead had the entire schedule been played out. Officials of the league are considering this claim, but it is doubtful if there will be time to play another series after the conclusion of the present one.

$350,000 WANTED

To Complete the Campaign for the Newton Hospital

Work of raising the $350,000 which is needed to complete the Newton Hospital building fund is to begin actively on September 30 and to continue throughout October, Leon B. Rogers, chairman of the campaign announced at a dinner of the campaign executive committee at the Brae-Burn Country Club last Thursday night. Twenty-five members of the committee were present to hear the outline of work.

To raise the balance of the building fund the general campaign organization which functioned last year is to be utilized insofar as possible. Mr. Rogers told the committee. A committee to represent each community is to be organized, and to consist of at least 10 team workers. Immediately after September 30 solicitation is to begin. Mr. Rogers is to continue as general chairman, E. J. Frost as special gifts chairman, and Henry J. Nichols as organization chairman. The other members of the executive committee are to carry on their duties. It was announced that as the result of last year's campaign $1,018,209.55 was pledged, and later $133,500 more was subscribed on the condition that the balance of the building fund be raised. The grand total, as announced, is $1,151,709.55, or approximately 77 per cent of the fund sought.

Work on the new hospital building will be pushed. Mr. Rogers stated, but completion of the building cannot be assured until the balance of the building fund is pledged. It is expected that the building will be roofed by the beginning of the winter weather, so construction will not be hindered by snow. Considerable progress was made this last week in the excavation for the foundation.

RUSHING WORK ON NEW GRAND STANDS

The new portable stands which are being constructed for use at the High School Grounds are rapidly being built. The John McDonald Construction Company, which is making these stands, expects to have enough sections finished tonight to accommodate 500 spectators at the football game tomorrow between Newton High and St. Mary's High. The old permanent stands at the high school field, which have been repaired will also be used.

DICKINSON MEMORIAL

Public Meeting to be Held September 29th to Consider Plans and Finances

Next Thursday evening, Sept. 29th, at 8 o'clock, in the assembly hall of the new high school building on Walnut street, Newtonville, an open meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing a memorial to the late Alfred W. Dickinson, who for 17 years guided the athletic activities at the Newton High School. Anyone interested in recognizing the worth of the late Newton coach or who believes in the perpetuation of the good sportsmanship as taught by him, as well as those interested in the athletic activities of the youth of the city, are urged to attend.

On Thursday, June 2nd, 1927, a group of Newton citizens who believed that some fitting recognition of "Mr. Dick" as he was known to many, should be made, met to consider the matter. A committee consisting of Maynard Hutchinson, chairman, Frank L. Richardson, Albert P. Carter, Albert M. Lyon, C. Clark Macomber, William H. Rice and Francis L. Bacon, was appointed to go more deeply into the situation and make recommendations. Since that time the committee has held two meetings and is now ready to recommend action along lines that seem most fitting and appropriate. The meeting is to be entirely informal and no contributions will be solicited at this time.

CHURCH MISSION

For the past two weeks a mission has been conducted at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, by three priests of the Dominican Order from the New London house of that society. The mission was conducted by Rev. William X. O'Connell, formerly president of Providence College. He has been assisted by Rev. Raphael Burke, O.P., and Rev. Thomas Conlon, O.P. The first week of the mission was for the women of Our Lady's parish, and the present week was set aside for the men of the parish. The services have consisted of masses held at 5:30 and 7 each morning, and instructions, a sermon and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament each evening. The evening services starting at 7:45. During both weeks the church has been so crowded by those attending the services that it has been necessary to place a large number of chairs in the sanctuary to accommodate the overflow.

SCHOOL NEWS

The enrollment at the Newton schools on the opening day, Sept. 12, was 9619 pupils, divided as follows: High School 2117, Frank A. Day Junior High 659, Levi Warren Junior High 624, Bigelow 278, Underwood 490, Lincoln 32, Horace Mann 331, Adams 154, Claflin 399, Stearns 476, Eliot 113, Peirce 253, Davis 279, Franklin 202, Barnard 31, Burr 253, Williams 235, Hamilton 83, Angier 360, Hyde 580, Emerson 521, Mason 698, Rice 267, Bowen 178, Oak Hill 12. A considerable number of additional pupils have enrolled in the past ten days.

The Franklin School at West Newton had to close two days this past week because of fleas. The "varmints" made their appearance in the school as a result of a new walk which had been built lately in front of the school building. While the walk was being constructed a multitude of sand fleas were liberated and they invaded the school. The fleas proved too great a handicap to successful studying by the children as the latter were all "on scratch." The school was closed one day to allow for the asphyxiation of the pests. It was closed on a second day to permit a more thorough disappearance of the fumes.

DOGS STILL BITING

Dogs owned by Arthur Vaughan of Avalon road and Charles DeWolfe of Rockledge road were ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle notified to examine them on Saturday after they had bitten persons. The complaint against Vaughan's dog was made by Edward Bingham of Bedford street, Waltham; that against DeWolfe's dog was made by Mrs. C. G. Hunt of Woodcliffe road, Newton Highlands.

SLIGHT BLAZE AT VERNON COURT

A short circuit in a dynamo at Vernon Court Hotel on Sunday morning caused Patrolman Marshall to summon Engine 1 company on a slight alarm. The damage was slight.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SEASON OPENS TOMORROW

Newton High Tackles St. Mary's High

Tomorrow afternoon on Claffin Field at 3 o'clock the curtain on the local football season will be raised when Newton High and St. Mary's High of Waltham will stage the initial football game in this vicinity for 1927. It will be Newton's first game of the season as well as its first game under the tutelage of the new coach, John L. Sullivan, who was appointed to succeed the late Alfred W. Dickinson. St. Mary's will be laying its second game, having been defeated last Saturday afternoon at Waltham by the Dean Academy seconds, 10 to 0. Newton needs the victory to put the team in the right frame of mind for the following games which make up one of the hardest schedules an Orange and Black eleven has faced in several years. St. Mary's will be fighting just as hard to make it their first 1927 victory as well as to win over a Garden City team, a feat which always arouses considerable interest by the Watch City fans.

How the Newton eleven will take the field has not been completely decided and what the outcome of the game will be cannot be foretold. Newton hopes for victory as do the visitors. Newton is taking its baptism, while St. Mary's failed to show a great deal last Saturday when not one first down was made against Dean. Yesterday Romaine Cole was elected temporary captain to take the place of Frank Spain, who resigned at the opening of practice. Cole and Scheinfeld were tied but the latter being a junior resigned in favor of Cole, who plays the opposite end and is a senior. This appointment is not permanent and an election to the captaincy will probably be held prior to next week's game with Medford. Cole will play right end, with Scheinfeld on the left wing. Hamilton and Marsh will play the tackle positions, with Harrington and Shea at left and right guard respectively. Creighton Gatchell will hold down the pivot berth.

Either Phil Andres or Joe Gilligan will call the signals. If Andres is at quarterback Gilligan will play left halfback. McIntyre will be the other half and Robert Bennett at full. Bennett and Andres will do most of the punting. The team as it lines up averages just under 160 pounds in the line and 155 in the backfield. Bennett, 177 pounds, is the heaviest and McIntyre, 140, the lightest. In the line, Harrington and Marsh, weighing 171 and 168 respectively, and Scheinfeld and Cole, weighing 143 and 147 respectively, are the range within which the line falls.

The appointment of Carson Stanwood as assistant coach the first of the week has added materially in the development of the line. Warren Blue will continue to help Sullivan with the line. Donald Enoch, who was also assistant, is handling the full back practice and is not available for football. Hard scrimmages have been held nearly every day since last Friday and the boys are beginning to round into shape. Nothing strenuous will be done today as the Newton mentor plans to polish off the ragged edges and have a stiff signal session.

St. Mary's, having no age limit, has several players on its eleven who are above the average age of the majority of schoolboy teams. At the opening of the practice sessions two weeks ago Frank Smith, former Waltham High and Dartmouth star, was named the coach. A subsequent appointment as a physical instructor in the Waltham Junior High Schools forced the St. Mary's authorities to appoint another coach. Nate Coleman, ex-Waltham and Holy Cross player, took over the reins following the game with Dean seconds last Saturday. Ford, a star tackle last year, and Smith, a guard and end, who were expected to be mainstays on the Purple eleven this year, did not return to school. In the opening game Coach Smith started the following lineup: Amendola, re; Rowen, tt; J. Connors, rg; Linnehan, c; Coleman, lg; Higgins, lt; McArdle, le; Lally, qb; Sullivan, rhb; Morris, lhb; Morrell, fb. Coach Coleman will probably start practically the same eleven men, although Daniels and Sherman, ends; Kinslea and L. Connors, guards will be used sometime before the game is over.

St. Mary's had but little offense in the game with the Dean seconds but on the defense it proved to be quite stubborn at times. More than three quarters of the time the ball was in the opponents' possession. In the second quarter the St. Mary's eleven stood off the Dean advance within a foot of the goal line after an advance from midfield. The stand was in vain, however, as after the kickoff the visitors got back into the danger zone by virtue of a 15-yard penalty and crossed the line on a forward pass. Morrell, who did the punting for St. Mary's, had to hurry his kicks time and again as the opposing forwards kept sifting through.

Regardless of the showing of the St. Mary's eleven in the game last Saturday they will undoubtedly be a much improved aggregation tomorrow. Any team that has passed its first game has learned where the work is needed and many of the rough points are smoothed out before the next game is at hand. No one can predict the outcome of tomorrow's Newton-St. Mary's affair. It should be an interesting game to watch. Any Waltham aggregation facing a Garden City outfit provides an attraction, there is such keen rivalry between the two cities. Newton is playing its first game under its new coach against a heavier team that has had a week's start.

WILL PLAY UNDER 1927 RULES

Wednesday night at a meeting of the faculty managers and coaches of teams which are members of the Suburban League at the University Club it was voted to support wholeheartedly the new football rules. Last week at a league meeting it was said that the teams might play under the old rules but since one of the sections has been clarified to prevent a fuke touchdown resulting from a lateral pass it was decided to adopt the new set. Those present, which represented every team in the league except Somerville, believed that the game will benefit by the new rules but that only the very best of officials should be engaged to handle the games because of the burden involved.

It was also voted to mark the goal line so that it will be more readily distinguished since the goal posts have been moved back ten yards. The two goal lines will be extended past the side lines of the field for five yards and flags will be placed at each end of the line. Lines will also be drawn from the goal post to the goal line to further distinguish it.

Kevoorkian in Backfield

Beef Kevoorkian, the star guard of the Brown team, has been having a change from the steady diet of line workouts when Coach McLaughry turned him loose in the backfield because of the dearth of backs. The big boy surely can make a line look wilted when he collides, but he is too good a guard to ever sacrifice his strength there for somewhere else. He has been leading the interference, and doing all the place kicking for the team. If he can maintain the present speed that he is going at he will more than fill Mian Gullian's place in the hearts of the followers of Newton's boys.

Rowdoin to Use Several Newtonians

The latest news from Bowdoin seems to show that Newton will have a large percentage of the team playing under the name of Bowdoin Varsity. Bob Adams is ready to start his second year as end, and Dan Kennedy of Chestnut Hill, along with Dawson Alexander of Newton, will be in the line this season. When the whistle starts to blow, Winslow Howland is expected to hold down the pivot post, since Oakes has not returned to college, and Bob Thayer will doubtless run the team from the quarterback position. Among the backs that he has to call upon will be Stuart Stone, who has been the revelation of the game at the Polar Bears' camp. He is faster than ever, and when it comes to hitting a line, he is unbeatable.

Partridge Wins Gross Prize

Bo Partridge, the captain of the Brown golf team, won the gross at Bellevue last week. He has been playing a remarkably consistent piece of golf ever since he has gotten over the serious illness which handicapped his game in the latter part of the spring. He had the distinction of not losing a match during the college season, and he and Roland MacKenzie been properly supported. It is doubtful if any team in the country could have turned them back.

Virginia Hodder Wins Net

Virginia Hodder has been winning lately among all the women golfers in the vicinity. Last week she took the best net at Andover, and then she turned around and won the women's championship out at Framingham. She is a powerfully built girl, and if her timing is working there are few that can take her. She soon will be in a class with the women that her brother shoots in with the men.

McLean to Be Mainstay

Carl McLean, the big guard at the Harvard School, is expected back for the next year's schedule. This big boy has more possibilities than any other player in Newton. If he can only generate enough speed and energy to keep up with the new type of game there are a very few men that could make him look poorly in the line.

Thayer Wins Yacht Race

Bob Thayer continued his winning habits in the Marblehead races when he took the Commodore's ship in to win the other day. The Eualah II has been winning all season under his skipperage, and he is noted the length of the coast for his ability to make the most of every catpaw and carry home more wins than any other junior skipper.

"Dandy" Lyons in B. C. Backfield

Frank Lyons has been given a great opportunity by Daley at Boston College when Daley sent him to the second string backfield. Dandy Lyons at Newton was a great defensive back and a No. 1 man who could be depended upon to clean out the defense. He evidently has shown some of his old-time fight, and Daley will make no mistake to string along with the husky back for he is a willing worker and has real ability.

Lower Falls Wins Tennis Title

Last Saturday afternoon before a large gallery of tennis fans from Lower Falls, Waltham, Auburndale and West Newton at the Lower Falls playground, Miss Doris Esart and her partner, Leslie Barrie, both of Auburndale and representing the Riverside Recreation Grounds, were defeated in a mixed doubles match, 6-1 and 6-2, by Miss Mary Powers and Edwin C. Eaton. The latter combination represented Lower Falls although both reside in Auburndale.

Miss Powers Wins Singles

Following the doubles match Miss Powers defeated Miss Esart, 6-0, in a singles match. The set was played in very fast time with Miss Powers in command of the situation at all times. Her placements were well timed and her marvelous backhand returns completely outpointed Miss Esart. The latter played well, especially in the doubles match, and this pair would be hard to beat should they team together.

Providence last Saturday, 8 matches to 7, included three local golfers in the persons of Joe Lynch, Eddie Stimpson and Clark Hodder. The two teams broke even in the first four foursomes in one of which Eddie Stimpson and F. P. Hersey were defeated 3 and 1. In the odd foursome Hodder and Batchelder forced their opponents to the 21st hole before losing out. The Bay State team took the lead again in the singles matches in which Stimpson beat Gardner, 5 and 4, Lynch won over Toller, 4 and 3, while Hodder lost to Gammans 6 and 5.

Holbrook On Team C

Guy Holbrook, former Newton high athlete, is playing the number one back on the Harvard team C. The blonde athlete should not take very long to convince the Crimson coaches that he is good enough for a higher rating. He was a consistent ground gainer for last year's freshman eleven and before graduating from college will probably have a major part in athletics, not only in football but in hockey and possibly baseball as well.

Noble Advances To Third Round

Arthur Noble, Newton high tennis star and Canadian junior champion, advanced to the third round in the Bellevue Golf Club fall tennis tournament at Melrose last Saturday. In the first round Noble defeated Morse 6-1, 6-3 and in the second round eliminated McCrae after dropping the first set, 6-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Louis Volpe, Jr., Newton Centre professional tennis player, has entered the United States pro tourney which takes place in New York this weekend. The 17-year old youth was promoted.

Philip J. Perry, former Newton high swimming star, is on the University of Vermont football squad where he is trying out for a guard position. Last year Perry made the freshman team as a guard and played a strong game throughout the season despite the fact that he had had no previous gridiron experience. His many friends are hoping to see him get into the Harvard game at the Stadium early next month.

ELECTRICITY— Ready to Serve You!

Refrigeration—Electricity in your home puts the enjoyment of electrical refrigeration at your service. This pure, dry cold keeps food fresh for days at a time, freezes dainty desserts, and supplies cubes of ice for beverages.

Ironing—You can have an electric iron ready to serve you at an instant's notice, when your home is wired for electricity. Iron what you want, when you wish to, and do it in the economical way—electrically.

Washing—Electric washing and ironing machines have made "Blue Monday" a thing of the past in the American home. Their convenience, ease of operation and economy are a blessing to the housewife whose home is wired for electricity.

Cleaning—The electric vacuum cleaner is making housework more rapidly and easily accomplished in thousands of homes which are wired for electricity. With all its attachments the cleaner is, in reality, a servant that costs very little.

Ventilation—Everybody realizes how enjoyable an electric fan is during hot weather. You can have fans, too, to keep you cool and comfortable, and give you plenty of fresh, pure, health-giving air—at a very small cost.

Electricity means more today than merely illumination. It furnishes comfort and convenience that make the home more enjoyable and household duties more quickly and easily accomplished.

Think of being able to "plug in" to a handy "convenience outlet"—and have the pleasures of electrical refrigeration, cooking and labor-saving devices ready to serve you at an instant's notice. Electricity is yours to use—at a small cost.

That's why you should investigate home wiring—and learn about the new economical rate for electrical refrigeration and cooking.

Electricity is waiting to serve you—to increase your enjoyment of life—to make your property more valuable.

Have a Contractor Wire Your Home

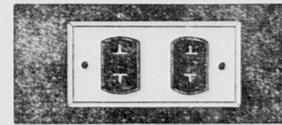

GET in touch with your local Electrical Contractor. Tell him what you want and he will show you just how reasonably your house can be wired—how he will install new wiring—or increase your present installations to accommodate any new services you desire. He will tell you how it is possible, in many cases, to purchase your wiring and fixtures on easy monthly payments. He knows his job and he will help you in every way he can to get your share of electricity's benefits. Why not make it a point to see him today—before it slips your mind?

Cooking—The advantages of cooking by electricity are many. Smoke, soot, flame, and ashes are avoided, and dishes are prepared more quickly, with less effort. Electric Ranges are efficient, simple to operate, and economical in power consumption.

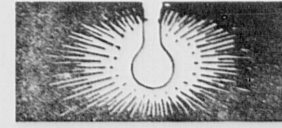

Illumination—More artistic and better illumination is yours when your house is wired. Hundreds of attractive lamps are awaiting your choice. Their cost is small—the beauty and comfort they bring to your home is great, indeed.

Convenience Outlets enable you to attach your electric appliances where most convenient. When your house is properly equipped with these handy little plates, your appliances will work for you wherever you desire to "plug them in."

At Breakfast—Electric percolators, toasters, waffle irons, and other appliances which function right at the table, make breakfast a delight in the home which has electricity. All of these devices are convenient, serviceable, and economical.

Light—In every corner, just where you want it. Down cellar, or in dark closets, an electric light will rob the dark of its danger. When your home is wired, you can have every nook and corner flooded with light to use when you need it.

The first tracks to be removed in this city by the Middlesex & Boston car from a street where the electric car service had been replaced by buses, where those on Adams street. Then the tracks on Centre street at Newton Highlands and Newton Centre were taken up. Now the tracks on Walnut street on Watertown street at Newtonville and Nonantum are to be removed. It can hardly be truthfully asserted that "Nonantum is being discriminated against."

The pumping equipment at the new well of the Newton water system in the reservation at Needham was furnished and installed by Starkweather & Broadhurst of Boston, of which firm William G. Starkweather of Newtonville is a member. This firm gave the city a very favorable price on this work and completed its contract well within the time specified. Mr. Starkweather is enthusiastic over Newton's water supply. He believes it far superior to the Metropolitan supply, coming as it does from underground sources, filtered through clean sand and gravel. The new well is full of clear, cold, pure water, and is said at least two million gallons daily to Newton's supply. When another well will have been built at the Dedham end of the water reservation, Newton should find it unnecessary for some years to draw on the Metropolitan supply.

All the colleges are under way again, or if they are not they will be before the week is out. Many are beginning the work of college for the first time while others are eagerly returning to pick up the threads that were laid aside for an all too brief intermission in the summer. The campus will echo with, "Did you have a good summer?" "Where were you?" and "I'll see you later." The old crowd will meet and say that the freshmen are the poorest set that has ever come in, the new crowd will stand in awe as a janitor goes by, and say that is the president of the college. The old story, yet it always has its appeal, and when that first bell for chapel booms out over the campus, the students will be glad that once again the matter of education is under way.

Boston University will welcome to its portals one of Exeter's best when Carleton McCullough of Newton Centre comes in this week. Buster is a crack athlete holding a letter in football and baseball, and having more experience in both sports than most boys do at his age. He graduated from Exeter last spring, and enters the Boston school with hopes of making the teams in there. If his record is any value of what he can do, he certainly will have little difficulty in making the varsity, if they will let freshmen play. He is an end par excellence and can do anything that Mahoney will ask.

Clinton Roper, the newspaperman of the High School last fall, has entered the Hebbard School in Newton for the year, and plans to try for Bowdoin the following season. He was one of the best journalists that the school could boast of, and he had a great deal of success along the lines of making the Newtonite a more efficient paper. If he will only continue to devote his time to such matters, there should be a bright future ahead of him.

Junie Stubbs has cast his lot with the other athletes that inhabit that particular haunt in Cambridge. The big boy will have a great time preparing himself for studying at college, and at the same time he will probably keep himself in condition for all the sports that he can play. Junie has a great record and the college that he goes to will be fortunate.

At Brown the Newton delegation has been growing. Ritchie Stevens arrived some time ago at the Delta Upsilon House and has proceeded to work on the Brown Daily Herald. He is one of the Board of Business Managers this year and will be directly responsible for the finances of the same. Along with him is Philip Lingham, one time of Newton, and he is preparing for the hockey season, having given up the idea of football in preference to the ice game. He, too, will guard the destinies of the green freshmen, for he is a member of the Vigilance Committee, that organization that takes care of any misdeeds that the newcomers may commit.

Kent Allen of Newton and Granger Haggood of the Highlands have arrived and plan to stay for a time. Both look as if they would be good prospects for the freshmen football team. Harold Carver has returned, and William Kernan of Newton Centre has filed an application for entrance, but nothing definite has been heard as yet whether he will come or not. If he does the freshmen can congratulate themselves, for Bill is a fine athlete if he is handled in the proper fashion.

Mary Reynolds has gone back to Mount Holyoke this year, where she takes up her heavy duties in connection with her Christian Association work. Mary has been one of the leading students at the Hadley college and she has been a good influence among the younger students by reason of her mature mind and her greater experience. Among the newer girls that return to the college this fall are Elizabeth Ball and Dorothy Thompson. Both of these girls are good students, and have a good record behind them. To complete the list of the Newton Highlands girls that are sitting on the top of the hill are Ruthena Warren, Elizabeth Bicknell and Ruth Sanderson. Five girls from one section going to the same college in the same year is pretty near a record.

Helen Ward has left for Smith, where she will take up the work much in the same fashion that she did last fall at Newton. Her dramatic ability would make her a marked person anyway, but she also possesses a remarkably keen mind, and as a result she should establish a number of records in the scholastic way at the Northampton school.

return to Miss Wheelock's School for the third year. Charlotte Aubin, who has been abroad since last January, studying in Florence, will return also with her cousin to the same school. The two girls graduated from Newton some time ago, but they have been well to the front in the sport news, since they both are good golfers.

Skidmore has claimed the leading lights on the Newton Easter parade, for the two Koops girls, Virginia Hodder and Tiny Harding, are all going there. Newton has always been noted at Skidmore for the type of girls that have gone down there, and this quartet of Barbara Angier has just returned from a long trip abroad, and plans to would easily take first rank among all the others. The two Koops girls should be well up in the class organization, for they seem born to rule, and Virginia Hodder is one of the best athletes that has left the school in recent years. Tiny Harding has always been a brilliant student but she will have to carry on at the New York college, for the other girls that are going down are not slow when it comes to the books.

Victoria Williams will return to Pembroke to enter her sophomore term this fall. She had a fine record as student last year, and this year is expected to be especially good in the languages. She spent this summer in the library at the college and the training that she has received should be invaluable when she comes to her courses this season. She also will carry on the religious work that she took up last year and was so successful with. All in all she has been very popular in her class and has shown ability in every line of endeavor.

Hauser.

CRASH AT CHURCH AND CENTRE STREETS

Wednesday evening at 6:15 automobiles driven by Thomas Crowe of Remick terrace, Newton, and Edgar Miller of 22 Marion street, Arlington, came together at the corner of Church and Centre streets, Newton. Both cars were considerably damaged. There have been frequent collisions at the intersection of these two streets, although the view there is not obstructed. Persons who reside nearby, whose nerves have been somewhat shattered by the near fatalities at this corner, think a traffic signal should be installed there.

POLICE NEWS

Sterling Wiley of 1548 Beacon street, Waban, was fined $5 on Tuesday for failing to stop when ordered to do so by a police officer.

Two "speeders" were each fined $10 in the Newton Court on Wednesday. Arthur Veno of Willow street, Waltham, and Paul Orloff of South Boston were those who paid.

BACHRACH ASSOCIATES HOLD OUTING

Nearly two hundred members of Bachrach, Inc., from Newton, Boston and nearby studios enjoyed an annual outing at the Shore Gardens, Nantasket, last Saturday afternoon. The outing was delayed until the late summer in order to await the return from Europe of the president, Mr. Louis F. Bachrach. Following a program of sports, dinner and dancing was enjoyed at the Shore Gardens. An interesting departure from the usual program was a sail around Boston Harbor on the steamship Mayflower on the return trip.

Mr. Fred L. Trask was general chairman of the committee in charge. The executive committee included Edward J. Lizotte, Clifford A. Ohnemus, and Thomas J. Stevenson. Those on the social committee were Mrs. Catherine F. Reinhardt, chairman, Kenyon G. McGrath, Hilding F. Hanson, Albert L. Michelson and Alice Ellis. Thomas J. EDITORIAL

The commission considering the advisability of changing our election laws, should, in our opinion, look at the question from the standpoint of principles rather than that of expediency or popular whim. The direct primary law needs revision, without doubt. Any changes made however, should be made along lines to increase attendance at the primary and to improve the intelligence of the voter who does attend the primary. One of the serious evils of the primary, and one which is rarely considered, is the unintelligent marking of the ballot on nominations of the minor offices. The voter who takes enough interest to attend the primary usually knows something about one or two of the candidates to be nominated, and on the rest of the ballot, covering some twelve or fifteen important but less known offices he marks his ballot in a hit or miss fashion, usually taking the first name under the office caption, or being prejudiced, more or less, unconsciously, as a rule, by the Celtic, Hebrew or Yankee names. The only remedy for this situation is to shorten the ballot, so that the names on the ballot really carry some weight with the voter. This is not an easy matter here in Massachusetts, as a number of offices are elective by constitutional fiat, and it is some tedious task to amend the Constitution. We believe this matter is of enough importance to justify amending the Constitution and if steps could be taken at the coming session of the Legislature there would be some hope for final action by 1932.

DEVINE TO RUN IN WARD 3

Hugh E. Devine of 31 Gilbert street, West Newton, has announced his candidacy as Ward Alderman from Ward 3 to succeed Richard T. Leahy. He announces that he will run pledged to oppose the removal of the City Hall from West Newton. Inasmuch as the aldermen appropriated money to purchase part of the land at the "triangle" site, for the purpose of building a new city hall there, and papers on this land have been placed in the name of the City of Newton at the Registry of Deeds at Cambridge, Mr. Devine seems to be planning a quite difficult task for himself, in the event that he may be elected to the office which he will seek. He has been circulating a petition to have a bridge built over the Boston & Albany railroad tracks at Crescent street, West Newton.

WIFE BEATER GETS 30 DAYS

Thomas Slater of 168 Dartmouth street, Boston, was sentenced to 30 days in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon in the Newton Court yesterday for assaulting his wife. Slater, his wife and four children had journeyed to Norumbega Park in an automobile to attend a picnic, when, according to the police, he maltreated his spouse. According to the probation officer, Slater has been arrested before for the same cause. He appealed the sentence.

MAYOR CHILD SPEAKS AT FIRST ASSEMBLY IN NEW WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

On Tuesday, September 20, the first regular assembly of the Levi F. Warren Junior High School was opened by the singing of America. The speaker selected for the occasion was Mayor Child.

Mayor Child spoke most enthusiastically about the building and equipment. His admiration for the architect and building commissioner was most sincere. He spoke of the pupils of the school as being assets to the City of Newton. The money spent on playgrounds, schools, and libraries was simply an investment to produce good citizens. The four qualifications necessary to make a good citizen, he believes, are intelligence, unselfishness, loyalty, and honesty.

The Mayor said that the big job of each pupil was to grow in mind, body and character. The City of Newton wanted its boys and girls to grow into real men and women with some religion. "Learn the rules of the game of life," he urged. "Playing fair is one of the most important. He showed how Tilden, the great tennis player, had learned how to play fair. During an important tournament, the umpire called one of Tilden's balls inside the white line when Tilden knew it was outside. In order to play fair he served doubles in his next play, giving his opponent the point. He gave another example of fair play in the case of a Yale football coach who asked his team to be careful how they tackled a certain Harvard player, who had sprained his ankle. Sportsmanship in that case meant more than just winning a game.

The recipe for success, according to our Mayor, is just hard work. He told how Patrick Collins had risen from janitor service to the office of Mayor of Boston, and how Henry Wilson had risen from a cobbler to the Vice-President of the United States. He ended his talk with the analysis of the word grow. The letters in the word stand for a worthwhile motto—"Go Right on Working."

Good Citizenship Campaign

In order that the pupils of the Warren Junior High School may carry forward the idea of "Courtesy, Co-operation and Service," a competitive climb to the "Heights of Successful School Citizenship" has been started in the home-rooms of Grades VII, VIII, and IX.

On the bulletin board of each classroom has been placed a poster representing an Alpine Trail of 300 miles. On the trail is a miniature mountain which moves the number of miles a day that the homeroom gains in points.

The mountaineer may move forward 12 miles or points a day at the utmost. The manner in which these points are achieved is as follows: one point for perfect attendance, no tardiness, clean hands for everyone present, and an orderly room. Two points are given if every member of the room has carried with him the necessary tools for his works. Six points are gained if every pupil has kept up to the mark in Courtesy, Co-operation, and Service during one day. If a pupil is found disobeying, he is reported and brings down the number of points the homeroom has gained. A chairman has been appointed in each room whose duty it is to check up the points gained by his or her room.

An enlargement of the class-room poster has been placed in the main corridor. Three mountaineers, representing the three grades, are competing in the climb. This campaign almost on the part of the pupils. It will close with an Assembly Program on the Tuesday nearest Roosevelt Day, October 27.

BIGAMIST ARRESTED

William Muzzio, alias William Polito, of 238 Nevada street, Newtonville, 30 years of age, was arrested Wednesday night by Newton police charged with non-support of his wife and minor children, and with bigamy. He was in the Newton Court yesterday, pleaded guilty to both charges and was held in $2500 bonds for the Grand Jury. A former resident of Hull, and an ex-prize fighter, married Lillian Pepper of Cambridge about five years ago and she has one child. Two years ago he deserted this woman and married Lillian Marchione of Nonantum at Newark, N. J. She recently had a warrant issued for the arrest of Polito for his failure to support her and her baby. A similar warrant obtained by his first wife revealed the fact that the man had been married twice.

LIEUT. JAMES HEWINS, JR.

The death of Lieutenant James Hewins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hewins of 1538 Beacon street, Waban, occurred on Tuesday, Sept. 20th, at the hospital in Fort Sam Houston, Texas, following an operation performed last Friday. He had just completed his training as a stunt and acrobatic flyer in the aviation service and was awaiting an assignment to the new airbase at Riverside, California, on October 1st.

Lieutenant Hewins was born in Dorchester on August 28, 1902, and was graduated from the Newton High school with the class of 1919. He was appointed to West Point by the late Senator Lodge and entered in July 1920. His high standing won him a place in the aviation service and he was sent to San Antonio upon his graduation where he spent a year in training at Brooks and Kelly Fields.

In 1925 he was assigned to the 49th Bombardment Squadron, stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland with the other fifteen men who were graduated from the original class of 1917 at Texas. But four of these men are alive at the present time. While at Aberdeen he had his first serious crash while on the way to McCook Field at Dayton, Ohio. His bombing plane dropped from a height of three thousand feet into the trees five miles west of Zanesville. Lieutenant Hewins was injured in the foot and taken to the Zanesville Hospital and later transferred to the Walter Reed Hospital at Washington, D. C., where he was confined for six months.

On June 11 of this year he was married to Miss Wilhelmie Eager of Warwick, New York, and came with his bride to Waban for a short visit with his parents. He later motored to San Antonio, Texas, where he trained as a flying instructor.

He is survived by one brother, Alfred Hewins, besides his widow and parents. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity. The death of Lieutenant Hewins comes as a shock to his many friends.

Lieutenant Hewins' body is being brought home for burial in Medford, according to tentative funeral arrangements.

POLICE NEWS

Edmund O'Hearn of Brookline was sentenced to 30 days in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon of the Newton Court on Tuesday for the larceny of seven gallons of gasoline from a filling station on Commonwealth avenue near Walnut street, Newtonville. He appealed and was held in $500. His brother, Charles O'Hearn, a former Yale football star, was fined $50 for refusing to stop his automobile when ordered to do so by a police officer. He also appealed. Early on the morning of Aug. 5th, the O'Hearn brothers and some friends were coming along Commonwealth avenue when their automobile ran out of gasoline. While Charles O'Hearn has gone to endeavor to purchase gasoline at some filling station which was open, it is alleged that Edmund O'Hearn broke the lock on a pump at the filling station and took seven gallons of gasoline. Patrolman Conlon was attracted to the scene and as he neared the place Charles O'Hearn drove his brother away despite commands from the policeman to stop.

William Sampson of 256 Watertown street, Nonantum, was arrested Tuesday charged with using an automobile without authority. He was arrested by Officer Frank Feeley, who charges that a machine was stolen on Aug. 27 from the garage of William Marchant on Dalby street, and that Sampson was the person who had appropriated the car. He will be tried Oct. 5th.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL OPENS

The opening of the Newton Theological Institution took place Wednesday, when more than 30 new students, both men and women, registered in Colby Hall and were greeted by members of the seminary faculty.

The coming academic year will be the 103rd in the Institution's history. Enrollment of students began at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and continued well into the afternoon, due to the fact that each new Newton student is required to appear before the faculty and satisfy that body as to his qualifications for the ministerial career before being formally registered. The first official chapel exercises and regular classroom sessions were held Thursday morning, while on Thursday afternoon Mrs. Everett C. Herrick, wife of the seminary president, entertained the women students and the wives of faculty members.

The fall term is the first over whose opening President Everett C. Herrick has presided. Dr. Herrick, although selected by the trustees to head the Newton institution more than a year ago, was not formally inaugurated until last November. A feature of the work of the coming year will be the activity of the new Department of Missions, one of the additions planned by President Herrick as a part of the seminary's program of teaching expansion.

This department will be temporarily under the charge of Rev. Chester F. Wood, for several years missionary to West China, whose leave of absence has been extended to permit his assuming the new position at Newton. In addition to giving regular courses on the problems and programs of missionary work, Mr. Wood will act as director of student activities on Sunday and will co-ordinate the work of the nine Greater Boston and out of town pastors who are to serve on the seminary's homiletic staff. Mr. Wood is the only new member of the faculty, the other members of which will continue to serve in their regular capacities.

One Chinese and one Indian student are included in the number who enrolled yesterday. Several more students from foreign countries as well as others from the South and West of the United States were enrolled.

BODY FOUND AT WEST NEWTON

The body of Leigh Huntley, teacher of manual training in the Whittemore School at Waltham, was found Wednesday afternoon on the outskirts of Calvary Cemetery, off Harding street, West Newton. Huntley disappeared on September 14 after he had taught for but a couple of days in the school. His body was discovered by Mrs. George Davidson of Kensington avenue, West Newton, as she was walking through the fields behind her home accompanied by her Alredale dog; the actions of the dog attracting her attention to the spot where Huntley's body had been buried by shooting himself through the head with an old revolver. The remains were in a clump of bushes at the foot of an embankment forming the east boundary of the cemetery. Mrs. Davidson telephoned the Newton police, and the latter notified the Waltham police as the spot is on the boundary line of the two cities.

A medical examiner viewed the remains, which were taken in charge by Undertaker George Clark of Waltham. They were removed today to Claremont, New Hampshire, the native place of the deceased for interment. The young man was 24 years of age and had taught school in New Hampshire prior to coming to Waltham. It is supposed that ill health caused him to take his life.

DOG BITES GIRL

A dog owned by Mrs. Anne Lundquist of 359 Elliot street, Upper Falls, on Wednesday bit Margaret Caughey of 36 Caughey street, Waltham. The animal was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine him.

HURT IN COLLISION

Representative Hollis Speaks On Legislative WorkArthur W. Hollis was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Norumbega Park on Tuesday noon. He referred to the many years he had served on the Newton Board of Aldermen and asserted that the men who had composed the Boards on which he served had been honest and faithful in the performance of their duties, in contrast to the members of city governments of other municipalities not far from Boston. While there are but 21 members on the Newton Board of Aldermen, there are 240 Representatives in the Legislature, and while it takes considerably longer to become acquainted with this larger number, Mr. Hollis stated that if one remains in the State government for a few years, he finds the same spirit of friendliness existing between the representatives that is evident among the Newton aldermen. He believes it unfortunate that most of the country districts keep their representatives in the Legislature for but two years because of the custom of rotation in office among the several towns which ordinarily form a country district. He explained that a legislator becomes of much more value to his constituents after he becomes experienced and acquainted at the State House. When a man is restricted to one term, this is not possible.Mr. Hollis lauded Representative Leverett Saltonstall as a highly respected and important member of the Legislature, and as a probable successor to Speaker Hull, who in all likelihood will aspire to the office of Lieut.
Governor next year. He referred to Representative Luitweiler as a hard worker and a conscientious legislator, and he predicted that Representative Thompson, who is serving his first term, will develop into a valuable man for his district. Mr. Hollis told of certain members of the House who, because of their ability or peculiar-ties, are outstanding. He mentioned the oratorical ability of a young man serving his initial term in the Legislature—Owen Gallagher of Dorchester, a son of Daniel J. Gallagher, formerly a well known Newton resident.Among the most important measures considered by the Legislature during its past session Mr. Hollis included the Swift River water reservation project, which will cost $50,000,000 and will provide the Metropolitan district with additional water; the proposed two-cent tax on gasoline, which Governor Fuller vetoed because it did not meet his approval as regards the reduction on the cost of automobile registration, but which will probably be passed on in a modified form at the next session; the Sunday sports bill, and the attempt to extend the subway system from Kenmore square out to Brighton, an improvement which will be of great advantage to Newton.He urged all citizens to vote on election days and at the primaries, citing the small proportion who perform this duty in Newton. He also asked his listeners to do their part in attempting to regulate the automobile problem, to the end that the appalling number of casualties may be lessened.

"Wool Shoddy" Is Subject of Interesting Talk by Local Rotarian

The regular meeting of the Rotary Club of Newton was held as usual on Monday night at the Woodland Golf Club. President Dr. Cecil Clark presided and a large number of members gathered to hear their fellow clubmember, William P. Sullivan, president and treasurer of the R. T. Sullivan Co. of Lower Falls, who was the chief speaker. The attendance was augmented further by a delegation of members of the Boston club whose names and classifications were given by Edward Covell, the chairman of the audience committee of the Boston club, when the roll call was taken. Mr. George Martin of the local club introduced the speaker.

Mr. Sullivan took for his subject the reworking of wool, or "wool shoddy" as it is commonly called. The process of taking old woolen clothes and by chemical process reclaiming the wool, adding virgin wool, and making warm, strong and serviceable fabrics was first discovered nearly one hundred years ago, in 1835. The Sullivan Bros. Co. was the second firm to introduce this business, in 1873, and at the present time there are 25 such firms engaged in the actual manufacture of woolen shoddy. The popular belief that wool shoddy is an inferior article is incorrect as garments containing as much as 35 percent of wool shoddy have been shown to be warmer than those made entirely of virgin wool.

The industry of reclaiming and reworking wool ranks of necessity very high as a conservation measure, as is noted in the fact that nearly 90 percent of the production of reworked wool is manufactured of materials which are commercially all wool or from which any cotton present has been wholly eliminated by chemical process.

There are many forms in which wool is now used in protecting the body and other purposes. The material for these comes originally from sheep, which, from all countries, yield but enough wool to provide each person living in other than tropical countries with but 14 ounces a year. This is equal to a piece of light-weight cloth about 44 inches square. Since a suit of clothes weighs about four and a half pounds, one suit in every four years would be all each of us could have. Thus it is plain that we must depend upon some other source of production to supply the demand. The reclamation of wool from clothing which has already been worn and from other wool by-products of the textile industry provides such a source. If it were not reworked the price of wool would be higher than that of silk and the price of all-virgin wool clothing would be beyond the reach of the average consumer.

The material for the manufacture of reworked wool is secured by the reclamation of the wool by-products of the woolen and worsted industries and includes clippings and woolen rags from nearly every textile manufacturing process as well as giving value to household woolen rags and worn-out suits. These are thoroughly sterilized and subjected to the cleansing effects of acid which destroys the cotton and reclaim the wool. Hundreds of millions of material in this way would otherwise be wasted.

If a fabric fails to protect the wearer against cold and damp, hangs badly in the garment, wears shiny, becomes threadbare, lacks durability, or is defective in any way the cause of the defect is to be found, not in the fact that the raw material has been used once, twice or more times, not that it was called waste, noils, shoddy or wool, not on the proportions in which those materials were used or mixed with other textile materials, but on the intrinsic value of the raw materials irrespective of their previous condition and on the way in which they were converted into the finished product. Poor cloth is often made of new wool as well as reworked wool. Good cloth is an admixture of reworked wool, noils, waste, and wool by-products, as well as virgin wool.

POLICE NEWS

Giuseppe Madonia of Dudley road, Newton Centre, was in court on Monday charged with failing to pay his employees their wages. His case was continued until October 5th.

In the Newton court on Friday, Paul Farrell of Lothrop street, Newtonville, was fined $10 for walking on the tracks of the Boston & Albany railroad. The fine was suspended.

In court on Saturday Harry Astor of Broadway, Everett, was fined $20 for speeding, and Nicolas Boyogis was fined $10 for a similar offense. James White of Howard street, Watertown, was given a suspended sentence of six months to the House of Correction on the charge of larceny by means of a forged check. He cashed a check at the Newton Trust Company for $150; the check bore the alleged signature of another party. He was ordered to make restitution as a condition of the sentence not being enforced. Lena Spaulding, 39, arrested at Auburndale early Friday morning, was sent to the State Farm at Brewster for vagrancy.

In the Newton court on Monday, Harold Bull of Stevens road, Waltham, was fined $10 for speeding. Ferdinand Santucci of 418 Langley road, Newton Centre was assessed a like amount for driving too fast. Anthony Hughes of Centre street, Roxbury, was fined $10 for driving without having his license in his possession. William B. DeCourcy of 24 Parker avenue, Newton Centre, was sentenced to the State Farm on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

On Sunday afternoon Officer Sartwell found an automobile abandoned on Prentice road, which had been stolen in Boston the preceding day. The car was owned by Kentucky. Early Sunday morning Officer Tompkins found a wrecked car in flames on Boylston street, Newton Highlands, near Abbeville street. He summoned the fire apparatus. The car, which belonged to James Keough of Natick, had been stolen in Boston a couple of hours before it was wrecked.

Timothy Harken of Cambridge, a Boston Elevated motorman, who was found guilty in the Newton Court recently, and fined $10 for failing to obey a traffic sign of Officer Way Taffe at Nonantum Square, was found not guilty at the Superior Court in Cambridge on Monday by a jury of four men, the smallest jury that ever sat on a case in the Middlesex Superior Court. Harken had appealed from the finding of the Newton Court. His counsel and the district attorney agreed on the "tabled" jury. Harken claimed that he did not see the traffic officer give the signal.

Friday night a disc wheel and a tire were stolen from the car of Harold Klarfeld of Alton place, Brookline, while the machine was parked on Algonquin road, Chestnut Hill.

MANY STREETS WILL BE IMPROVED

As a result of appropriations made by the aldermen at their last meeting, improvements will be made on over 100 streets in the city. Streets which will be graded and accepted under the Betterment Law, and the amounts appropriated for them are: Charlotte road, $7,920; Winchester road, $900; Hawthorne avenue, $5,000; Whittier road, $6,438; Kenmore street, $2,616; Hazelton road, $1,495; George street, $5,103; Low road, $7,416; Laurel avenue, $1,230; Tolman street, $3,127.

This street handles considerable traffic from Charles River Boulevard, and repeated demands have been presented for its widening. To widen Ward street between Hammond street and Commonwealth avenue, $10,000 was appropriated. Many automobiles use this stretch of Ward street, which is the narrowest part of this highway. To eliminate the very dangerous corner at Winchester and Nonantum streets in Oak Hill, the city will spend $15,000. The land for this purpose will be donated by the Working Boys' Home. Auburn street will be widened at the corner of Greenough street at a cost of $682. A drain will be built in Glen avenue at a cost of $5,767.

Other appropriations made by the aldermen were: additional for grading at high school grounds, $2,317; water mains in various streets, $22,550; maintenance of automobile, Inspector of Animals, $300; Memorial Day deficit, $69.50. A water bond issue of $45,000 on 15 year bonds was authorized; also an issue of 20 year sewer bonds for $60,000.

Mrs. Barker died on last Friday at her late home in Brooklyn, New York. She had been a resident of West Newton for many years until she moved to New York in 1899, and had been active in the affairs of the West Newton Unitarian Church.

Mrs. Barker was born in Hingham on Dec. 19, 1854, the daughter of Hosea M. and Mary E. Lincoln. Her father for many years was master of the East Boston High School.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

On Monday, September 26, at 2:30 o'clock, the president of the C. L. S. C., Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood, opens her home, 4 Chester street, for the first Club meeting of the new year, a most auspicious combination of well-coming the group she leads, and of beginning the year's activities. The program for these few months through the December meetings has as general topic China (the "Middle Flower People's Country"), and Miss Harriet M. Ward is in charge of the first presentation in "What Is China?" a query that appropriately opens the series of seven which will answer the question as to its history, its religion, philosophies, superstitions, literature, art and drama.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

It is well understood that the crisp, Autumn air has a way of putting "pep" into people and things. It may be that the fact that a good vacation has provided rest and recuperation. At any rate, the combination serves its purpose and we usually start off in the Fall with renewed enthusiasm. There are members of a certain class in every community who would be quite as well off without this form of stimulation. I refer to the petty thieves. Beginning with the small boys, who plunder orchards and destroy property for the sake of gathering fruit and horse chestnuts, and going up, or down, to the bandit who makes a specialty of robbing innocent folk we have with us those whose presence is bound to keep us on edge. And speaking of those who rob filling stations I have often wondered why so few of them tried to operate in Newton where filling stations abound. However, that is beside the point.

The owner of pear trees, grape vines and other growing or ripening fruit is now faced with the problem of saving his property for himself or sitting quietly at his window and allowing bold and brazen youngsters, and sometimes adults, to walk in and pick and carry-off what they choose. I do not expect a single policeman to keep his eye on all the property on his route. As a matter of fact when one considers the vast territory a patrolman is called upon to cover one marvels that more does not get by him. But, after all, it is a policeman's job, for a householder who lay hands on a boy caught stealing on his land is quite liable to be haled into court for assault.

We have motor cycle policemen for traffic regulation enforcement. How about putting some of these men at work looking after orchards? I have no special personal interests that need protection, but I know a great many people who have and they often complain that they are victims of persistent petty thieves. It isn't fair, since these people pay taxes without protest, and that is why I favor police action. Let's think about it anyway and maybe something will be done to correct conditions.

The reopening of the public schools may not possess deep significance to those not directly interested, but I think that if some things were known there would be a far wider appreciation of this important factor of our system of education. Moreover, Massachusetts history tells us, paved the way or at least led in the development of teaching the youth of our country. I find that in 1800 the average Massachusetts citizen was not receiving more than 82 days of schooling in his lifetime. Astounding as that may seem it surely proves how far we have advanced from the days of "reading, writin' and 'rithmetic."

It appears that chaos characterized the first decades of American National life as far as the educational system was concerned. Competent teachers were hard to find, communities were slow to obtain their services and in fact some places were keener for learning than others. Not until the middle of the last century did the Federal Government make any provision for the consideration of educational problems. The Federal constitution does not mention education except to leave it to the control of the States.

Here then we find it becomes a problem of the States. As Massachusetts citizens we may pat ourselves on the back, which is more than the residents of some of the Southern States may do. The condition in several of these latter is exceedingly poor, even now, as far as schools are concerned. Very well then, when you hear the young folks talking about school just remember that it was the State of Massachusetts which in 1835 started a movement for the better organization of schools. In 1837 a State Board of Education was organized with the famous and beloved Horace Mann as its secretary. The old Bay State was the first to pass a law compelling communities to provide schools and requiring pupils to attend them. That was in 1852. Other States followed the example of Massachusetts—the District of Columbia in 1864 and Vermont in 1871. And I am drifting into history and for that reason will stop. The impulse to continue, however, is great and I can honestly state that the subject is little short of absorbing. This is a good time to inform oneself. It will also make us more appreciative of the benefits of our own local public school system and make us somewhere near as grateful as we should be to the hard-working teachers and the members of our school committee.

Many Newton people know Stuart Chase, formerly of this city and now of New York. They, and all other Newton residents will find it profitable as well as interesting to read the book which Mr. Chase and F. J. Schlink have written, called, "Your Money's Worth." Mr. Chase is a certified public accountant and a director of the Labor Bureau, Inc. Mr. Schlink is a mechanical engineer-physicist.

They call their work, "a study in the waste of the consumer's dollar." Picturing the consumer as in the same dilemma as "Alice in Wonderland" they tell many things he ought to know. "There is nothing in which Main Street takes more pride, and rightly so, than its fire department," say the authors. "Almost every piece of equipment which the Captain and the volunteer crew use, has been brought on specification, following exhaustive tests, and its label manifests the experts' approval. Fires cannot be fought with hose which burst; with pumps that jam, with axes that lose their heads."

"The drama of flame and smoke has forced a dependability in fire fighting apparatus which is in advance of the products of other industries. But a collapsing bank account has also a drama, and sometimes a tragedy, of its own. "If the run of goods in the shops and houses and factories of Main Street were as dependable as the combination fire truck which gleam in its shed beside the Post Office, Wonderland would well nigh cease to be." This philosophy is in a way the basis of an attractive bit of reading as I have picked up in a long, long time.

I have no doubt something of value to city employees and taxpayers will result from the study that is to be made of a new pension system for various classes of city employees. Any project dealing with the future should command interest as it is intended to make wise provision for the unforeseen. So few persons are willing to admit they should look ahead that it is often necessary to do it for them. This is no reflection on people who are paid a salary in public or private employment; it goes for all human kind.

It is not my purpose to discuss the proposed system of contributory pensions recently put before the city government. I do not know enough about it to offer suggestions. And it is on this very point I would say a few words. Will others who are ignorant as I also keep their mouths shut? No, they will not! Unfortunately, the subject of pensions is one of those things concerning which everybody has some sort of an idea. The trouble is there are as many ideas as there are people. Once you open up the subject you will find a mass of suggestions with-out number. There is danger, as I look at it, from too many cooks. All kinds of attempts will be made to exempt this class and that class and to have one contributory and another non-contributory.

The special committee of city fathers which is to investigate pensions has a hard winter before it. That is, they are likely to find it so if they don't watch out. People who have no knowledge of pensions are quite likely to be seized with an impulse to lend some of their own thoughts and before you know there will be pulling and hauling which will consume lots of time and arrive at no given point. The man who has offered the present scheme should be allowed a pretty free rein. There should be no "butting-in" until it has been fully decided whether such a plan is desirable for Newton. That, to me, seems the question. Amendments and changes are apt to upset what was originally intended as a practicable plan.

All I hope is that the city won't get over its head. If the plan submitted is concrete, comprehensible and workable let it be adopted; if not, let it be rejected. Do not, O, wise city fathers, make this problem one of those long drawn-out things in which about every municipality seems fond of entangling itself at one time or another.

There doesn't appear to be a wild scramble for seats in the Board of Aldermen. The fact is, I shouldn't like to see it if there were. The board demands solid men and each must pretty near prove his qualifications before the citizens will allow him to run without a protest. This, when you come to look at it, is a tribute to the present and past aldermanic boards. A man who decides to seek to become a member knows that it is a deliberative body with no frills attached. That is quite as it should be.

Unlike some other municipalities Newton does not pay its aldermen, nor does it offer a member any glory or such things as free theatre tickets and other little perquisites. The man who assumes such an office is doing it largely as a sense of duty, for if he has any other notion it is soon driven from his mind. As long as Newton can take its local politics temperately we may be sure to be pretty safely governed. The chief thing that Newton must avoid is a sense of self-compacency.

HONEYMOON IN TROPICS

Brae Burn Country Club was the setting for the wedding last Friday evening of Miss Dorothy Ruth Fernald and Mr. George Raymond Lehrer. Miss Fernald is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Adelbert Fernald of Newton. Mr. Lehrer is the son of Mrs. George J. Lehrer and the late Mr. Lehrer of Cincinnati and Cambridge.

The Country Club was attractively decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns, chrysanthemums and lilies. Rev. Boynton Merrill, pastor of the Second Church of West Newton, officiated. Del Castillo's orchestra furnished the musical program for the evening. Miss Fernald was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Miss Barbara Estabrook of Newton, Smith '25 was the maid of honor. The other attendants were Miss Elizabeth Bagge of Pittsfield, and Miss Doris Hinman of Portland, both Wheaton '27, Miss Mariel Wilkins of Danvers, and Miss Anne Potter of Central Falls, R. I., both Wheaton '28. William H. Miller of Cincinnati, Lehigh '24 was the best man and the ushers were: George Walter Bricker, Jr., of Brooklyn, M. I. T. '23; Lloyd Porter of Port Jefferson, L. I., M. I. T. '24; Kenneth G. Donald of Cambridge, Harvard '21 and John S. Gilles of Belmont, Harvard '23.

The bride wore a period gown of white satin embroidered in pearls and a touch of rhinestones, with a veil of Brussels lace, point applique, and carried a bouquet of butterfly roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor wore a taffeta period gown in shades of orchid. Two other attendants wore period gowns of maize and two in shades of green taffeta. They carried arm bouquets of flowers.

After an extensive wedding tour to Cuba, Central America and the Panama Canal Zone, the bridal couple will reside at their new home at 9 Vincent street, West Newton, Mass.

Miss Fernald is a graduate of Wheaton College, Class of 1927. Mr. Lehrer is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1924, and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, Class of 1926.

GAZARIAN—BATCHELER

Miss Kathleen Ellen Batcheler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Batcheler, of Auburndale, was married to Mr. Hampar Theodore Gazarian of Boston, on Saturday afternoon, September seventeenth. The ceremony took place at the Second Congregational Church, West Newton, at two-thirty o'clock and was performed by Rev. Boynton Merrill, D.D.

Mrs. Harold V. Russell, a sister of the bride, of Roslindale, Mass., was the matron of honor. Mr. Wilbur D. Jones, of Watertown, was the best man. Mr. John J. Batcheler, of Auburndale, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Jarvis Gazarian, of Watertown, a cousin of the groom, were the ushers.

The bride's gown was of ivory colored, transparent chiffon velvet. Her maid of honor wore peach color crepe trimmed with silver.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 11 Woodbine Terrace, at which the couple were assisted in receiving by their parents.

The home was tastefully decorated with evergreen and gladioli.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Gazarian will reside in Belmont, after October 10.

The groom is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

KEANEY—BRADLEY

Miss Gertrude Bradley, daughter of Mrs. Ann B. Bradley of Capital street, Newton, was married on Sunday afternoon, September eighteenth, to Mr. William J. Keane of Dorchester. The ceremony was performed at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, by Rev. Robert M. Mantle.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Bradley and the best man was Mr. Francis Donahue, a cousin of the groom.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Odd Fellows' Hall, Northgate Park, West Newton.

The bride was formerly associated with the Civil Service Commission.

The Song of Welcome, written by Mr. Frazee also wrote the music, was Professor Amos R. Wells, to which sung by all the congregation.

All the other churches in Newton were represented by Dr. Edward M. Noyes of Newton Centre.

Mr. Clark responded in a most delightful way to the warm welcome given him and after the singing of "Blest be the Tie that Binds" the benediction was pronounced and a social hour with refreshments followed.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

According to what we read in the papers, young men and women of 18 and 19 are children, men of 24 and 25 are boys, and males who have reached the age of 30 or more are youths. We are beginning to feel young again.

The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company has been severely criticized for its alleged tardiness in removing the disused car tracks from streets in this city. We have been suggesting for the past year that the tracks on Watertown street at Nonantum be removed. Mayor Childs requested that these tracks be taken up as soon as possible. City Solicitor Bartlett has been asking the M. & B. officials for quite some time to get the rails off Watertown street. Last week the M. & B. started to remove the old rails from Watertown street. The tracks were taken up from Walnut street to a point near Crafts street. There the work stopped. Not because the M. & B. was unwilling to proceed further, but because the Street Department has no funds with which to pave the street. The Board of Aldermen at its next meeting should find some way to provide money so that the rails can be taken from the remainder of Watertown street without further delay. Certainly Nonantum should not be compelled to endure for another winter the hazard to traffic caused by the tracks there.

Attention is called to the attractive window display of the Hollis Jewelry Company at 390 Centre street, Newton. This enterprising new firm deserves the patronage of Newton people.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Twenty-eight of the 102 patients who were in the hospital for the week ending September 17 paid as much as the cost of their care or more, 44 paid less than cost of care and 30, including babies, were free patients. The outpatient department treated 94 cases and there were nine accident cases.

Last Sunday Mr. Stanley Thorpe of Braintree, sent to the hospital as he has done in two previous years a large number of beautiful gladioli flowers. This year's specimens were of all colors and there were enough of them to fill many vases. Mr. Thorpe is one of the well known growers of gladioli bulbs and he has in his gardens varieties from all parts of the world as well as varieties of his own origination. At the recent national show at Hartford Mr. Thorpe took three firsts and he also took three firsts at the Boston show.

The executive committee held its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday.

Four of last week's accident cases were due to automobiles. A man had his face, knees and elbows bruised by being hit by an auto bus, another had his right thigh and left collar bone broken, a two year old child had his leg broken by being run over by a truck and a man was badly bruised on his arms and legs. A fall from a ladder broke a man's right wrist and in a fall from a fence a child was cut over the eye. The other three accidents were a child who slipped on a rug and strained his muscles; a man who cut his left thumb with an axe and a man who got coal dust into his eye.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETS

Hear Protests of Oak Hill Residents, Consider Crowded Conditions and Discuss Matters at Waban

At the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night Supt. of Schools U. G. Wheeler told the committee that over crowding still exists in the Frank A. Day Junior High, the Horace Mann and the Clafin schools. While the new junior high school at West Newton has relieved the crowded conditions in some of the schools at the village and Auburndale, it has not remedied the situation at Newtonville. The increase in the number of pupils this year over last year is 332, the largest in 15 years. Although the committee discussed plans to relieve the overtaxed school buildings at Newtonville, no real progress was made in this direction.

A number of residents of the Oak Hill district appeared before the School Committee and in strong terms denounced the condition of the little old structure which has long served as a school there. Joseph P. Lockett, member of the school committee from Ward 6 agreed with the Oak Hill delegation and asserted "that the school building in that village is a disgrace to the community." He suggested that a portable school building be moved from the Mason School grounds at Newton Centre to Oak Hill to supplant temporarily the undesirable old schoolhouse there. His suggestion was not accepted by the committee as the other members considered the plan impracticable. Chairman Hutchinson appointed a sub-committee consisting of Messrs. Lockett, Church and Coan to study the Oak Hill situation and make recommendations at the next meeting of the School Committee.

It would seem that the urgent pleas made by a couple of the aldermen at a recent meeting of that body to assure adequate transportation facilities being furnished the school children of Waban by the Middlesex & Boston, were almost wasted efforts. The School Committee was informed Monday evening that the average daily number of Waban children who ride in the buses of the M & B while travelling to and from the Levi Warren Junior High, is 12. This does not mean that only a small number of young Wabanites attend the junior high, any more than the fact that but few residents of Waban patronize the M & B buses on Sunday mornings means that not many people in that village go to church. About every resident of Waban owns one or more motor cars, so they roll in their own, or use share's more to keep fit. Certainly the M & B will not declare extra dividends if it depends on the patronage of dwellers in fair Waban, whether old or young.

Another matter concerning Waban and its school that has become the subject of some controversy was aired at the committee meeting on Monday. The Waban's Women's Club has been conducting a clinic in the Angier School, and criticisms were made that the use of the school for this purpose is illegal, as the physician in attendance at the clinic received fees from the parents of the children examined; those criticisms contending that such a procedure savored of the school building being used for the purpose of allowing someone to enjoy pecuniary pointed to investigate this matter re-advantage. The sub-committee reported that the Women's Club is rendering a public service in conducting the clinic. The physician who has been in attendance is a specialist who receives but a small fraction of his usual fee for the examination given each child.

A number of societies were given permits to use school buildings on specified dates. The petition of the Boy Scouts for permission to use the gymnasium in the new high school building was denied. As a compromise the use of the old gymnasium was given the Scouts. A meeting of a troop of Boy Scouts is not the quietest affair known, and the school committee feared that the boys in the conduct of their games might disturb the Thespian and musicals who perhaps would be performing in the auditorium nearby. According to opinions expressed by members of the School Committee on Monday night, Mayor Childs and Building Commissioner Chadwick have almost, if not quite, been usurping prerogatives of the School Committee, when they have constituted themselves godfathers of the new schools recently erected in the city. The feelings of the committee on this matter came to the surface when the question arose as to what name will be given to the new school at Lower Falls. Some favor the school retaining the name of the present building which has served the Lower Falls, the Hamilton School. Other names suggested were the Leland, Crehore, Spaulding and Pine Grove, the last suggestion coming from a citizen, no member of the committee being guilty.

Elliot B. Church, school committee-man from Ward 1, explained that Mayor Childs has been coinciding with names submitted by Commissioner Chadwick for the new junior high at West Newton and the grade school at Chestnut Hill. Although the School Committee agrees that the names selected were appropriate, its members seem to think that as a matter of courtesy they should have been consulted.

Teachers and clerks appointed (or to use the new term, elected) by the committee included P. Ewing Wilson, Director of Physical Education, Hazel R. Ludden, scientific assistant at High School, Miriam Tirrell, substitute teacher at High, Everett M. Winslow, substitute teacher at Vocational, Alden W. Read, teacher at F. A. Day Junior High, Mabel Kivlehan, clerk in office of school department, Esther Pepin, clerk in office of Levi Warren School. Mr. Wilson comes from Hammond, Indiana, where for seven years he was director of physical education and athletics.

NEWTON POLITICAL NEWS

Alderman Walter A. Hodgdon of Newton Upper Falls may not oppose Mayor Edwin O. Childs for the office of Mayor at the city election next December. On the other hand, he may run against the present executive of Newton. In conversation with Alderman Hodgdon last evening the Graphic representative was informed by him "that he has not decided whether, or not he will be a candidate, and that he has authorized no statement to the effect that he will not run."

Joseph J. Murray of 184 Washington street, Newton, for ten years a trustee of the Newton Public Library, and for the past two years acting chairman of the Board of Library Trustees, has announced his candidacy for Alderman at Large from Ward 7. Mr. Murray is a life long resident of Newton and has the endorsement of many of the leading residents of Ward 7.

HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN

Work Begun to Raise $350,000 More To Complete Plans

The campaign to raise $350,000 to complete the $1,500,000 building fund for the Newton Hospital will open tonight (Friday, Sept. 30) with a dinner to be held in the Brae Burn Country Club at 6:30 p. m. A campaign organization of 125 team chairmen and workers will receive their final instructions and assignments, Leon B. Rogers, chairman of the campaign, announced, and the work of solicitation will be started immediately.

The present organization, Mr. Rogers said, has been recruited from the campaign personnel of 1926, when a total of $1,151,709 was subscribed. This growth in 10 years has been possible only through the able director, but to maintain this work at its present high standard, it has been necessary to increase our paid workers. Therefore we are asking for a budget of $6,500. Does not our work warrant this?

The Newton Hospital will hold open house on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 2, from 3 to 5 p. m., to which all campaign workers and the general public is invited. At this time the actual building plans will be interpreted, the hospital grounds inspected, and the new buildings, work on which has already started, explained with relation to the present hospital plant.

The building plans as first presented in the campaign of 1926, Mr. Rogers, the campaign chairman, said, included a main building of five stories above the basement and a sub-basement, a nurses' home and a new power plant. When specifications were made and bids secured, it was found impossible to go through with the original program and yet to stay within the sum of $1,500,000.

Therefore, the building committee, according to Mr. Rogers, after consultation with architects and hospital experts, revised their plans with the result that instead of building a new nurses' home, to use the Founders' Building for that purpose. This modern structure, now used as a maternity building, will be remodelled to meet the pressing need of more adequate provision for graduate and student nurses. With little change in the original building and the power plant as originally designed will be constructed. Contracts for these two buildings have been let and excavation started.

"Unless the $350,000 is raised and the $1,500,000 completed now," Mr. Rogers said, "it will be impossible to complete the interior of all the main hospital building even though our most immediate needs are met. To stop work on the building and then to resume it again when funds are available would be more costly than to complete the building now."

GIRL SCOUTS

National Girl Scout Week To Be Held Here October 2 to 9

National Girl Scout Week will be observed in Newton from Oct. 2 to Oct. 9. During this week the citizens of Newton will be given an opportunity to contribute to the support of this organization. The first Girl Scout troop in Newton was started in Newtonville in the spring of 1917 and now, after 10 years of organized Girl Scout work in Newton, we have 847 registered Girl Scouts in 23 troops, at least one troop in each village. We have 70 volunteer leaders, of whom 37 have come up through our Girl Scout training.

This work is directed by two full-time paid workers and one paid worker giving half time. In addition, 90 women of Newton are giving freely of their time in the local council and various troop committees.

During the past winter 463 girls have passed 691 merit badge tests in various subjects such as Home-maker, First Aid, Home Nurse, Scholarship, etc.

We are maintaining a first-class camp where Newton girls can have unusual camping opportunities at cost. This growth in 10 years has been possible only through our able director, but to maintain this work at its present high standard, it has been necessary to increase our paid workers. Therefore we are asking for a budget of $6,500. Does not our work warrant this?

The Girl Scout program is a recreational program which lays its emphasis on preparedness and cheerful service. It provides a wholesome, sane outlet for the leisure-time energies of the young people and it gives definite training in ways and methods of living which will be of inestimable value in mature life. Think what this organization of young women can mean to the community both now and in the future. We are asking the citizens of Newton to help us to carry on with this program.

Girl Scout troops throughout the city are getting under way for their winter's work. Troop 19 of Newton Lower Falls got a flying start by holding its first meeting all of two weeks ago. This troop meets every Thursday evening in the library building on Grove street with Acting Captain Burham, its former captain, Miss Edith Monro, having moved away from Newton.

Troop 1, Newtonville, held its first meeting on Thursday of this week. This meeting was solely for purposes of registration and will be started in earnest next week. Troop 22, Newtonville, will meet for registration with Captain Lovejoy at the Methodist Episcopal Church on Monday next, when a large attendance is expected.

The Junior troops of Newton Centre met on Thursday afternoon. Troop 3 with Captain Ordway at the Congregational Church, Troop 23 with Captain Plimpton at the Baptist Church, while Miss Lovejoy, the associate director for Newton, held an overflow meeting at the Episcopal Church. We hope that a captain may soon be found for this group of new girls, that it may start on a career as successful as those of its sister troops.

All the Waban troops, with the exception of the Brownie Pack, started last week. Troops 4 and 24 met at the Union Church with Captain Douglas and Lieutenant Whitaker on Thursday afternoon, and Troop 14 the following afternoon with Captain Warren. Girl Scout Sunday will be observed in this village on Sunday, Oct. 2, at the Union Church, at which time the Girl Scouts will join in the service by pledging allegiance to the flag, repeating the Girl Scout promise and laws and singing the Girl Scout Litany and Hymn. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Joseph McDonald. Girl Scout Sunday will be generally observed throughout the city and the nation on Sunday, Oct. 9.

DOG SHOW

To Be Held at Y. M. C. A. on Oct. 15 by Middlesex Kennel Club

The residents and dog lovers of Newton and vicinity who have for the past five years associated the holiday of Columbus Day, Oct. 12, with the Annual Fall All Breed Show of the Middlesex County Kennel Club which has been held with increasing success on the splendid grounds of the Newton Y. M. C. A., will be somewhat surprised to learn that the show will this year be held on Saturday the 15th instead of the holiday.

This change of date is due to the constant wish of this sportsmanlike club to in no way conflict with the interests of any other club, and another club which holds its only show on the holiday date has expressed the opinion that the Middlesex Show does so conflict even at the distance of several hundred miles. This in a way is a decided tribute to the attractiveness of the Newton Show, which has been called by many critics "The Best Open Air One Day Show, Each Season," and the members of the club are hoping that in spite of the fact of the show not being held on a holiday the exhibitors and spectators who have in the past done so much to insure that success will rally as never before, and again make it possible to announce a Bigger and Better Show than ever. There are dogs enough in the City of Newton alone to make this result a certainty if only their owners would realize that this is a particularly clean show.

Being only one day, and a short one at that, in duration, 10 A. M. to about 5:30 P. M., there is none of the somewhat irksome waiting around for some eleven or twelve hours at a stretch as in many indoor shows.

Again being an outdoor show, held under tents, there is plenty of ventilation, and the stuffiness associated with a long drawn out show is entirely absent. Another point which is not fully appreciated by the majority of dog owners who are not regular exhibitors is the fact that a pedigree is not necessary to enable a dog to be entered and shown at an A. K. C. show. All that is necessary is that a dog shall be of some recognized breed—in other words, that he is not a mongrel, that he is of a distinct breed which the A. K. C. admits to its shows.

Lastly, as an inducement for these entries, the club and its friends have offered through the Premium List just issued, not only a splendid list of judges, all highly appreciated as experts in their several breeds, but also a total of some nine hundred and fifty specialties, including about $50,000 in cash to be won outright at this show. This is a most unusual amount to be offered at such a show, and besides that there are many handsome trophies in a great many of the breeds offered by admirers of those breeds.

At the conclusion of the show the winners of highest awards in each of the breeds will compete in specific groups, of which there are five, for a trophy for the best dog or bitch in that group, and then, as a final event, the five group prize winners will compete for a cup donated by the club for the best dog or bitch in the show, and if the winner of this award is a genuine American-bred dog or bitch, which means that it can prove its American breeding, the American Kennel Club offers a special prize of $50.00 in cash to the fortunate owner of this dog. There must be many dogs in this beautiful city eligible for this prize and we would urge for our readers' attention the splendid effect it would have on Newton dog lovers if a local dog could win this prize.

The judges' list includes Dr. Edwin W. Dwight, one of the best all-rounders of Massachusetts, who will judge the majority of large breeds, Collie, Bull Terriers, etc. Mr. Frank B. Lawler, well known in banking circles, will pass on his favorite breed, the Airedale. Mr. Charles W. Barney of New Bedford, well known as a sportsman (Continued on Page 8)

DICKINSON MEMORIAL

Plans Approved for a $50,000 Stadium To Seat Five Thousand and to Be Financed by the Sale of Bonds

Newton will build a $50,000 stadium as a memorial to the late Alfred W. Dickinson, coach of Newton High School athletics for seventeen years, as the result of an open meeting in the new high school building last night. The stands will be built along the Hull street side of the Clafin Field area and where the natural slope of the ground provides many advantages. Tentative plans call for the construction of a stand seating 5000 spectators with provisions allowed for later construction of wings to seat another 3500.

The financing of the memorial will be done largely by the issuance of bonds of $100 units which will also be available in fifths, or $20. These bonds will bear no interest and will carry a premium of $5 on the units and $1 on the fifths. These premiums will be set aside into a trust fund which will be used to provide a scholarship at college for Mr. Dickinson's son, who is now a pupil in the Newton schools. The bonds will be retired from a sinking fund which will be established by putting a percentage of each year's gate receipts into it. In this way it is expected that the entire sum of $50,000 will be returned to the bond holders within a minimum period of 15 years and a maximum period of 25 years. Each year a portion of the bonds, determined by lot, will be retired.

The prospective stadium will probably not become a reality before 1930, although it is hoped that it can be completed for use during the fall of 1929. Within a month or two it is expected that the bonds will be on sale. Prior to the adjournment of the meeting last night it was voted to accept and approve the report of the committee which has been working on the plan and to continue that committee in office until the project is completed. This committee consists of one person from each of the seven sections of the city under the chairmanship of Mayor Hutchinson of West Newton; Frank L. Richardson, Albert P. Carter, Albert M. Lyons, C. Clark Macomber, William H. Rice and Francis L. Bacon.

The following are the quotas for each village: Newton, $10,000; Newtonville, $5,000; West Newton, $10,000; Auburndale, $5,000; Waban, $5,000; Newton Highlands, $5,000; Newton Centre, $10,000.

The question of a memorial has been a subject in the minds of the citizens of Newton since the sudden death last February of the popular Newton coach. On June 2nd a group of nearly 30 men interested in Mr. Dickinson's work with boys and the development of Clafin Field along lines that he had wished to see for many years met to consider some sort of a memorial to Mr. Dickinson. The committee mentioned above was appointed to go further into the matter and bring in a report, making recommendations. This committee held three meetings prior to the one last night, which was an open meeting to which anyone interested was welcome.

Mr. Hutchinson called C. Clark Macomber, a former Newton High athlete under Mr. Dickinson, to the floor to put before the meeting the proposed form the memorial should take. Mr. Macomber told of Mr. Dickinson's ideal (Continued on Page 8)

Mr. Hutchinson presided at last night's meeting and told of the progress already made. He called upon Francis L. Bacon, director of secondary education in the Newton schools, to talk upon the reasons for a memorial. Mr. Bacon made a very impressive speech in which he told of the large number of boys whom Mr. Dickinson had come in contact with yearly and of his great influence over them. His contact with these boys was more than a passing one and he came into contact with more of them in his 17 years at Newton than most of us do in our entire lives. Mr. Dickinson was a teacher-coach and more than that usually denotes. None in New England compared with him and he was revered, admired, and respected by his fellow coaches to a degree out of the ordinary. Shortly after his death the Massachusetts Coaches Association, of which Mr. Dickinson was the organizer and secretary, did an unheard of thing when they offered a cup in his memory. Mr. Dickinson was at Newton for nearly three times the length of the average stay of any coach and many cases of his work with boys which was out of the ordinary could be cited. One of the many legitimate questions that can be asked is why not a memorial to any teacher? Mr. Bacon answered this by stating that the regard for a teacher in other branches seldom crystallizes and while the influence of that teacher may be dear to the hearts of those under him or her he is seldom put into any material form. The teacher-coach has a far greater influence upon a school than any other teacher has. Mr. Bacon said, he believed from his personal experiences as a coach. A coach can make or break a school to a far greater degree than any other teacher on the faculty, and such being the case it is more important that his work be recognized. His influence is one that lingers and the more that can be done to lengthen the period of that influence will make for better men out of the coming generations. Mr. Dickinson was more than a teacher and more than a coach. He was a builder of men and his work lifted the Newton High School to great heights. Mr. Bacon told of the memorial to Mr. Adams in the former Classical School building. Mr. Adams being a former headmaster who was admired and respected by many. The speaker stated that Mr. Dickinson was the only person who possessed influence that could be compared with that of Mr. Adams and that it is up to us to keep that influence going in order that it may be extended to touch the coming youth. In closing, Mr. Bacon said, "so I believe that we have a real challenge before us to try and crystallize something along the lines for which Mr. Dickinson worked and to carry along his name in a lasting influence."

Mr. Hutchinson called C. Clark Macomber, a former Newton High athlete under Mr. Dickinson, to the floor to put before the meeting the proposed form the memorial should take. Mr. Macomber told of Mr. Dickinson's ideal (Continued on Page 8)

GAME ARRANGED IN 1928 WITH WALTHAM

The 1928 Newton High football team will play Waltham High according to a recent announcement by Faculty Manager Dr. Oscar Martin. Saturday, Nov. 17, the regular date upon which the two teams formerly met, has been accepted by the Waltham authorities. The resumption of athletic relations will mark the end of a break between the two schools which came about following the Newton victory of 1925 at Waltham by a score of 9 to 7. With the game drawing to a close, Head Linesman Carrigan imposed a severe penalty upon Waltham for coaching from the sidelines. This penalty came during a march towards Newton's goal line which might or might not have been stopped before the final whistle.

WHITMORE OUT FOR FALL PRACTICE

The Harvard baseball candidates reported to Coach Mitchell for fall practice Wednesday. Invitations were sent out to over forty players, not participating in football, who will make up the squad the former Braves manager will work with. Among these is Howard Whitmore, who should be one of the Crimson's best pitchers next spring.

Green Has Orange and Black Tinge

The Dartmouth freshman team has a Newton color, for four of the boys are staying with the squad through the first cut. Huls Andres, the husky center, seems destined to take the worries of the snapper back's position off Sid Hazelton's mind, and Len Clark and his running mate, Simonds, from Waban have been doing a good job in the backfield. Ned Kent, the fourth member of the organization, is doing a fine task at the wing's job despite his lack of weight.

Holbrook May Start Tomorrow

Rumors from Harvard state that Guy Holbrook is liable to be one of the starters Saturday, on account of his kicking and passing. The Harvard squad is very nearly barren of experienced kickers and as a result the red-head has come in for a great deal of attention. He is a great prospect for the Crimson as he is a real football player having the fight and the drive that makes a good back.

Gullian Coaching Husky Freshmen

"Mike" Gullian, former Newton High and Brown University football captain and one of the greatest tackles of all time, is coaching the Northeastern University freshman team for its objective game with the sophomores on Oct. 4th. Gullian, who is playing for the Providence Steamrollers again this fall, will not accept any salary as a freshman coach but is giving his services out of friendship for two of his college mates who are members of the Northeastern faculty and who had been supervising the freshman practice before Gullian took hold. John Proctor, Newton High three-sport athlete last year, is one of the most promising backfield men Gullian has to work with.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

MEDFORD WILL BE A STIFF OPPONENT

Clafin Field will be the scene of one of the most attractive football games on tomorrow's schoolboy card when the Orange and Black faces the strong Medford High team. Newton will have to show a great improvement over last week to hold the visitors to two touchdowns. Captain "Bud" Edgerly and his mates have two victories under their belts already and have yet to be scored upon.

Medford's first opponent was Reading High, which they defeated 27 to 0. Last Saturday New Hampton School was the victim by a 13 to 0 score. Perhaps that score will prove Medford's jinx tomorrow. Out of the six touchdowns scored by the Medford team Edgerly has gone over four times. He also tacked two touchdowns after touchdowns. Wells also making two. In the Reading game the Medford leader made an 18-yard end run previous to a touchdown and in the New Hampton game got away twice. The first was for 70 yards and the second on a 30-yard end run. He was a team by himself in that game as he also counted the goal.

Edgerly is not the only player Newton will have to watch tomorrow, as Wells, the quarterback, is also fast and shifty. Medford did not show other form than could be expected for a second game as many plays lacked smoothness and the tackling was somewhat ragged. The fact that Medford will improve its game just as much as Newton will during the week's practice session must be taken into consideration. The team that shows the most improvement should be the winner and if the Newton team can stop Edgerly without allowing the other Medford players to rest loose, their chances will be improved considerably.

SPORT NOTES

Everett and Others Win

The majority of Newton's later season opponents won their games last Saturday. Everett rode over the Deering High School (Portland, Me.) team 44 to 0. It will be remembered that two years ago the Deering High team rated high, came to Newton and was swamped 41 to 0 on a wet and slippery field in a heavy rain. Nevertheless, Everett seems to have a good team and looks to be the 1928 Suburban League champions. Somerville High showed considerable strength in defeating the Worcester Commerce outfit 18 to 6. Lawrence, with nine veterans in its starting lineup, scored an easy win over Worcester North High, 26 to 0. The Mill City eleven has been picked as a possible State champion. Cambridge Latin was held to a 7-7 tie by the Salem High outfit and was saved from being defeated by Salem fumbles and by stonewall defenses on two occasions late in the game inside their own 10-yard line. The rest of Newton's later season opponents were defeated. The 1926 Brookline champions were outclassed completely by Lynn Classical when the latter helped to dedicate the new Brookline stadium. As is usually the case when a stadium is dedicated, the home team finds itself on the short end of the count. Lynn Classical scored 25 points and Brookline none. Brookline, with but a semblance of last year's players in its lineup, was ragged. Beverly was also outplayed by the same Brookline team. The North Shore lads went to Nashua, N. H., where they entered their first game of the season. Rindge was also defeated by the score of 12 to 0 at Marblehead.

SCHEINFELD GETS PASS AND SCORES

The 1927 local football season was ushered in last Saturday on Clafin Field when Newton High defeated St. Mary's High 7 to 0. It was a game marked by many mistakes on the part of both elevens. Everett Scheinfeld, Newton's diminutive end, grabbed a forward pass from Joe Gilligan, to make the only touchdown of the day, in the fourth quarter. Gilligan kicked the goal.

For almost three periods the two teams battled upon almost even terms until finally a sustained march of more than 50 yards by the Orange and Black carriers placed the ball on the seven-yard line. Here the visitors held for three plays which netted but three yards. On fourth down Gilligan called for a forward pass play and Scheinfeld got free behind the St. Mary's line to take the pass and score.

First Quarter

Acting Captain Cole of Newton won the toss and chose to receive the kickoff. St. Mary's kicked to Gilligan on the 20-yard mark and he ran it back ten yards. Bennett immediately kicked to St. Mary's 25-yard line, where Morrill fumbled. Scheinfeld scooped up the ball but was brought down on the 20-yard mark. Gilligan took the ball on four successive rushes for a first down. Three plays made six yards and on the fourth down St. Mary's took the ball. They immediately kicked out of danger. Play for the rest of the period was confined to mid-field except on one occasion when Bennett got off a 50-yard punt over the goal line.

Second Quarter

St. Mary's carried the ball from the 20-yard line to Newton's 31-yard line in a series of three first downs. Newton reached midfield only to have a forward pass intercepted. The half ended a few minutes later following a forward pass which netted about 18 yards, a three-yard off tackle smash and a line play which Gatchell smeared for several yards loss.

Third Quarter

Bennett kicked off for Newton and Captain Higgins of Waltham was brought down on the 35-yard stripe. An exchange of punts netted the visitors but a few yards gain. Gatchell drew a 15-yard penalty for illegal use of hands. After one play failed to gain materially Lally threw a forward which MacIntyre intercepted on his 35-yard line. Here Newton began its march down the field. When the whistle blew to end the period Newton was on St. Mary's 20-yard line. The features of the advance were an eight-yard line smash by Andres and a 12-yard end run by Gilligan.

Fourth Quarter

Gilligan gained nine yards on an end run and Andres made its first down. Three plays netted three yards and on the fourth down a well-screened pass brought down the goal. Harrington kicked off for Newton and after a few plays St. Mary's returned the punt. Mullen gained 20 yards on an end run. Four plays made another first down. Andres went through tackle for a little over ten yards for still another first down. Three plays gained but little. Here St. Mary's intercepted a Newton forward and before they could put the ball in play the final whistle blew.

St. Mary's Slants

It was Newton's first game of 1927 and its first game under Coach John L. Sullivan. Also its first victory. Gilligan made the first play when he ran the kickoff back ten yards.

Bennett kicked the first punt, which traveled nearly 50 yards. The Newton fullback is punting better than ever this year and several of his kicks last Saturday covered more than half the field.

Gilligan made Newton's first down in four successive rushes. Newton made nine first downs against five for St. Mary's, each team being aided once by a penalty imposed upon the defending team.

Morrell fumbled Bennett's first punt. Scheinfeld recovered it and was brought down on the 20-yard line. The new rules state that fumbled punt may be recovered by a player on the kicker's team but that it cannot be ad-

UPPER FALLS TOPS HIGHLANDS TWICE

The Upper Falls baseball team leads the Newton Highlands nine in the Graphic Cup city championship series by virtue of two victories the past week-end. Newton Highlands won the opening game two weeks ago tomorrow, the second game resulted in a 14-inning tie and the Upper Falls outfit took Saturday's and Sunday's games to take the lead.

Last Saturday at the Highlands playground the Southsiders could not stop the Falls, who ran away with the game by a 9 to 1 score. Kenney was on the mound for the winners and was never in difficulty.

At Upper Falls on Sunday it was a different story. Both teams played good ball and it took ten innings to decide a winner, with the Falls on top, 3 to 2. Charlie Briday was on the mound for the Falls and allowed the Highlands players but two hits. Cronin got both of them, one of which was a double. Upper Falls touched McGoughlin for seven hits, every one of the players but Mahoney, Moore and Simpson making singles.

Highlands pushed a run over in the first frame but Upper Falls took the lead in the third by scoring twice. In the sixth the Southsiders tied it up and the game went into extra innings. In the 10th inning with two on Johnny Proctor singled, scoring Billy Proctor. The series is to be the best three out of five and if Upper Falls wins tomorrow they will be the champions. The game tomorrow will be staged on the West Newton common and it is probable that if a Sunday game is necessary that it also will be played at the same place. Upper Falls may send Briday to the hill again and if he fails to stop the Highlanders they will have Kenney to use on Sunday. Inasmuch as McGoughlin is the Southsiders best twirler he will probably endeavor to make the series even in tomorrow's affair.

vanced beyond the point of recovery. Why the officials did not bring the ball back to where the Newton end retrieved it is an open question.

In the first half Newton's line was taking but one or two steps and then stopping on the offence. It did not carry through. Between the halves Assistant Coach Stanwood talked to the boys and the improvement in this respect was noticeable. The line had a good drive to it in the later part of the game which resulted in its march for a touchdown.

It looks as though Coach Sullivan was going to miss Frank Spain at quarterback very much this year. It takes time to develop a good signal barker unless he is naturally fit for the position. Joe Gilligan, Phil Andres and Foster Green are the three that the Newton mentor is working on most. The first named appeared nervous and uncertain of himself. He had but seven plays to choose from but in many cases he would have been better off had he used a different one than he did. He can carry the ball effectively on the right plays and seems to be a better halfback than a quarterback. Phil Andres played a nice game at halfback and reminded many of the spectators of Billy Proctor, whose rushes through the line in the Medford game two years ago will long be remembered. Andres may get a chance to see what he can do at quarterback before the season is much older. Foster Greene got into the St. Mary's game in the closing minutes but had but little chance to show.

In the line Scheinfeld, Gatchell, Harrington and Shea showed up well. The little end is playing his second year as a regular and should have a good season. Gatchell was everywhere and made many nice tackles. His passing can improve and probably will as the season progresses. Harrington also got in some good tackles. Shea took a great deal of the burden of the line as many plays went through him. One of the most interesting and pleasing of the notes of the game was the condition in which the boys were when they came off the field. They worked hard and yet when the whistle blew they did not look as though they were all in by any means.

Johnny Mullen is a fast little half-back although very light. He will make many gains for Newton this season.

SPORT NOTES

Considine Has Keen Competition

Charlie Considine has been given a great run for his pivot position on the Brown Varsity by last year's freshman centre, Dave Merrill. The way matters look now though Charlie will be the starter because of his experience and also because he is some ten pounds heavier than the other man.

The work of the ex-Newton boy has been consistently good all season, but Merrill has been the type of player that improves as he is used, consequently the coaches gave him every chance to make the grade.

Gilligan in Exeter Backfield

Captain "Frenchy" Gilligan of Exeter will play the backfield this year if Coach Blake holds to the temporary lineup he used the first of this week in practice. The former Newton boy has played a line position the past few years but lack of backfield material caused the prep school coach to shift him to the halfback position. Exeter meets St. Anselm's prep tomorrow in its opening game.

Newton Pals to Start Sunday

The Newton Pals will open their football schedule at Cabot Park on Sunday afternoon when they will have the Suburban All Stars of Boston as their opponents. The Pals, who are coached by "Buck" Donahue of West Newton, expect to continue with their unbroken string of victories which has extended over a two-year period when but two touchdowns have been scored against them. Frank Flynn, the manager of the Pals, is completing a schedule which will give the fans plenty of action on Sunday afternoons at Cabot Park during the season.

Dr. Clark Playing Fine Tennis

The Rev. C. E. Clark, new pastor of the Auburndale Congregational Church, added to the laurels he has already gained in tennis last Saturday when he paired with Francis Farley to defeat Judd Farley and E. C. Eaton at the Farley court on Central street, Auburndale. The match went five sets with Clark and his partner winning, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2. The Saturday previous the Yale alumni pair (Clark and Frances Farley) were defeated by Judd Farley and Eaton in a five-set match. The rubber match will be played tomorrow and a battle royal is expected. The teams are evenly matched.

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

The ordeal of registration is over, and the work of the year is at hand in the majority of the colleges that opened recently in New England. Between football games, and studies, and some occasional work, the average student will find himself swamped with demands for his time, and not enough of that popular article to be able to make both ends meet. In many colleges the system of fraternity rushing also begins with the registration of the freshman class and this alone makes it so very confusing to the freshman that he cannot tell where he is at, or what he is supposed to do next. As soon as he steps off a train he is caught by some tall well set up stranger, all fraternity men are tall, and rushed off to see the house that this particular man belongs to, and then he is fed from the fraternal larder, and finally asked to join. Since he has seen no other house he naturally decides that this will be his best chance, and joins. After he has been through this process many other entering men who were handled the same way, and promptly plans to be the first on the station platform next year. Thus the system rolls on.

Dartmouth has lost a large number of Newton men through graduation last spring, but the coming back class was as large as ever. Phil Rising from Newton Centre is back as a junior in Hanover, and hopes this year to lose the hard luck that has been camping on his trail since his freshman year. If his hand can only stand up he will be an excellent prospect for the Varsity track team in the javelin throw. Henry Hillson is another one of the Newton boys that has done exceptionally well scholastically. Mal Gallagher and Bill Fletcher are both working out for the track team, and each one is good enough in his particular event to make the grade. Fletcher was one of the leading Cross Country runners on the 1926, and his speed over the rough ground should be of great assistance to the Big Green when they start their attempts on the Cross Country championship.

Mary Bond of Newton Centre has gone back to Connecticut College along with Hilda Piser and both girls will continue in much the same way as they did last fall. Both of them are good students, and have shown ability in certain courses. Another Newtonian, Frances Brooks is going to be one of the leading girls in the class as far as athletics are concerned for she can do almost all the athletic contests at Connecticut as well as any of the seniors.

Virginia Hodder has been marked as one of the leading girls in the class of 1931 at Skidmore College. She always has had the ability to lead, and now that she has gotten into college her head work should make her even more of an asset to her class mates. Marmie Williams the Newton Senior is dominating campus from all reports, and well she may. If ever a girl has lived up to her high school record Marmie has. She has been one of the most active of all the girls at the Saratoga college, both in athletics, and in scholastic work, and now she has had time to devote herself to the higher office that her class has offered her. At present she holds the ruling seat in the student government, and is an officer in her class.

Wellesley College always has been a popular place for Newton girls to matriculate, but this year some of the girls have taken on more work than is usual. Jean Stone, class of 1928, is in charge of registration of the freshmen, and is also on the freshmen advisor list. The biggest girl on the campus is Martha Deleche from Newton Highlands who is the president of the student government, and one of the most efficient girls that has ever held the position. Last year she was the one sent to Minneapolis to attend the Young People's conference and became one of the dominating factors in the conference. She also was chosen to be the leader of the Christian Association at the college, but resigned in order to take the more responsible position of head of student government.

Elizabeth Noyes of Newton Centre has been appointed as one of the dormitory advisors to the freshmen, and consequently will be one of the students who will control the destinies of the waiting class of 1931.

Sam Pattee is one of the best students at Middlebury College according to the marks that were just issued by the college. The Debating Society has had him as a strong man when it comes to the rebuttal, and he has had fine marks in his other courses, that as a result he has been allowed to become an assistant in Public Speaking this fall.

Mary Tilton has entered Smith this fall along with some of the other Newton girls. She left Newton and went to the Point of Pines School for a year. She always was one of the most popular girls in the class at Newton, and if she can continue her ways she will be the same at Smith. Margaret Blum a graduate last year from Newton also is leaving for Smith, and hopes to be able to keep up her scholastic work at the college.

Charles Parker of Newton Highlands has entered Harvard this fall with high marks. Parker is one of the best of the younger tennis players in the state, and if his game improves as much this winter as it did over last winter, the dark haired boy should be one of the members of the freshmen tennis team.

At Williams, at the sign of the Purple, a number of Newton men are holding their annual fall convalescence before settling down to work in the hills.

EDITORIAL

The New Hampshire judge who waived the five-day law and the clergyman who married 16-year-old girls ought to be pilloried by public opinion. The five-day law was especially intended to prevent such hurried marriages.

Tennis lovers of Auburndale are rather provoked that they are obliged to travel to the Lower Falls Playground to indulge in their favorite sport. With ample room at the Auburndale playground, it would seem as if a strong effort by the Auburndale Club would cause the city authorities to recognize the need of building tennis courts for that section of the city.

A wide circle of friends will sincerely mourn the passing of "Bill" Bamburg. Bubbly over with enthusiasm, always optimistic and possessed with a rare personality, he made friends wherever he made his home. His memory will be treasured by many.

We are glad to note that the plans for an adequate memorial to the late Alfred Dickinson are taking practical shape. The plan suggested by the committee in charge seems to be worthy of the man whose memory is to be honored as well as a reasonable method of financing the project. We have no doubt that the bonds will find a ready sale among Mr. Dickinson's many friends in this city.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

One well known resident of Newton thinks that Massachusetts should have a compulsory property damage insurance law for automobiles in addition to the compulsory liability insurance law. Recently while driving his car on Memorial Drive, Cambridge, he stopped at the intersection of St. Mary street in a line of traffic awaiting a signal from a traffic officer. Just as he stopped his car, it was rammed from behind by an automobile operated by a drunken driver. The Newton man's car was jammed into the car ahead of it and damaged to the extent of over $200. The man in the car ahead was thrown through the windshield of his machine.

The drunken driver was arrested and when he appeared in the Cambridge court he was sentenced to two months in jail and fined $100, as it was not his first offence of this kind. The judge offered to suspend the fine if the offender would promise to reimburse the Newton man to the extent of $100 as part payment for the damage done to his car. Rather than do this, the party whose drunken driving had caused all the trouble, decided to spend another month in jail. He had no money, owns no property, and apparently possesses little character. There are many like him driving automobiles in this Commonwealth.

Autoists who have been ignoring Registrar Goodwin's warnings to have the headlights of their cars put in proper shape, are due for a rude surprise. Starting next Monday evening, inspectors from Mr. Goodwin's force will get busy throughout the Commonwealth holding up automobiles to ascertain if the lights are properly focussed. If it is apparent that the owner of an automobile has not made efforts to properly equip his car with lights, in accordance with the recent safety campaign, the plates of his car will be revoked. Mr. Goodwin is to be commended for this determined effort to make the highways safe for night driving. Police forces throughout the state should co-operate in compelling automobiles to be properly lighted. It is all too common a sight to see cars going along the streets with but one headlight illuminated, or with the lights improperly focussed and blinding the vision of those approaching in cars from opposite direction; also many automobiles have tail-lights that don't light. If, after all the agitation against the ignoring of the laws applying to lights on automobiles, some owners of cars have taken no heed, drastic action is warranted.

Now, that the leaves are beginning to fall, it is to be hoped that those residents of this city who in the past have violated the law by starting fires in the open without a permit, and who have "smoked up" their respective neighborhoods, will invest a couple of dollars in one of the incinerators sold at hardware stores for the purpose of burning leaves and rubbish.

Any girls in any part of the city who are 10 years old or older are eligible for the organization and a cordial welcome will be given to them if they wish to join. NEWTON HOSPITAL

For the week ending September 26 there were in the hospital only 83 patients of whom 27 paid as much as the cost of their care or more, 28 paid less than the cost of their care and 28 including babies were free patients. During the week the outpatient department treated 122 patients. Fourteen babies were born, 9 boys and 5 girls. The social service department made 10 calls at the hospital and transferred 2 patients in its care.

For a long time the hospital has realized the need of a tuberculosis clinic in addition to the others which it conducts. On Monday of this week the first tuberculosis clinic was held with six patients. From now on the clinic will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of the month at 10 a. m. The eye clinic opened on Wednesday and will be continued on Wednesday and the orthopedic clinic opened on Thursday and will be continued on Thursdays.

The staff of the hospital resumed its regular monthly medical meetings on Monday.

Among recent gifts received by the hospital have been post cards, magazines, and scrap books from the Girl Scouts, Troop X, and gifts of jelly and fruits from friends. Vases and books have been received also.

On Monday the finals in the tennis tournament, in which twenty-six nurses took part, were played. In the singles Miss Margaret L. Johnson, of the class of 1929, defeated Miss Mary E. Brackett, 1928, 8-6, 6-2. In the doubles played in the afternoon, Miss Elysee E. Cherry of the class of 1927 and Miss Mary E. Brackett of the class of 1928 won from Miss Margaret L. Johnson, 1929, and Miss Myrtle O. Knott, 1929, 6-4, 6-2. Dr. Hermon Norton refereed. The trophies were presented by the superintendent.

Wednesday after the hospital courts the champion of the singles of the Newton Hospital, Miss Margaret L. Johnson, played with Miss Thompson of the Massachusetts General Hospital for the tennis championship of the two hospitals. Miss Johnson was the victor 5-7, 7-5, 8-6. After the match there was a picnic supper on the old courts and then dancing at the Nurses' Home, the M. G. H. nurses returning to Boston shortly after nine. The matches to decide the championship in doubles will be played either today (Friday) or Monday.

SCHOOL NOTES

Hyde School

The Hyde School enrollment for the new year is 615.

The buildings were improved during the summer by newly painted woodwork and corridor walls. In addition, the Educational Committee of the Woman's Club has painted and furnished the teachers' room very attractively.

The Hyde School regrets the absence of Miss Simon this year as a teacher in our hygiene classes. We are all pleased with Mr. Frank Edlund, the new manual training teacher. Aside from these two changes, the Hyde staff of teachers remains the same.

A collection of $41.75 was given by the pupils for the Junior Red Cross. A baseball shield, which was awarded for the city championship last year, has filled a place with other trophies in the corridor of our building.

Last Friday afternoon the upper grade children enjoyed an entertainment of moving pictures on Fab and the health values of yeast. These were given under the auspices of a Boston house.

A poster on the abuses of alcohol and tobacco by Virginia Weed of last year's graduating class has received much commendation. W. C. T. U. prizes were awarded to her by the city, the county and the State, and she also received honorable mention from the national organization.

At a recent meeting for the organization of the boys' soccer team, Eliot Robinson was made captain and Albert Robinson chosen as manager of the team.

Levi F. Warren Junior High School

To arouse school spirit and to promote habits of good citizenship the pupils of the Levi F. Warren Junior High have entered on their second week of competing in an Alpine Climb "for good citizenship to be found on the Heights of Success." Points are given for attendance, no tardiness, cleanliness, orderly rooms, tools carried to every class, and for character rating. Each classroom marks its own achievement on its individual poster while on the school poster those mountaineers representing the three grades are moved every day the average number of points each grade has respectively earned.

The first great hill of the five weeks' climb has been successfully conquered with the ninth grade in the lead, and the seventh and eighth grades struggling for second place. During this second week, the pupils hope to cross in safety the dreaded "Crevasse of Unfairness" and mount the second hill, "Help One Another."

Banking

The Levi F. Warren Junior High has an enrollment to date of 632 pupils. Wednesday is Bank Day here. For fifteen minutes every Wednesday morning the banks in every home room are open, and pupils are given an opportunity to bank any amount of money from a penny to a thousand dollars. Regular student cashiers are in attendance. Last week the school had 307 depositors. Their deposits amounted to $199.26. This money was taken to the West Newton Savings Bank, which issued pass books to the students.

Superintendent of Schools Speaks to Pupils

The first speaker for the regular Tuesday assembly at the Levi F. Warren was Curtis Beach, a ninth grade boy. He spoke about good citizenship. "We have discussed lately much about school citizenship," he told the pupils. "Yet, just what is a citizen? Webster gives it as an inhabitant of a city or town who enjoys its privileges and owes it certain duties. School citizenship means the same as citizenship of the United States. It means that he must co-operate with everything that is right; he must be courteous to everyone, and must serve in any way that is possible." Beach told how the Warren Junior High School had cost the City of Newton $656,000. The citizens of Newton had showed their citizenship in erecting this fine, new building. Therefore, the pupils should show their appreciation by taking advantage of every opportunity.

tunity given to make them finer men and women. He closed by saying that if the pupils obeyed the laws of the school and overcame the tendency toward carelessness and absent-mindedness, they would soon find it easy to live up to the motto of the school, which aims for good citizenship, courtesy, co-operation and service.

A little playlet called the "Twelve Deadly Ghosts" was given in pantomime. Elizabeth Kershaw and Richard Shaw interpreted the ghosts as "The Evils of Bumping Rides."

The chief speaker for the assembly was Mr. U. G. Wheeler, superintendent of schools. He told the boys and girls of the school that no teacher or line building could give them their education. They must each one get their own education. "You will get out of school just what you put into it—more, no less," said Mr. Wheeler. He told of the progress that schools had made from the little red schoolhouse to the splendid buildings and organizations of today. He urged the pupils to make the best of their opportunities, and he wished them happiness and success.

AUGUST HEALTH REPORT

The report of the Newton Board of Health for the month of August shows that there were 36 deaths in the city during that period; 22 males and 14 females. Of the deaths eight were caused by cancer and ten by diseases of the heart. Of children's diseases there were eight cases of whooping cough and four cases of the dreaded infantile paralysis.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Newton has a real automobile district, the rapid growth of which is changing much of Washington street from a residential to a business section. Large, attractive showrooms display the latest models of the leading makes of cars, and well equipped service departments enable repairs and replacements to be quickly made. Newton automobile owners are rapidly learning that it pays to patronize the local dealers who handle their favorite cars. The men who sell automobiles in Newton are in close touch with their patrons. They must perform accord fair and square treatment to their customers, because in a residential community, such as Newton, a dealer who would resort to unfair methods would soon be widely advertised. Newton motor car owners who trade at home enjoy the advantage of dealing with men they may meet every day.

Newton's automobile section, as one approaches from Newtonville, starts at 431 Washington street, where the Stuart Chevrolet Company occupies one of the largest sales and service buildings in Greater Boston for this popular product of "General Motors." The management of this local Chevrolet agency has won for itself a reputation for courtesy and square dealing that is bringing to it an ever increasing number of customers. CHEVROLET is the fastest selling automobile in the world. It affords swift, comfortable transportation never thought possible except in cars of much higher price; performance that only CHEVROLET provides at prices so impressively low.

At 409 Washington street, on the corner of Hovey street, is the Newton Garage & Automobile Company, Newton's oldest automotive concern, which since 1907 has been the STUDEBAKER dealer for Newton. Just as STUDEBAKER has been for generations an outstanding name among American vehicle makers, so has twenty years' experience gained for the Newton Garage & Automobile Company a reputation for dependability. In addition to its attractive showroom at 409 Washington street, it has a large service building at 24 Brook street, Newton, equipped with special tools and carrying a complete line of STUDEBAKER parts to afford prompt and satisfactory service.

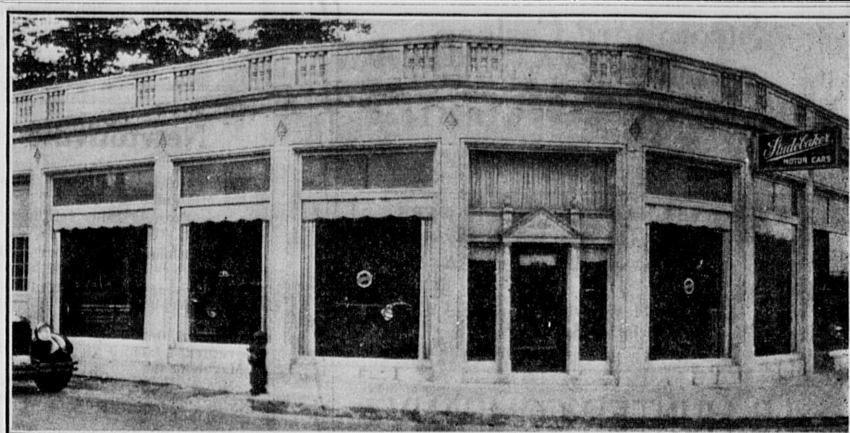

That the new showroom and service station opened at 405 Washington street, Newton, by the Anderson Cadillac-LaSalle Company filled a long felt want was emphatically shown by the many residents of the various Newtons who visited this recent addition to Newton's automobile district during the Style Salon held there from Sept. 8th to 28th. The Anderson Cadillac-LaSalle Company wishes to express its deep appreciation for the wonderful patronage which it has received, and it extends a cordial invitation to all residents of the Newtons to call and see, ride in and drive the new Cadillac and the LaSalle. The local representatives of these two outstanding motor cars also trust that residents of this city will call on them for CADILLAC and LaSALLE service, as the Anderson Cadillac-LaSalle Company is building its business on service and personal attention to details.

At the corner of Washington and Thornton streets is the Garden City Garage, and here is located the Newton Buick Company. The Garden City Garage was purchased in 1917 by the Dwyer brothers and in 1923 they accepted the BUICK agency for Newton. The Dwyer brothers, big, genial and straightforward, have achieved enviable success with the BUICK. It is a tribute not only to the excellence of the BUICK, but also to the esteem which the Newton Buick Company has won from those with whom it has had dealings, that a large percentage of those who bought cars from this concern have returned to buy even better cars as the newer BUICK models have appeared.

The Newton Auto Sales Company at 320 Washington street is evidence of the progress made by Newton T. Turner in the automotive business. Starting some years ago in the used car business, he built up such a large patronage, not only in this vicinity but in other parts of New England, that he was forced to obtain larger quarters and so he purchased the Oliver Building at 314 Washington street. So rapidly has his clientele grown that within the past year he has erected the large sales and service building shown on this page. The Newton Auto Sales Company is the local agency for PACKARD motor cars, with the famous slogan, "Ask the man who owns one."

In the midst of Newton Corner's business district at 294 Washington street is the CHRYSLER showroom, conducted by Fitzgerald & Wing, Fred H. Fitzgerald, the senior member of this firm, is the son of Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, Boston's famous ex-mayor. Frank H. Wing, although a young man in years, is a veteran in the automobile business. No manufacturer of motor cars offers to the public a more varied assortment than does CHRYSLER. Over fifty models of closed and open cars are made by this concern, whose products through sheer merit sprang into popular favor in a remarkably short space of time. Whether one buys a CHRYSLER "52" for $750, or an Imperial CHRYSLER for $3550, one obtains a car that is a leader in its price class.

Newton's newest automobile showroom is that of the Oakland Motor Car Company of New England, which recently started a branch at 268 Washington street, near Park street, where (Continued on Page 7)

NEWTON BOYS AND GIRLS ELOPE

Official returns from the Town Clerk of Derry, New Hampshire, received by City Clerk Grant on Wednesday, show that four Newton young folks, three of whom were pupils at Newton High School, were married in that town on September 17th, by Rev. C. W. Tibbets of the Derry Methodist Church. After obtaining a waiver of the "five day law" from the judge of the Derry district court, Edward Stuart Day, 19, of 46 Otis street, Newtonville, married Betty Gray, 16, of 126 Church street, Newton, and Harold Macy, 19, of 68 Prospect park, Newtonville, who graduated last June from Newton High, married Mildred Perry, 16, of 309 Bellevue street, Newton. Day gave his age as 22, and the Gray girl gave hers as 18. Macy stated he was 23, and the Perry girl's age was given as 19.

After the marriages had been performed the young people returned to their homes in Newton and on Tuesday morning, September 20, started for Florida in a car owned by the Gray girl. The first knowledge their parents had of the affair was through notes which all of the young people left at their homes and which were found after the quare had departed.

LIEUT. HEWINS BURIED

Funeral services for Lieut. James Hewins, Jr., who was killed in an airplane accident last week Tuesday, were held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hewins on Beacon street, Waban, on Monday, and were in charge of Rev. Joel MacDonald, pastor of the Union Church of Waban.

The interment was in Medfield and army aviators from the Boston Air port flew over the cemetery as the committal services were held. A detail from the Army Base served as pallbearers. A bugler sounded "Taps" and a volley was fired over the grave.

MEMORIAL STADIUM

of developing Clafin Field so that many more pupils in the schools could have the advantages of competitive sport, and of his dream of seeing it brought to being without much delay. The best way to provide a memorial to Mr. Dickinson is to complete the project he had in mind, a stadium providing fitting facilities for both spectators and players and the development of the Clafin Field area to provide greater expansion of competitive sport. In addition to providing means of crystallizing the esteem in which Mr. Dickinson is held it also is one of the most needed things for the city. For the coming 300th anniversary of the city it will provide a place to hold an appropriate celebration. Referring to the commercialism sports have been subjected to in other cities, the speaker stated that it would not enter into the question at Newton because at present the resources from sports are entirely inadequate and that something has got to be done if they are to be carried on. The stadium will not only commemorate Mr. Dickinson but it will in addition lend itself in an architecturally fitting way to the field and it can be used for civic and general purposes.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

EDITOR'S GREETING. Your Editor gives you greeting, Clubwomen of Newton. She is glad to see again so many loyal friends, to renew valued acquaintance, and she acknowledges with anticipation the making of new ones; while to all she wishes a happy, successful Club season.

The beginning of a new work; the taking up of a fresh page upon which to write, always brings its glow of hope, of inspiration, and of humility, as well. So do we all in Club life approach the opening meetings of our organizations. It remains for each one to aid in the transcription of a record that satisfies our aspirations. Club officers can not do it all in making a Club a success, a vital force. Your Club editor can not do it all in making the resume of your doings complete and adequate. But when all Club members have at heart the welfare of the Club and Editor to that end, officers and Club Editor will be given material from which to make the glorious whole.

In lighter vein, A PRAYER, found in Chester Cathedral, and given last May at the State Federation Board Meeting, by Mrs. Arthur P. Curtis, may well become THE PRAYER of EVERY CLUBWOMAN:
Give me a good digestion, Lord, and also something to digest.
Give me a healthy body, Lord, with sense to keep at it at its best.
Give me a healthy mind, good Lord, to keep the good and pure in sight, which seeing sin is not appalled, but finds a way to set it right.
Give me a mind that is not bored, that does not whimper, whine or sigh; don't let me worry overmuch about the fussy thing called "I."
Give me a sense of humor, Lord; give me the grace to see a joke, to get some happiness from life, and pass it on to other folk.

OPENING MEETINGS

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club begins its new year in a most hospitable manner, and one that will awaken interest and establish friendly relations, by a Reception to new members, on Monday evening, October 3, at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of its president, Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, 69 Waldorf road. The program will consist of music, report of the annual meeting of the State Federation held last May at Swampscott, and refreshments.

Already this wide-awake Club has arranged for an activity that will swell its coffers, and at the same time do good among those who eagerly frequent the bargain counter. A Rummage Sale, under the able leadership of Mrs. Schuyler Smith, will be held in Foresters' Hall, on October 15, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Members are asked to keep this in mind, in order that the supply may meet the demand, and so make the affair a success.

Christian Era Study Club

Miss Ella B. Smith, president of the Christian Era Study Club opens her home, 15 Vista avenue, for the Club members on Monday afternoon, October third, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Charles A. Hutchinson is in charge of the program, which has as its topic the inspiring title "Growth of Government from Individual Patriotism."

Newton Mothers' Club

The members of the Newton Mothers' Club are anticipating a delightful outing for celebration of their first meeting in a trip to Louthorpe School, Grotton, on Monday afternoon, October 3, at 2:30 o'clock. To add to the pleasure, transportation by automobile will be furnished. The program will be a talk on the "Design of the Small Garden," by Mr. Robert Sturtevant, after which tea will be served out-of-doors. Mrs. F. S. Hoyt and Mrs. Gardiner I. Jones are hostesses for this afternoon.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

"New Members Day" signals the official opening of the season for the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, next Tuesday, October 4, when a reception to the new members will be given in the Parish House of the Congregational Church, following the meeting proper.

At that time Miss Eunice Avery of Springfield will inaugurate her fifth season with the Club, as current events lecturer, and having spent the summer in the Far East, part of the time lecturing in Tokio, is likely to have much of unusual interest to relate. Preceding Miss Avery's talk, Mrs. H. A. Miller will report on the annual meeting of the State Federation in Swampscott last May.

The meetings to follow during the year cover a wide range of subjects, from geology, history and literature, through music and drama, down to the subject dear to the heart of every normal woman—modern dress. With such a convenient place in which to hold them, classes will naturally be more numerous than usual this season, and some have already begun, that of furniture decorating, under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Caldwell, Design and color classes and those in cement work, all under the supervision of the Art Committee, are to follow. The same committee will also be responsible for monthly teas and exhibitions in the Workshop, as well as for the annual Arts and Crafts exhibition, the latter omitted last year through lack of adequate quarters.

The American Home Committee is arranging for several morning affairs, early in the new year, and the Drama Classes will be continued again this season, with Miriam Franc Skirball, Ph.D., the lecturer, as in past years. Lectures along conservation lines by Miss Elizabeth Jones, and the Club Chorus rehearsals help swell events booked at the Workshop, with many social events intermingled.

Bridge parties are being arranged by the Philanthropic Committee and a Get-Together-Afternoon is planned for November by the Hospitality Committee, and Friday mornings throughout the season, the Workshop will be open to receive contributions for the Thrift Shop of the Newton Hospital Aid Society.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club members are to have a double pleasure in their opening meeting that comes on Tuesday, October 4, in an all-day outing to a charming country spot, where their first business will be transacted, while enjoying out-of-doors beauties of this autumn month. Mrs. Charles Strongman, of Holliston, a former Review Club member, shows her friendship for former days, and her continued interest in the work of the Club, by opening her home on that date. Mrs. Amos R. Wells, re-elected president for a second term, will preside. The topic for the year will be Foreign Literature, and on the opening morning there will be papers on Italian Literature by Mrs. Stephen E. Wright, Mrs. Nathan W. Dennett and Miss Ellen Williams. The meeting is scheduled for 10 o'clock, and will be followed by a luncheon, and is open to active members only.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The second in the series of the study of China will be presented to members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. for entertainment and information by a Club member, Mrs. C. Peter Clark, at the next meeting, which will be held on Monday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, on October 10. Miss Adelaide R. Webster, the assistant secretary, opens her home, 10 Chester street, for this meeting, and Mrs. Clark will tell of "China, Yesterday and Today." Club members should note the change in the place of meeting from the announcement in the Year Book.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

On the same afternoon, at the same hour, members of another delightful study Club of Newton Highlands, true to their name, will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Frost, 52 Erie avenue, where they will have the enjoyment of a Play, in charge of Mrs. H. E. Williams. The new president, Mrs. Frank A. Campbell, will preside.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The members and friends of the fortunate Newton Highlands Woman's Club are refolding over the formal opening of their charming new quarters for their activities, and the outlook it gives is one to warm the hearts not only of those most interested in this new treasure but of all who may directly or indirectly benefit from its blessings.

Last Wednesday was gala day in the newly-completed building toward whose erection and completion efforts have been loyally and willingly bent since last spring, and merry, happy folk, gathered to dedicate the structure, were indeed well repaid for these efforts.

With the "housewarming" of the new Workshop, activities of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club are now in full swing, and an unusually busy year opens before the members.

Directors of the Workshop and members of the House Committee were sponsors of the affair which brought hundreds of interested guests to the attractive new building on Colonus street, Wednesday afternoon, September 21st, and expressions of approval were heard on all sides, upon the convenient quarters developed during the past season, through the energetic endeavors of the committee concerned.

Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, Mrs. L. F. Fletcher, and Mrs. Harvey G. Hatch received the guests, standing before the large brick fireplace at the southern end of the room, and under the direction of Mrs. Everett C. Lewis, members of the House Committee served tea, with members of the Board of Directors at the urns.

Presidents and delegates from the various Women's Clubs of the city were among the company, as was Mrs. Joseph Congdon, the 12th District director, and a group from the Cantabrigia Club of Cambridge. Every nook and cranny of the building was open for inspection, from the fully-equipped white enamelled kitchenette, to the craft room in the basement, and the up-to-the-minute gas heating plant in the cellar.

Walls and hangings in the main audience room, are in neutral tones, thus making possible the use of any combination of colors for decorative purposes on future occasions and a safe background for art displays, of which several are already listed in the year's events. With the informal social dedication already history, the practical use for which it was erected is going forward, and classes are already meeting in what is now the Club center.

Auburndale Junior Woman's Club

The Auburndale Juniors have already held their first meeting, and made blithe plans for a busy and pleasurable winter. The first meeting of the year was held at the home of the chairman, Miss Elizabeth Hall, of 386 Wolcott street, September 21. It was voted to have four bats a year instead of one a month as has been the custom in previous years. The Harvard-Vermont game was decided as the first bat, and the girls attending, will sit in reserved seats.

The Sport Committee suggested getting a fire permit and having a hike and luncheon sometime this fall. This idea met the approval of the Club and the Committee is to go ahead on the plans.

Sylvia Sweet won the tennis tournament held by the Club, but was not present to receive the silver loving cup for her prowess.

Suggestions were then given to the Sports Committee to act upon, in the form of a swimming, coasting or skating party.

As Linsley Dougherty has moved away, Lorraine Holmes was given the keeping of the Club Scrapbook.

This concluded the business meeting and refreshments were served.

Woman's Auxiliary to Y. M. C. A.

The 39th annual Conference of the Women's Auxiliaries to the Y. M. C. A. of Massachusetts and Rhode Island was held at Marblehead on two of the pleasant of many, many summer days—Thursday and Friday, September 22 and 23. The Marblehead Auxiliary was the hostess organization, and the meetings were held in the local Y. M. C. A. building, where also luncheons and dinners were served. Inspiring speakers, valuable information, ideas for future work for the benefit of young people were only a part of the gain of this great gathering, which had as its theme, "Work Among Young People."

Mrs. Charles D. Kepner, of Newtonville, president of the Newton society, opened her hospitable home, and warm heart, to many Newton women who are members of the local auxiliary, and in her summer home at Marblehead Neck the following party had a right merry and happy time: Mrs. D. M. Goodridge, Mrs. Florence Morse, Mrs. H. W. Bascom, Mrs. George DeFren, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, all of Newton; Miss Emma Paige, Mrs. William Phelps, Mrs. Augustus Wakefield, and Miss Elizabeth Wakefield, all of Newtonville; and Mrs. Edwin S. Drown of Newton Highlands.

On one afternoon a delightful sight-seeing trip in automobiles showed the visitors the beauties and quaint

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The Newton Choral Society is about to begin its ninth season. The first event on the program is a social and business meeting to be held at Central Church with entertainment and refreshments, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 4, at 8 o'clock. All members of the society, and those who would like vocal practice, are invited. Plans of the season will be announced, and the members will be informed of the arrangements for the drives to obtain active and associate members.

This organization is a community affair for the benefit of all music lovers in our city and vicinity. As the result of this theory regarding the policy of such a society, applicants are admitted without voice tests or embarrassing preliminaries. The only requirements are an average singing voice and some slight ability to read music. The society appeals to trained singers because they get the benefit of the ideas and training of a highly gifted director, Mr. William Lester Bates. But its appeal is primarily to the average person who enjoys singing, and the people of that type obtain a great deal of enjoyment and very valuable training.

The first rehearsal is to be held Oct. 18. Rehearsals this fall will be held at Central Church, as it is the general opinion that this is the most convenient and accessible location. There will not be so many rehearsals this year as there have been in the past, as the result of the idea that membership will be more attractive if the work can be concentrated into a smaller number of meetings.

AN APPEAL

To the Fathers and Mothers of Newton

If your small boy were grievously ill, you would use all your resources to win him back to health.

There are parents in Newton who have no resources of their own to use for their sick child and either must watch their child grow worse or depend upon the liberality of Newton's charitable citizens. The Newton Welfare Bureau knows such a situation at the present time, and asks Newton's charitable citizens to help finance the situation.

Harry, five years old, is ill with nephritis—an unusual disease for so young a child. He has been in bed six months but has commenced to show some improvement, and now it is hoped that if he can have another six-months' period of care in one of Boston's special hospitals he may be restored to a normal condition. Without this special care, he will become progressively worse. The father weekly will do what he can toward the expense, but with a wife and group of children to support the amount necessarily must be small.

Money is desperately needed to meet the hospital expense. The situation is unusually appealing because the boy is so young. We ask Newton people to rally about this little fellow with their dollars that he may have his chance. All contributions will be acknowledged. Checks may be made payable to the Newton Welfare Bureau, 12 Austin street, Newtonville.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Parents' Association of Auburndale will hold its annual meeting in the new Levi F. Warren Junior High School on next Monday evening, Oct. 3, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Frank V. Burton, president, will preside and there will be a short business meeting, during which ways and means will be considered by which the completion of the playgrounds, both of the Williams and of the Levi F. Warren schools may be brought about. After a short address by Mr. Scarborough, the principal of the school, an opportunity will be given to members of the Association to inspect the new building.

This Association has been active in securing additional land about the Williams School for playground purposes and believes that joint action on the part of parents of the village of Auburndale in support of school and other municipal activities relating to children will result in the needs of Auburndale young people being better served.

The officers of the Association are: Mrs. Burton, president; Mrs. A. D. Becker, secretary, and Mr. Ernest Braithwaite, treasurer.

A special effort to secure a large attendance for this meeting is being made and all parents, whether enrolled in the Association or not, are invited to attend.

NEWTON LAND IS TRANSFERRED

Alvord Bros. report that they have resold for Mr. F. L. Elkin seven of the fifteen lots which Mr. Elkin recently purchased from Judge E. B. Bishop. The seven lots contain approximately 100,000 square feet and front on Croftdale road, a new street which leads from Bishopsgate road, Newton Centre. It is the intention of Mr. Albert Potter, the purchaser, to either resell or erect high-grade types of brick houses to suit purchasers. The purchase price is in the vicinity of $25,000.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jewett has conveyed to John Frederickson her estate at 11 Chesley road, Newton Centre, consisting of a single frame dwelling, 2-car garage, greenhouse, and outbuilding, together with nearly 30,000 square feet of land. Mr. Frederickson will occupy. It is understood the selling price is far in excess of the assessed valuation of $10,000.

Mr. A. B. Potter of Providence conveys to F. L. Elkin three properties listed as follows:—

26 Fuller street, West Newton, consisting of an eight-room single frame house, single car garage, and about 7,000 square feet of land; all assessed for $7,000;

67 Pinecrest road, Newton Centre, an eight-room, two-bath, single house, together with a two-car garage and 8,000 feet of land; assessed valuation $12,000;

103-105 Ripley street, Newton Centre, which is a frame two-family house and two-car garage with 7,500 feet of land. The assessed value is $10,000.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The "Boston Elevated Railway Company" is under the control of five trustees, appointed by the Governor. Two of the five trustees are residents of Newton. Hon. Samuel L. Powers of 96 Arlington street, is chairman of the trustees; Edward E. Whiting of 150 Mount Vernon street, Newtonville, has just been appointed a trustee. In former years the cars of the "Boston Elevated" were equipped with window shades to protect passengers from the glare of the sun. For the past few years the cars operated between Watertown and Cambridge have not been equipped with window shades. Of late, the cars running from Newton to Boston, through Brighton, have returned from the shops after renovation, without shades. Undoubtedly the "Boston Elevated" saves a little money by not equipping its cars with window shades. Undoubtedly the passengers who ride on the shadeless cars are uncomfortable when exposed to the hot rays of the sun. It is also quite probable that the eyesight of the passengers is not benefited by being subjected to the glare of the sun. We suggest to Mr. Powers and to Mr. Whiting that on some sunny days they ride in cars of the "Boston Elevated" which are not equipped with window shades, and sit on the sunny side. We believe that if they do this, they may see to it that this picaune economy on the part of the "Boston Elevated" management will cease, and that the cars will be provided with window shades.

Some few weeks ago we mentioned that when the famous frigate Constitution will have been reconstructed, very little of the original ship will remain. According to information printed in the Boston Globe, but 15 percent of the old boat will be contained in the rebuilt Constitution.

During the debate at the last meeting of the aldermen over the question of discontinuing bus service to Waban on Sunday mornings, one of the aldermen objected to the change because it will deprive some Wabanites of bus transportation to nearby churches. We remember old residents of Newton talking of people walking every Sunday from Newton Upper Falls to Watertown to attend church services. Times have changed.

If the water supply at the Needham reservation, owned by the City of Newton, ever runs short, we suggest that the city sink a well in Nonantum square, just where the traffic officer's stand is. There is such a well in stream of water underneath that spot that it is continually seeping up onto the surface of the street.

A very unusual claim has been presented to the city by Albert J. Stefens of Whittier road, Newtonville. He asks to be reimbursed for $50 which he spent to free the city dump of lowell avenue from a plague of rats. This dump, like most dumps, had become a breeding place for the rodents. They had become so numerous there that they invaded the houses in the neighborhood of the dump. Rats are not only repulsive creatures but are a positive menace to health. So Mr. Stefens and his neighbors became concerned over the rat nuisance caused by the dump and he sought relief from city officials. He was informed that the city did not attempt to exterminate rats, and that poison would not be placed in or on the dump because of the danger it would present to children, dogs and cats.

Rats do not practice race suicide. Few, if any, animals breed faster. The progeny of a pair of healthy rats, if a plentiful food supply exists, will total 400 in one year. Even under adverse conditions, rats will multiply rapidly. With the pests becoming more numerous and the city refusing to do anything to eradicate them, Mr. Stefens finally took decisive action himself. He contracted with a firm of exterminators in Boston, the Ratin Company, to rid the dump of the disease breeding animals. Unlike the famous musician of Hamelin, the members of the Ratin Company do not play tunes on pipes to lure the rats to destruction. They mix a bacterial culture with food and scatter it about the building or dump to be freed from rats. The rodents eat the stuff, get sick and die. This culture is claimed to be harmless to man, poultry and domestic animals, so no risk is incurred in using it. Anyhow, it cleared the Lowell street dump of rats.

Mr. Stefens contends that inasmuch as the city by creating a dump in his neighborhood, caused the scourge of rats, and that because of the refusal of the city to keep this dump free from the pests, as do other cities on their dumps, it became necessary for him to do something to safeguard the health of his family, and that of his neighborhood, and that having accomplished this public benefit, he is entitled to reimbursement.

Box 813 was pulled at 11:50 Saturday morning for a fire in the attic of the residence of Edwin S. Webster at 307 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill. Sparks from a chimney started a roof fire which was noticed by a passerby. When the firemen arrived a lively blaze was in progress on the roof, and although efficient work by the men under Chief Randall prevented serious damage to the magnificent dwelling and its contents, a considerable part of the roof was burned and the flames worked into the attic of the house.

DOGS BITING

According to a complaint made by David Wigod of 39 Robin Hood road, Auburndale, his daughter Helen, 11, was bitten Sunday by a dog owned by Chester Lomax of 41 Curve street, West Newton. On Saturday, Jeremiah McCarthy of Winslow road, Waban, reported to the police that he had been bitten by a dog owned by H. W. Robbins of 112 Moffat road. Both dogs were ordered restrained, and Dr. Boulette was notified to examine the animals.

THE OREGON TRAIL

This fascinating story of our great Northwest has been shown on the screen in the well known picture, "The Covered Wagon."

Historical sketches of the story are about to be published in a new book by Professor Archer Butler Hulbert of the Department of History, Colorado College, who is now on his way East.

Professor Hulbert will give one of his lectures at Central Church, Monday evening, Oct. 3, under the auspices of the Men's Club, for the benefit of the organ fund.

This should make this an attractive evening for first-hand study of our own history illustrated by beautiful stereoscopic slides showing views of the Rocky Mountains and the great Northwest.

The subject of the lecture is "Who Will Fight on Our Last Frontiers?"

MISS WINIFRED McDERMOTT

Miss Winifred McDermott, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George McDermott of this city, died last Friday at Rutland. Her funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the home of her cousin, Mrs. Patrick Quinn, at 25 Bancroft street, Watertown. Services were conducted at St. Patrick's Church by Rev. William Duffy and burial was in Calvary cemetery, Waltham. Miss McDermott was a woman of beautiful character. Left an orphan when but a small child, and of frail physique, she devoted much of her life in caring for a number of her relatives and friends who were victims of tuberculosis. The large attendance at her funeral was evidence of the high esteem in which she was held by those who knew of her many self sacrifices.

Miss Katherine R. A. Flood of Hovey street, Newton, leaves next Tuesday for Sacramento, Calif., to enter upon her duties as secretary to the Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., a position she held under a number of former heads of that organization. She is a graduate of Newton High School and Radcliffe College and has been nationally prominent in the auxiliary societies of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Turn the key! and your Buick is Double Locked

No lock could be safer! One turn of the key locks both ignition and steering wheel. But merely turning off the ignition does not lock the wheel. You may shut off the engine and coast, if you like, and still have your car under perfect control.

And no lock could be more convenient! It is illuminated and located within easy reach, where the steering column meets the dash.

The Buick double-lock is an exclusive Buick feature—one of many important refinements which characterize Buick for 1928.

FORMER HUB ROTARY HEAD DIES HERE

Mr. William C. Bamburgh, a well known resident of Newtonville from 1911 to 1918, died Sunday at a private hospital in Newton.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Alice I.
Bamburgh, and two daughters, Mrs. J.

WILLIAM C. BAMBURGH

A. Proctor of 49 Gay street, Newton-ville, and Mrs. Anton D. Dorfmueller of Youngstown, Ohio.

He had been seriously sick for nearly a year. March 4th he was brought back to Newton from his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he lived for about three years. For a time he seemed much improved. Every medical attention was given him, but during the last two weeks he failed rapidly.

Mr. Bamburgh was born in Medford,
April 6, 1867, but spent his childhood and young manhood in Brooklyn, N.
Y. He was married March 4, 1891, at Washington, D. C., to Miss Alice I.
Murray.

For 23 years he was in the real estate department of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

While a resident of that city he was active in social life and in artistic activity.

From 1907 to 1910 he represented the Library Bureau in Boston, and in 1910 and 1911 was in business for himself in New York.

On April 16, 1911, he entered the employ of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company as advertising manager, and retained that position until July 31, 1918, when he resigned to become sales and advertising manager for the M. S. Little Company of Hartford, Conn.

About two years later he accepted an invitation to become director of the sales and advertising division of the Babson Institute, Wellesley Hills.
Later he became sales and advertising manager for the Drake Cakes Co. at Brooklyn, N. Y., and for a year and a half was associated with Edward L.
Bernays, public relations counselor of New York.

During the years that he lived in Newton he was active in the Newton Club, served as president of the Boston Rotary Club in 1917 and 1918, and was district governor of the New England district in 1918-19.

Mr. Bamburgh was widely known and had many friends. During his life he wrote a great deal on business matters, and addressed Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, and other similar organizations in various parts of the country on business topics.

The funeral services, held Tuesday afternoon at Mt. Auburn chapel, were attended by a large number of friends including officers and members of the Boston Rotary Club, the Telephone Company and the Babson statistical organization.

The services were conducted by Rev.
A. M. Ellis, D.D., pastor of the Central church at Newtonville, and Wallace Shipton of Watertown played several organ selections. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, West Medford, where Rev. Mr. Ellis conducted a committal service.

FOR WORTHY BOYS

Hillside School, which has been located at Greenwich Village, Mass., for 27 years, will move in October to a beautiful 309-acre farm at Marlboro, Mass., where an enlarged school house, new dormitories, etc., will enable the School to care for, at very moderate cost, about 15 more boys who are orphans or who, for other reasons, cannot be properly trained or educated at home.

Up to the present time the School has been able to care for about 50 boys each year and the object of the School is to train the boys—8 to 15 years of age—to be useful citizens, capable of earning their own living, on education. They are taken through the grammar school grades, and are taught practical farming of all sorts, including not only the raising of various crops, but also dairying, poultry raising and kindred farm branches.

Mr. Franklin P. Shumway, president of the trustees, 453 Washington street, Boston, will be glad to receive applications for admission to the School or send full information to anyone interested in assisting homeless or other worthy boys to become self-respecting and self-supporting men.

1927-28 fiscal year of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will open ministerial force of Newton Highlands will be present to participate in the service—Rev. Samuel H. Woodrow, D.D., Congregational; Rev. Charles

Rev. Ralph J. Houghton, former Congregational minister, for seven years an unceasing worker in the "cause" and director of the Boston Southeastern District of the Anti-Saloon League, will address the audience on the subject: "They shall not repeat!" Music

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Can it be that the women of our city are so well satisfied with the way in which men conduct our municipal affairs that they see no reason why there should be a woman candidate for Mayor or member of the Board of Aldermen? Of course the men would like to think that such was the case as it would add to their vanity, or if they haven't any it would provide them with some.

Or is it that the women don't want to "get mixed up in politics"? Perhaps they have a sort of dread of campaigning, speech-making, hustling for votes and other duties which a candidate is called upon to perform as a sort of preliminary training for a successful public career.

If the latter is the situation—and I have an idea it is—I wish to say that getting into office isn't as hard or as disagreeable an experience as may be thought. Not for a woman, at least.
Let me offer advice to any lady who may have such an ambition and dare not mention it openly. If she should announce herself a candidate there would be two things happen.

First, certain men who still cannot see the value of "votes for women" would look sour and grumble. "What do we want women on the Board of Aldermen for; they should stay at home." The answer to that is that the men who have served the city and who would have done a far greater patriotic service if they had stayed at home and allowed some woman to take the job.

This "stay-at-home" business isn't any argument after all and should in no way daunt any aspiring daughter of Newton if she wants to go after the office. Secondly, Newton is a city of homes, isn't it, and what difference does it make where you live since "home is where the heart is." In this connection City Hall must be the home of a good many, although they sleep in a regular residence. They have their hearts set on City Hall and would like to make it their home, it appears.

Mayor Childs' decision to run again seems to have driven several men back to their corners, there to wait until His Honor declares that he has had enough and is willing to attend weddings, parties, reunions, athletic meets, corner-stone layings, church suppers, men's club meetings dances, surprise parties, alumni banquets, etc., in a private capacity rather than as the City's chief executive.

If the women would only stop and think there must be something attractive in serving Newton at City Hall.
It cannot be entirely self-sacrifice as some of our candidates would have us think. Far be it from me to suggest anything such as an unladylike battle for the honor of being the first woman elected to the office of Mayor or the Board of Aldermen, but do let me point at City Hall and say, "This way, ladies!"

I have been urged to write something in this column that will increase interest in bird-life in Newton. Without any knowledge of the subject I am unable to comply, except to express my belief that their presence means acute. Yet it is important that birds be encouraged, both by facilities for nesting and a proper food supply.

Owners of private grounds who would be favored by birds should, my informant tells me, plant native shrubbery, barberries, privet and similar close-growing shrubs and place them close together without trimming. The same bird advice applies to lawns, not to move undergrowth from woodlands, but allow it to remain undisturbed in order to make it more inviting for the birds.

Still another suggestion, which may not be so well received, is that fallen leaves be permitted to stay where they are. To gather and burn them is to encourage the birds from making their home in so woody a place. Again, spraying shrubbery with poisons commonly used for such purposes are detrimental. I am told.

My earnest friend says that Newton is in danger of losing many varieties of birds which ought and might well be induced to nest here. He says that there are nowhere near the large number of species there used to be and that unless something is done we will find ourselves without the delightful companionship of the feathered tribe.

I was glad to read in a document prepared by the State Department of Public Welfare that an attempt is being made with partial success to have the word infirmity take the place of almshouse. Good reasons are given.
Reference is made to the fact that our first almshouses were "workhouses" to which were committed by the Colonial courts persons found guilty of misdemeanors. It being the only institution available, those unfortunate in the community who had become dependent were sent to the same place. But laws were early made to separate the criminals from the dependents although this mixed population stood about equal in the eyes of those outside.

Says the writer of the State document: "We got our word 'workhouse' from England, and it was perfectly natural, in looking for a better term to use in describing our local institution, that we should again go to the same source and borrow the word 'almshouse.'
As applied to our own local institutions the word was singularly inappropriate. The English almshouse is invariably a private charitable institution, founded usually by some philanthropic individual who devised his or her means to its erection and support. It was not a municipal institution built and maintained by local taxation. The English 'Union' is more nearly like our local institutions, but we have no unions and we borrowed the word 'almshouse'."

The statement of greatest interest, especially to Newton where we possess such a splendid city home, is this:

"Our own local institutions have, in many instances, been more fittingly called town or city homes. Because of this changed character of the patients cared for in our municipal institutions for the needy, it seems only fitting that the word 'almshouse'—always a misnomer—should be dropped and that in its place there should logically appear the word 'infirmity,' for such it really is or is so becoming."

The concluding sentence tells us,
"The day is past when public relief should have resort to unkind methods and terms under the guise of protection to the public treasury." Happily, we in Newton, long ago saw and realized the truth of that assertion.

Do you know of any subject more prolific of conversation, animated discussion or even acrimonious debate than the weather? When friends gather, when strangers meet and when no one knows what to say in any place or at any time they fall back on the weather. Fair enough, if it is not allowed to go too far. But like many other apparently innocent things, you can get into an awful mixup over the weather.

The other day I heard a man say,
"We're having a pretty good Indian Summer."

His companion retorted, "This isn't Indian Summer."

"Why not?" demanded the first speaker.

"Because it isn't, that's all."
That was the beginning of what proved a heated argument. I tried to offer myself as a peace-maker by saying, "Why give it a name as long as it's pleasant?"

But these two were off and nothing that I could say made any difference.
They quoted authorities, told what they had heard their grandfathers say and finally offered to make a wager.
I refused to hold the stakes, but did agree to look the matter up and give an impartial decision.

Now, my judge, and that was the role I occupied in this controversy, is supposed to know his book. I confess that I had to "continue the case," as often judges do, in order to get posted.
When I got a chance I sought the highest authority—one of those large volumes that contains more than any single individual knows or may hope to know.

For the sake of preventing any trouble that may occur in the happy homes, clubs and other meeting places in Newton, I think I ought to disclose what I found. Therefore, let this be read carefully, and, if necessary, cut out and preserved, for it is intended to answer for all time questions arising as the time of year that may properly be designated "Indian Summer."

"Indian Summer"—a period of warm or mild weather late in autumn or in early winter, usually characterized by a clear or cloudless sky and by a hazy or smoky appearance of the atmosphere, especially near the horizon.
The term is commonly applied to such a period occurring in October or more commonly in November. The name is of American origin, the reason for it being unknown; it is now also used in England. In England, the period, when occurring in November, is also called St. Martin's Summer (St. Martin's Day being November 11), when occurring in October, St. Luke's Summer or 'Little Summer of St. Luke' (St. Luke's Day being October 18).

A mysterious disappearance has occurred to which I would respectfully call the attention of the constituted authorities. Unlike some other disappearances this does not affect one individual, but many. As far as my investigations have gone there does not seem to be any great cause for alarm and without doubt matters can be adjusted without difficulty.

The absence to which I refer is that of the arrow on the base of the signal light at the head of Hall street on Washington street. There used to be a painted arrow which guided motorists driving from the direction of Newtonville. It told them to turn into Hall street and proceed around the bank building. To strangers it was a decided help. In fact, I think that it was essential to a driver who had never proceeded through Nonantum square from the west.

The arrow held its position for a long time but when the signal post was repainted the arrow was painted over. Now that the post is lily white again, why not have the arrow restored? It wouldn't take a painter a jiffy to do the trick.

Now to the other case, that also is in Nonantum square and was a message that was painted on the base of the signal east of the bank. Here is that sign that informs the driver that he may not drive from the east through Centre street but must turn right and go through Hall street to get on Centre again. "Do Not Enter" was the command which the fresh coat of white paint has obliterated. It should be restored to help matters.

A reader has reminded me that another column anniversary is here, since "One Thing and Another" was started October 5, 1923. In deference

A New Plan for Telephone Bills

A new plan for billing telephone service will be put in practice NEXT MONTH in this territory. Briefly, it is this:

Instead of sending out all bills at the end of each month, the work will be split up into periods. Six batches of bills will be sent out; dated respectively the 5th, 10th, 15th, 20th, 25th and the last day of the month.

NEWTON SUBSCRIBERS

will be billed as follows:

WEST NEWTON as of the . . . 15th

CENTER NEWTON as of the . . . 20th

NEWTON NORTH as of the . . . 31st

How the new plan will work in your case is explained carefully in "Between Ourselves," our monthly talk with subscribers. You will find it enclosed with the September 30 bills—last under the old plan—now in the mails. In the interest of good mutual understand-

By Edw. H. Powers

Recently a Boston paper contained an item stating that complaints had been made regarding the alleged nuisance caused by an excessive amount of smoke wafted from the chimney at the power plant of the Newton High School.

If a smoke nuisance exists at the High School building, such a nuisance has not, during the past year been called to the attention of the School Department.

Extreme care is exercised at all times to avoid any such possibility. The High School plants have been watched over and inspected by the State authorities at various times, and any advice given by the Inspector at those lines has been closely followed in every instance.

The School Department purchases the best grade of bituminous coal which can be obtained and is particular to see that a coal which will emit the least amount of smoke is purchased.

By the addition of the Administration Building, and the fact that the high schools are heated by a plant located in the Technical Building, it means that large amounts of coal must be consumed and that firing must be very frequent, particularly in cold weather.

The school authorities are exercising at all times close supervision over the matter of firing, knowing that smoke coming from a chimney is not only wasted fuel but wasted money.

It has been suggested to us by citizens that the bases of the traffic signals which surround the bank building at Newton Corner, now that they should have short and explicit instructions painted on them to assist students in understanding the traffic regulations in effect at the "Corner."

WORLD CONFERENCE

Dr. E. M. Noyes Submits Report on World Conference for Truth and Order at Lausanne

Contrary to the feelings in some quarters, Dr. Edward MacArthur Noyes of Newton Centre, one of ten delegates from the United States of the World Conference for Truth and Order at Lausanne, Switzerland, recently, declares that the conference accomplished, as fully as could be expected, all that it set out to do.

In a report, submitted to C. E. Kellogg, who has been active in the advancement in New England of the interests of the conference, Dr. Noyes says in part:

"Any estimate of the results of the World Conference at Lausanne, Aug. 3-21, 1927, must take into consideration its limitations, as stated in the invitation. Bishop Brent, the president, restated its purposes in his preamble to the reports, as 'not to define the conditions of future reunion. Its object is to register the apparent level of fundamental agreement within the conference and the grave points of disagreement remaining; also to suggest certain lines of thought which may in the future tend to a fuller measure of agreement.'

"In accordance with that purpose, the discussions were conducted with the utmost frankness, with no attempt to disguise or minimize the serious differences in belief and practice, and the reports avoided compromise and stated these differences as strongly as the agreements.

"The very grave difficulties which the conference faced must also be kept in mind. Here were brought face to face representatives of churches which not only are in fundamental disagreement in their conceptions of the church, the ministry and the sacraments, but these differences have become intensified by years of strife, persecution and suffering. It is a conclusive evidence of the growth of Christian brotherhood that no word of hatred, or bitterness, or scorn was heard in the debates. One of the most striking things about the conference was the fine temper and brotherly spirit in all the sessions, even when dealing frankly with questions involving the deepest prejudices and the most sacred convictions. There also was a notable absence of any condescension on the part of those who hold high official positions or have international reputation as scholars. All were earnestly seeking to find the truth and welcome all fellow seekers on the basis of equality.

"The results of the conference may be summed up as emphasizing the need for unity, the encouragements to unity, the obstacles to unity, and the next steps toward a united Christian church. Nothing stirred the hearts of the delegates more than the passionate pleas for unity by the men from the mission fields. 'Unity is a necessity,' they cried. The men on the mission fields are showing the way to practical unity in India, China and the Philippines.

"Moreover, the youth of the home lands are demanding the united church. The message of the church is ineffective, and it is treated with indifference by half the population of America because the church does not speak with one united voice. 'We must find a way to unity or fail' is the word the conference sends to the churches.

"Nor are there wanting encouragements to unity. The fact that such a conference as this was held with representatives from all over the world and from nearly all branches of the Christian church, except the Roman Catholic communion, is in itself a striking testimony to the widespread and earnest desire for unity. As the conference progressed, the manifestations of that desire grew more pronounced. When so large a portion of Christendom desires unity, a way to make that desire effective is certain sooner or later to be found, no matter what the obstacles are.

"Another encouraging result of the conference has been the discovery of the delegates of the reality of the known by them and the fidelity of all to the fundamentals of Christian faith. Mutual understanding, respect and sympathy are absolutely necessary prerequisites to unity, and perhaps the greatest service of the conference has been its great contribution to that better understanding.

"Another encouragement is the new realization of the unity already existing. This found its expression to a surprising degree in the statements of faith, but even more in corporate acts of worship. In song, prayer and adoration all hearts were one and their spiritual unity was a recognized fact. "One more significant fact may be mentioned, the constant expression of the sense of incompleteness, even on the part of the representatives of those churches most confident of their historic position. Everyone felt that the church, however precious its heritage, can express the whole message nor compass the entire truth of the Christian faith.

"The obstacles to unity were equally apparent. They are found chiefly in opposing conceptions of the nature of the church, the ministry and the sacraments. The whole of Christendom may be roughly divided into two classes, those who have the sacerdotal conception of the church and those who do not. To one the church is the special, if not the sole, channel of Divine grace; its ministers are priests, forming a separate order, and its sacraments are the means by which the grace of God is given. To the others the church is a brotherhood of believers, all of whom are priests, and the minister is one among his brothers, set apart for special service. "The sacraments are indeed the means of grace, but not the sole means, and the Friends or Quakers believe that sacramental grace is given without the use of any ordinance. This difference is fundamental. It is embedded in customs and traditions centuries old. The religion of authority and the religion of the spirit strove face to face at this conference. The most ominous fact emphasized was that Christians professing the deepest desire for unity felt these distinctions so keenly that they could not bring themselves to sit down together at the Lord's supper. Until complete inter-communion between all bodies of Christians is possible, no real union can be realized.

"It is the study of these questions to which the conference especially summons the churches. The clear and candid statement of these differences and the frank discussion has been of the greatest advantage. A united church can come only as the result of a process of education. The conference registered a great step in this process. It was only a first step, but it was a long one and makes successive steps inevitable. One that is clearly indicated is closer co-operation, if not immediate organic union, between those branches of the church which hold the same conceptions of its nature. If all the non-Episcopal churches of America, for example, combine and form a united church, on similar lines to the United Church of Canada, a great church would result, not only immensely strong in numbers, but also in influence. 'Between Ourselves,' which comes with the bills and with which all telephone subscribers are familiar, Manager Burrows is particularly anxious that Newton subscribers shall read this leaflet, now in the mails; and suggests that any subscriber who remains at all in doubt as to how the new billing plan applies to himself, get in touch with the Business Office of the Company for a fuller explanation.

Besides assuring greater promptness and accuracy, Manager Burrows expects the new plan will make the bills more easily understood.

Formerly, all bills were dated the last day of the month. Not a few subscribers have taken it for granted that all items were brought up to that date. This was not so. Exchange service items, being known in advance, could be entered up to the date of the bill; but toll calls and measured service charges were brought up only to the 20th of the month. It was physically impossible to enter them to a later date and still render bills promptly.

In future there will be no such chance for misunderstanding, because each telephone bill will bring every item squarely up to the date it bears. This will be done by "staggering" the bills into six periods, one-sixth being sent out as of the 5th, and other sixths as of the 10th, 15th, 20th, 25th and 31st.

There is nothing particularly novel about the idea. Manager Burrows points out, most gas and electric light companies send out their bills at intervals depending, not on the calendar, but on the dates when meters are read.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for the Crosby Realty Trust the brick colonial home recently constructed by that concern and located at 169 Fuller street, West Newton, in the Brae Burn district. The house, which is one of the finest homes that have been built in this district, contains ten rooms and three baths, and together with a brick two-car garage and a corner lot of 27,000 square feet, is valued at $38,000. William R. Davis purchases for a home and will occupy the premises.

Burns & Sons have also sold for E. W. Duff to Emily Carroll the single ten-room house located at 35 Bradford road, in the Newton Highlands district. With the house there are 9,000 feet of land, and the total value of the property is $12,500.

The Burns agency has sold also for Frank S. Lane to James E. Wilber the single ten-room house located at 31 Chestnut street, Newton Centre. With the house there are 10,000 square feet of land, and the property is valued at $11,500. Mr. Wilber, a local builder, will make extensive alterations on the premises.

BOYS HAD "KILLING" WEAPON

Three young boys from Chestnut Hill section were in the juvenile court last Friday charged with having dangerous weapons in their possession without permits. The complainant was Patrick Dowling, who told of finding the youngsters engaged in the reckless pastime of shooting at a target with a repeating rifle owned by the father of one of them. Dowling had speeded to the scene of the "rifle practice" on his motorcycle after a telephone call had been sent in by an apprehensive resident of the section where the bullets were flying. The cases of the boys were continued until March 24 next, and they were cautioned to refrain from playing with such a dangerous toy in the meantime.

AUTO HITS POLE

An automobile, operated by Mrs. Dorothy Tobey of 306 Lake avenue, Belmont, ran into a telephone pole near the Newton Hospital on Saturday morning. The car was considerably damaged and Mrs. Tobey received slight injuries to her face. According to the police, the accident occurred when Mrs. Tobey turned around to look at her baby, who was lying in a swinging crib in the rear of the automobile.

SPEEDERS FINED

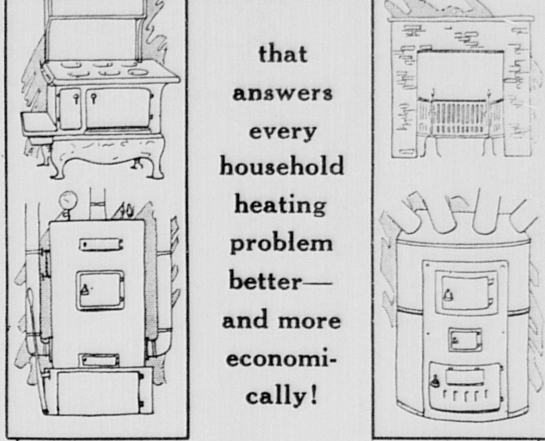

In the Newton Court last Friday, Francis Craven of Toxteth street, Brookline, was fined $25 for failing to stop when signalled to do so by a police officer, and $10 for speeding. As Craven was speeding up Washington street on Hunnewell Hill, Newton, the patrolman blew his whistle for Craven to stop. The latter kept on going. The officer commanded another car and started in pursuit, catching Craven at Brighton Centre. Pasquale Rosetti of Chelsea, charged by the Metropolitan police with violating parking rules, was fined $5.

RUNAWAYS CAUGHT

Guy Agostino of 76 Maywood street, Roxbury, who stated he is 14, but who does not look it, and his neighbor Thomas Mullins, also 14, of Maywood terrace, Roxbury, tired of the humdrum existence of such a crowded community as is theirs, started for the wide open spaces last Friday. They depended on a bicycle for transportation; one boy propelling the vehicle, and the other riding as a passenger. They had not proceeded far when they decided to dismount the bicycle, so they sold it for $3 and continued their journey afoot. Patrolman Elliot noticed the adventurers Friday night and corraled Agostino. Mullins escaped the officer's clutches and billeted for the night in a large box at the rear of a Newtonville garage. Bright and early Saturday morning he started to resume his tour to the west when he was apprehended by Patrolman Foley. Thomas rejoined Guy at police headquarters, where both did full justice to a meal provided for them by the police. Their parents called for them later.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

charms of Marblehead, Devereaux and Swampscott.

Outstanding among the energetic plans for fund raising—both being events to come in October—are a Rummage Sale, and a Dog Show. For the former, members and friends are asked to save what they wish to discard—paradoxical as this may sound, it is nevertheless true, and being true, should be well heeded. The latter will take place on the 15th of the month at the Y. M. C. A. grounds, being the New England Kennel Club show under the auspices of the local Auxiliary.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Tuesday was a busy day for the Executive Board of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, and one made up of tribute to the newly-elected president of last spring, Mrs. Frederick M. Gibson, mingled with regret in the courtesy paid her. For Mrs. Gibson has resigned from office, due to change of residence to New York, and the Executive Board met in session Tuesday morning to accept that resignation with regret, and to make necessary appointments and changes because of this fact. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., formerly a president, has been asked to take the helm once more, and has accepted office of president. By so doing the office of chairmanship of Public Health automatically became vacant, and the filling of this place with others where resignations have been proffered are under consideration and names will be announced later.

After conclusion of business, the Executive Board gave to Mrs. Gibson a farewell luncheon, in recognition of her splendid service in preparing the way for this season's activities. The Board also presented a handsome gift to Mrs. Gibson as a memento of her presidency.

State Federation

Of our State Federation, in proof of arousing to a winter's campaign, comes news of the Radio department, and the list of Committee Chairmen, in charge of its many vital interests.

Radio Broadcasts. Since January of 1926, when the Massachusetts State Federation began broadcasting through its first Radio Director, Mrs. G. W. Roberts, of Dorchester, a member of the Press and Publicity Department, a program has been put on the air every Wednesday from Station W.N.A.C., Boston. In June, this work was taken over by the new State Radio Director, Mrs. Leon E. White, of the Brookline Woman's Club. This is Mrs. White's second year on the Press and Publicity Department, as last year she was chairman of the Sixth District. She is press chairman of the Brookline Woman's Club, and a former editor of the Brookline Club Bulletin. Mrs. White is a trained newspaper woman, and, as Vivada Grey, has interviewed many leading artists, featuring their domestic lives and recreations.

Committee Appointments. Appointments of new department and special committee chairmen of the State Federation have been made as follows: Dept. of Junior Membership, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., of Cliftondale; Dept. of Club Institutes, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, Jr., of Whitinsville; Literature Dept., Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson, of the Cantabrigia Club, Cambridge; Meetings Committee, Mrs. Wm. J. McDonald, of the Brighthouse Club, Allston; Credentials Committee, Mrs. Wm. H. Emerson, of the Brookline Woman's Club; Federation Pin, Mrs. George F. Laag, of the Community Club Roslindale; and Resolutions, Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, of the Boston Council of Jewish Women.

General Federation

American Home. Inspiration comes from the General Federation of Women's Clubs not only in news of their many plans, especially in regard to the phases of interest of the American Home department, but in the travels and speeches reported of its capable president, Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman. A quotation from one such speech gives Clubwomen food for thought, and a glimpse of her sincerity of purpose and the extent of her untiring efforts on our behalf:

"In this, the closing year of my administration, I shall direct my efforts to stabilizing and rounding out the work which I initiated when I was elected," said Mrs. Sherman. "Every thing possible will be done to stimulate interest throughout the country in the follow-up campaign of the American Home department and all assistance will be given the states undertaking this great project, which has for its object the raising of standards in American Home life. I am also especially interested in the problems now before our department of American Citizenship and shall give my personal efforts to some of the more vital phases of this important work."

Mrs. Sherman returned about the middle of September to Federation Headquarters after a summer spent in Colorado and California. There followed business conferences in New York and Chicago, and then she went to Sheridan, Wyoming, where she was the principal speaker at the annual convention of the Wyoming Federation of Women's Clubs, September 26. On September 30, (today) she will address the annual convention of the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs in Canon City. Mrs. Sherman will be the principal speaker at the annual convention of the New Mexico Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Las Vegas, October 4 and 5, and she will also address the convention of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs in Natchitoches, November 14, 15 and 16.

In proof of Mrs. Sherman's active interest in the American Home activities, and in line with the efforts of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to "promote all movements looking toward the betterment of life," the State Federation, throughout the country are adopting various methods of raising standards of American home life. The Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs, Miss Susie V. Powell, president, will hold a three days Better American Homes Congress, October 17, 18 and 19, at Vicksburg, in connection with the Mississippi State Fair.

The exhibits of the fair will be used as "texts" and "laboratories." There will be tours to the commercial and educational exhibits of modern equipment for heating, lighting, cooking and water supply. Demonstrations will be given by specialists and experts. Each day at 3 o'clock programs will be presented in the Woman's Building, the general topic for each day being: October 17, "Building and Equipment of the Modern Home"; October 18, "Health Problems of the Modern Home"; October 19, "The Fine Arts in the Fine Art of Living." Mrs. Sidney Johnston of Vicksburg, chairman of the department of the American Home in the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs, is in general charge of the Congress. Club women from all parts of the south are expected to attend. President Coolidge has just proclaimed the week of October 7 National Fire Prevention Week, and that it is needed is evidenced by this time-lie Bulletin issued by the General Federation:

Fire Prevention Week

Americans burn up $1000 worth of good property every minute of the 24 hours. A million and a half dollars goes up in smoke every time the clock runs around. Of these fires only 10 per cent are unavoidable. Of the $335,000,000 worth of property destroyed by fire last year, $336,000,000 worth might have been saved.

These are a few of the startling facts which are being brought to the members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs through their chairman of fire prevention, Mrs. Dolly Dean Burgess of Helena, Montana, who is urging that each of the 14,000 clubs in the Federation observe National Fire Prevention Week, October 7-15.

The greatest causes of unnecessary fires are the little kitchen match, defective chimneys and flues, stoves, furnaces, boilers and pipes, and to these may be added spontaneous ignition from oily rags and mops, spar on defective appliances and defective or improper wiring. Housewives are urged to have a care in regard to the foregoing matters. Clubs are asked to have qualified speakers on the subject of fire prevention and to carry on all possible educational work among school children and young people concerning the humane and economic aspects of fire prevention.

New England Conference

New England women are enjoying the mountains in their Annual Conference, and hotel reservations are absolutely "not" due to the interest in speeches for this occasion and the delight in the autumn dress of the country surrounding Burlington, Vermont. The Conference, being held this week, September 28, 29, and 30, about which our local Clubwomen were informed in the last column of the season—June—will be reported more fully as to program and events next week. Among our Massachusetts Clubwomen attending are the following:

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, Brockton; Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, Greenfield; Mrs. A. A. Packard, Springfield; Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, Belmont; Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., Cliftondale; Mrs. Edwin L. Pride, Somerville; Mrs. Arthur J. Crockett, West Roxbury; Mrs. Paul A. Peters, Falmouth; Miss Carolyn J. Peck, Wellesley Hills; Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell, Reading; Mrs. Joseph Congdon, Waban; Mrs. Bert S. Currier, Arlington Heights; Dr. Anna C. Palmer, Milton; Mrs. John H. Kimball, Danvers; Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, Roxbury; Mrs. W.

J. McDonald, Boston; Mrs. Feronia C. Putnam, Peabody; Mrs. Alden Batchelder, Reading; Miss Lillian B. Hess, Newton; Mrs. N. H. Arnold, Holden; Mrs. A. C. Morse, Boston; Mrs. F. M. Peck, Brighton; Mrs. N. P. Avery, Holyoke; Mrs. Frank Holyoke, Holyoke; Mrs. Charles H. Wilson, Quincy; Mrs. Lilia Folger, Newton; Mrs. Amy Y. Burns, Brookline; Mrs. J. H. Libbey, East Weymouth; Mrs. G. R. Clark, Dorchester; Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, West Medford; Mrs. Charles T. Wellman, West Medford; Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, Jr., Whitinsville; Mrs. D. B. Goodwin, New Bedford; Mrs. H. C. French, New Bedford; Mrs. Le Weld, New Bedford; Mrs. Clinton A. Ferguson, Marblehead; Mrs. H. D. Padelford, Somerville; Mrs. Clarence A. Glazier, West Newton; Mrs. Henry A. Sawyer, Lynn; Mrs. Mina G. Del Castillo, Cambridge; Mrs. Wm. G. Dwight, Holyoke; and Mrs. P. M. Lynch, Holyoke.

Hon. Clarence H. Beecher, M.D., Mayor of Burlington, Mrs. H. A. Slayton, General Federation Director for Vermont, Hon. Guy W. Bailey, LL.D., president of the University of Vermont, and Mrs. Martin S. Vilas, president of the Vermont State Federation, will make the welcoming speeches. Mrs. Harry H. Burnham, of Maine, the N. E. Conference chairman, will preside, and respond. The big events of the first day, September 29, will be the address by our own Grace Morrison Poole on the subject of which she has made such a study, and on which she is so informed, due to her attendance at Geneva, "International Friendships." There will follow the reception in her honor. By the way, handsomely engraved announcements were sent out this summer, (and your editor was honored with one) officially stating the State Federation of endorsement of Mrs. Poole to the high office of vice-president of the General Federation, to which candidacy her name is entered.

The second day of the Conference will be given over to discussion of such New England problems as its economical aspects, survey of a small N. E. City, developments of recreational resources of a community, textile problems.

In the afternoon the bigger problem, public welfare and government, the Cooper Bill, and New England's contribution to World Education will be discussed.

During the evening Banquet, over which Mrs. Gilbert F. Davis, of Windsor, Vermont, will preside as toast mistress, Mrs. Genevieve Parkhurst, of the Pictorial Review, will speak on "Abolishing the Breach of Promise Law," and Mrs. James Hartness will give an "Informal Talk on Col. Charles A. Lindbergh."

Friday morning, the 30th (today), the various States will report on State Projects, in a Forum, and there will be election of officers. In the afternoon Mrs. Bertha Oppenheim will speak on "The Gospel of Joy," and S. Hollister Jackson, attorney, and Lieutenant-governor for the hostess state, will speak on "The Youth of New England." From 3:30 to 5:10 o'clock we may think of these fortunate delegates as enjoying boat rides, auto trips through the wonderful country, or becoming acquainted at bridge—a bit of playtime, in other words.

The closing evening's speaker has not yet been announced.

Your Editor gives the following list of meetings of interest to all Clubwomen for the 1927-28 season, with the suggestion that it be cut and pasted to cardboard for handy reference during the year. How often have you wondered just when, or where, such and such a meeting was to be, and how it interfered with a prospective engagement, and in endeavoring to answer a telephone invitation, hunted frantically through accumulated Club material—in vain! This list, hung near your telephone, may save much time, nervous strain, a call-back of the telephone, with attendant irritation of "line busy," and other calls to learn of these dates.

PLACE—MARR

Miss Mildred Marr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn A. Marr of Ashmont road, Waban, was married on Tuesday evening, September 27th, to Mr. George Alfred Place of Adella avenue, West Newton. The ceremony was performed at the West Newton Congregational Church at 8 o'clock by Rev. Merrill Boynton.

Miss Virginia Marr, a sister of the bride, of Waban, was the maid of honor. Her other attendants were Mrs. Alfred R. Crampton and Miss Edith Stahleker of Waban, and the Misses Frances Glover and Florence Jenkins of Milton. The best man was Mr. Herman S. Place, of West Newton, a brother of the groom. The ushers were Messrs. Frank Hinks and Elliot Smith, of West Newton. Ellsworth Mason of Worcester, Jack Eaton of Winthrop, Chester Scott and Alfred Hewins of Waban, Fairfield McCann of Maine and Douglas Guller of Newton Centre.

The bride's gown was of ivory colored panne velvet with a lace train which belonged to her grandmother. The maid of honor wore pale green chiffon with rhinestones outlining the bodice of the dress. The bridesmaids wore dresses of light peach chiffon with uneven hemlines.

A reception was held at the Brae Burn Country Club from 8:30 to 12, at which the couple were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and groom and the bridesmaids. Music was furnished by Morey Pearl and his orchestra.

After a wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Place will reside on Warwick road, West Newton, where they will be at home after October 15th. The bride is a graduate of Miss Sacker's Art School and the groom of Boston University.

MISSION CONFERENCES

An octave of mission conferences and addresses will be held at St. Mary's Church, Newton Lower Falls, during the eight days beginning Sunday, November 6th, and ending with the evening service on Sunday, November 13th. The mission will be in charge of Rev. George R. Wood, missionary of the Order of St. John the Evangelist of Boston.

IN case your child does not like plain milk—remember that there are many delicious ways of serving it—in milk puddings and milk toast, for example.
